Micro Art Art Images In A Hidden World:

Micro-art Lewis Robert Wolberg, 1970 Micro-art Lewis Robert Wolberg, 1970 Water Lore Camille Roulière, Claudia Egerer, 2022-05-19 Located within the field of environmental humanities this volume engages with one of the most pressing contemporary environmental challenges of our time how can we shift our understanding and realign what water means to us Water is increasingly at the centre of scientific and public debates about climate change In these debates rising sea levels compete against desertification hurricanes and floods follow periods of prolonged drought As we continue to pollute canalise and desalinate waters the ambiguous nature of our relationship with these entities becomes visible From the paradisiac and pristine scenery of holiday postcards through to the devastated landscapes of post tsunami news reports images of waters surround us And while we continue to damage what most sustains us collective precarity grows Breaking down disciplinary boundaries with contributions from scholars in the visual arts history earth systems anthropology architecture literature and creative writing archaeology and music this edited collection creates space for less prominent perspectives with many authors coming from female Indigenous and LGBTQIA contexts Combining established and emerging voices and practice led research and critical scholarship the book explores water across its scientific symbolic material imaginary practical and aesthetic dimensions It examines and interrogates our cultural construction and representation of water and through original research and theory suggests ways in which we can reframe the dialogue to create a better relationship with water sources in diverse contexts and geographies This expansive book brings together key emerging scholarship on water persona and agency and would be an ideal supplementary text for discussions on the blue humanities climate change environmental anthropology and environmental history Biocentrism and Modernism Oliver A.I. Botar, 2017-07-05 Examining the complex intersections between art and scientific approaches to the natural world Biocentrism and Modernism reveals another side to the development of Modernism While many historians have framed this movement as being mechanistic and against nature the essays in this collection illuminate the role that nature centric ideologies played in late nineteenth to mid twentieth century Modernism The essays in Biocentrism and Modernism contend that it is no accident that Modernism arose at the same time as the field of modern biology From nineteenth century discoveries to the emergence of the current environmentalist movement during the 1960s artists architects and urban planners have responded to currents in the scientific world Sections of the volume treat both philosophic worldviews and their applications in theory historiography and urban design This collection also features specific case studies of individual artists including Raymond Duchamp Villon Paul Klee Wassily Kandinsky and Jackson Pollock Library Journal, 1970 Includes beginning Sept 15 1954 and on the 15th of each month Sept May a special section School library journal ISSN 0000 0035 called Junior libraries 1954 May 1961 Also issued separately Scenographic Imagination Darwin Reid Payne, 1993 In this enlarged and thoroughly revised third edition of his widely used text Darwin Reid Payne explores the principles and philosophies that shape the visual elements of theatre Payne sets out to discover who scenographers are and to define their responsibilities He sees scenographers as not merely craftspersons but artists with a special vision that spans all the arts Such artists are in a position to extend and amplify underlying meanings of the production The proper goal of beginning scenographers according to Payne is one day to be able to approach the job as artists in full command of their craft Payne seeks to instill in beginning scenographers a basic core of knowledge an understanding of theatre history and the development of drama a knowledge of art history and an understanding of periods and styles of architecture painting sculpture furnishings and costume and a familiarity with the principles techniques and materials of pictorial and three dimensional design This new edition contains 248 illustrations 38 more than the second edition Payne s goal certainly is to teach students what to do and how to do it equally important however is Payne s view that scenographers must know why To Payne Scenography is an art whose scope is nothing less than the whole world outside the theatre Scenographers must read not only in their own field but in others as well Payne has incorporated into his text many suggestions for outside readings quoting passages and even entire chapters from important works Stressing research Payne argues that without knowledge of the literature of their own and related arts scenographers cannot grow And that is the emphasis of this book to present aspiring scenographers with an approach and a set of concepts that will enable them to grow Toward that end Payne establishes five priorities the first of which is to develop in students what he calls time vision or the ability to see the historical past as a living place with living inhabitants The second priority is to bring about an awareness that allows students to see beneath the surface of objects and events Third students must be helped to recognize and appreciate the difference between the concept of space as it exists outside the theatre and the concept of space as it is used within the theatre The fourth priority is to ingrain in students an understanding of the importance of imagery to the scenographer and the final priority is to teach those technical skills necessary to carry out the concepts of the scenographer Micro Art Roberto Dabdoub,2003 Spirit of Place Chad Oppenheim,2019-06-04 Spirit of Place is the first monograph on the work of Chad Oppenheim and his firm Oppenheim Architects and features seven of the award winning firm s projects with a focus on how the architectural design honors the natural elements of each site Oppenheim Architects first monograph Spirit of Place explores seven of the award winning architectural firm s acclaimed projects located in beautiful settings across the globe The book includes 120 stunning photographs and minimal text The projects presented range in scale and location from homes in the Bahamas and Aspen to a resort in the Jordanian desert The images like the architecture focus on and celebrate the natural world illustrating Chad Oppenheim s design philosophy that form follows feeling Through passion and sensitivity towards man and nature the firm designs monumental yet silent work that invokes a site s inherent power For thousands of years civilization has constructed its buildings on the land We prefer to construct our buildings with the land where architecture recedes and becomes a frame writes Chad Oppenheim The projects are categorized by each site s predominant
