Michelin 2001 France Michelin Country Maps:

Marketing Michelin Stephen L. Harp, 2001-12-14 Harp uses the familiar figure of Bibendum and the promotional campaigns designed around him to analyze the cultural assumptions of belle époque France including representations of gender race and class He also considers Michelin's efforts to promote automobile tourism in France and Europe through its famous Red Guide first introduced in 1900 noting that in the aftermath of World War I the company sold tour guides to the battlefields of the Western Front and favourably positioned France's participation in the war as purely defensive and unavoidable Throughout this period the company successfully identified the name of Michelin with many aspects of French society from cuisine and local culture to nationalism and colonialism

The History of Cartography, Volume 6 Mark Monmonier, 2015-05-18 For more than thirty years the History of Cartography Project has charted the course for scholarship on cartography bringing together research from a variety of disciplines on the creation dissemination and use of maps Volume 6 Cartography in the Twentieth Century continues this tradition with a groundbreaking survey of the century just ended and a new full color encyclopedic format The twentieth century is a pivotal period in map history The transition from paper to digital formats led to previously unimaginable dynamic and interactive maps Geographic information systems radically altered cartographic institutions and reduced the skill required to create maps Satellite positioning and mobile communications revolutionized wayfinding Mapping evolved as an important tool for coping with complexity organizing knowledge and influencing public opinion in all parts of the globe and at all levels of society Volume 6 covers these changes comprehensively while thoroughly demonstrating the far reaching effects of maps on science technology and society and vice versa The lavishly produced volume includes more than five hundred articles accompanied by more than a thousand images Hundreds of expert contributors provide both original research often based on their own participation in the developments they describe and interpretations of larger trends in cartography Designed for use by both scholars and the general public this definitive volume is a reference work of first resort for all who study and love maps

Capetian France 987-1328 Elizabeth M Hallam, 2014-06-06 In 987 when Hugh Capet took the throne of France founding a dynasty which was to rule for over 300 years his kingdom was weak and insignificant But by 1100 the kingdom of France was beginning to dominate the cultural and religious life of western Europe In the centuries that followed to scholars and to poets to reforming churchmen and monks to crusaders and the designers of churches France was the hub of the universe La douce France drew people like a magnet even though its kings were until about 1200 comparatively insignificant figures Then thanks to the conquests and reforms of King Philip Augustus France became a dominant force in political and economic terms as well producing a saint king Louis IX and in Philip IV a ruler so powerful that he could dictate to popes and emperors Spanning France s development across four centuries Capetian France is a definitive book This second edition has been carefully revised to take account of the very latest work without losing the original book s popular balance between a compelling narrative and an fascinating examination of the period s main themes Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff,Staff Bowker, Ed,2004

Assessment of land use changes in Mukdaham and Nakhon Phanom provinces (NE Thailand) by means of Remote Sensing Nils Renneberg,2002-11-26 Inhaltsangabe Abstract Tropical land use changes predominantly the clearing of tropical rain and monsoon forests have long been recognized as a trend with dramatic consequences FAO estimated the global loss of rain forest area at 0.6 to 0.9 % per annum in 1993 Most of it can be attributed to the conversion of forest lands to agricultural areas In Southeast Asia two countries have suffered from this phenomenon more than any other nations the Philippines and Thailand Between 1961 and 1975 the forest reserves of Thailand have been reduced from 57 % to 37 % of the total area while at the same time the area put to agricultural use has almost doubled Only a small part of that process was due to organized resettlement programmes to an overwhelming extent the deforestation has been performed illegally by spontaneous activities of the rural population The share of forests further declined to 28.9 % in 1998 at a current rate of 0.7 % per year meaning that Thailand's forest cover has roughly halved since 1960 The author of this thesis stayed as a visiting researcher at the Asian Institute of Technology AIT immediately north of Bangkok for 6 months from November 2000 until April 2001 The AIT is a small international university for graduate studies with students and teachers from more than 40 countries The core institution for this scientific cooperation was the Asian Center for Research on Remote Sensing ACRRS of the AIT's School of Advanced Technologies SAT Field work in Northeast Thailand was carried out in two legs in February and April 2001 As an underlying principle of this study it was attempted to incorporate problems from the realms of social as well as physical geography i.e. to maintain a balance between questions of applied geography regional studies and remote sensing This also means that no special focus was put on advanced RS methodology such as the development of new image processing techniques the study is rather based on a somewhat holistic approach joining aspects from many different fields of science as diverse as geology geomorphology climatology agriculture and agricultural economics sociology ethnology politics and spatial planning Accordingly the basic objectives were to give a geographical description characterization of the Northeastern Region of Thailand in terms of its physical properties as well as its social and economical peculiarities to try a quantification of forest
