A History of the French in London Debra Kelly, Martyn Cornick, 2013 This book examines for the first time the history of the social cultural political and economic presence of the French in London and explores the multiple ways in which this presence has contributed to the life of the city The capital has often provided a place of refuge from the Huguenots in the 17th century through the period of the French Revolution to various exile communities during the 19th century and on to the Free French in the Second World War It also considers the generation of French citizens who settled in post war London and goes on to provide insights into the contemporary French presence by assessing the motives and lives of French people seeking new opportunities in the late 20th and early 21st centuries It analyses the impact that the French have had historically and continue to have on London life in the arts gastronomy business industry and education manifest in diverse places and institutions from the religious to the political via the educational to the commercial and creative industries

Paris to the Moon Adam Gopnik, 2001-12-18 Paris The name alone conjures images of chestnut lined boulevards sidewalk caf s breathtaking fa ades around every corner in short an exquisite romanticism that has captured the American imagination for as long as there have been Americans In 1995 Adam Gopnik his wife and their infant son left the familiar comforts and hassles of New York City for the urbane glamour of the City of Light Gopnik is a longtime New Yorker writer and the magazine has sent its writers to Paris for decades but his was above all a personal pilgrimage to the place that had for so long been the undisputed capital of everything cultural and beautiful It was also the opportunity to raise a child who would know what it was to romp in the Luxembourg Gardens to enjoy a croque monsieur in a Left Bank caf a child and perhaps a father too who would have a grasp of that Parisian sense of style we Americans find so elusive So in the grand tradition of the American abroad Gopnik walked the paths of the Tuileries enjoyed philosophical discussions at his local bistro wrote as violet twilight fell on the arrondissements Of course as readers of Gopnik s beloved and award winning Paris Journals in The New

Yorker know there was also the matter of raising a child and carrying on with day to day not so fabled life Evenings with French intellectuals preceded middle of the night baby feedings afternoons were filled with trips to the Mus e d Orsay and pinball games weekday leftovers were eaten while three star chefs debated a culinary crisis As Gopnik describes in this funny and tender book the dual processes of navigating a foreign city and becoming a parent are not completely dissimilar journeys both hold new routines new languages a new set of rules by which everyday life is lived With singular wit and insight Gopnik weaves the magical with the mundane in a wholly delightful often hilarious look at what it was to be an American family man in Paris at the end of the twentieth century We went to Paris for a sentimental reeducation I did anyway even though the sentiments we were instructed in were not the ones we were expecting to learn which I believe is why they call it an education

Green Cities of Europe Timothy Beatley, 2012-05-15 In the absence of federal leadership states and localities are stepping forward to address critical problems like climate change urban sprawl and polluted water and air Making a city fundamentally sustainable is a daunting task but fortunately there are dynamic innovative models outside U S borders Green Cities of Europe draws on the world s best examples of sustainability to show how other cities can become greener and more livable Timothy Beatley has brought together leading experts from Paris Freiburg Copenhagen Helsinki Heidelberg Venice Vitoria Gasteiz and London to illustrate groundbreaking practices in sustainable urban planning and design These cities are developing strong urban cores building pedestrian and bicycle infrastructure and improving public transit They are incorporating ecological design and planning concepts from solar energy to natural drainage and community gardens And they are changing the way government works instituting municipal green audits and reforming economic incentives to encourage sustainability Whatever their specific tactics these communities prove that a holistic approach is needed to solve environmental problems and make cities sustainable Beatley and these esteemed contributors offer vital lessons to the domestic planning community about not only what European cities are doing to achieve that vision but precisely how they are doing it The result is an indispensable guide to greening American cities Contributors include Lucie Laurian Paris Dale Medearis and Wulf Daseking Freiburg Michaela Br el Copenhagen Maria Jaakkola Helsinki Marta Moretti Venice Luis Andr s Orive and Rebeca Dios Lema Vitoria Gasteiz Camilla Ween London

The French Foreign Legion Douglas Boyd, 2010-01 The French Foreign Legion is an extraordinary and unique army specifically created for foreign nationals wishing to serve in the French Armed Forces but commanded by French officers For nearly two centuries adventure seekers or men on the run from all around the globe have found a home in the Foreign Legion and shed blood for France In this book author Douglas Boyd has been given unrivalled access to the Legion to tell its story from its inception in the 1830s when it was primarily used to protect and expand the French colonial empire during the nineteenth century but it has also fought in almost all French wars including the Franco Prussian War and both World Wars The Legion is today known as an elite military unit whose training focuses not only on traditional military skills but also on its strong esprit de corps

How to Europe John

Bermont,1984 Falling Upwards Richard Holmes,2014-05-12 FALLING UPWARDS is a vivid group biography and adventure that tells how men and women first felt as they rose towards the clouds into a new dimension of science exploration warfare literature discovery Romantic biographer Richard Holmes floats across the world following the pioneer generation of balloon aeronauts from the first heroic experiments of the Montgolfiers in 1780s to the tragic attempt to fly a balloon to the North Pole in the 1890s Dramatic sequences move from the early Anglo French balloon rivalries the crazy firework flights of beautiful Sophie Blanchard the revelatory ascents over sprawling Victorian industrial cities of Northern Europe and the astonishing long distance voyages of the American entrepreneur John Wise and the French photographer Felix Nadar Later we find balloons used to observe the horrors of battle during the American Civil War including a memorable flight by General Custer the tale of sixty balloons that escaped Paris during the Prussian siege of 1870 and the terrifying seven mile high flight without oxygen of James Glaisher helping to establish the science of meteorology and the environmental notion of a fragile planet Readers will also discover the writers from Mary Shelley to Edgar Alan Poe Dickens to Verne who allowed the imaginative impact of flight to soar in their work In exploring the interplay between technology and science fiction the understanding of the biosphere and the metaphysics of flight itself Holmes offers another of his subtle portraits of human endeavour recklessness and vision Maigret and the Madwoman Georges Simenon,1979 Maigret is a registered trademark of the Estate of Georges Simenon
