Brand New Justice Simon Anholt, 2006-08-11 Recently vilified as the prime dynamic driving home the breach between poor and rich nations here the branding process is rehabilitated as a potential saviour of the economically underprivileged Brand New Justice now in a revised paperback edition systematically analyses the success stories of the Top Thirteen nations demonstrating that their wealth is based on the last mile of the commercial process buying raw materials and manufacturing cheaply in third world countries these countries realise their lucrative profits by adding value through finishing packaging and marketing and then selling the branded product on to the end user at a hugely inflated price The use of sophisticated global media techniques alongside a range of creative marketing activities are the lynchpins of this process Applying his observations on economic history and the development and impact of global marketing Anholt presents a cogent plan for developing nations to benefit from globalization So long the helpless victim of capitalist trading systems he shows that they can cross the divide and graduate from supplier nation to producer nation Branding native produce on a global scale making a commercial virtue out of perceived authenticity and otherness and fully capitalising on the last mile benefits are key to this graduation and fundamental to forging a new global economic balance Anholt argues with a forceful logic but also backs his hypothesis with enticing glimpses of this process actually beginning to take place Examining activities in India Thailand Russia and Africa among others he shows the risks challenges and pressures inherent in turning the tide but above all he demonstrates the very real possibility of enlightened capitalism working as a force for good in global terms Experiential Marketing Shaz Smilansky, 2009-02-03 Consumers are constantly inundated with repetitive traditional advertising messages bombarding their lives interrupting their TV shows and generally getting in the way The consumer does not feel any real emotional connection with these brands and if they do buy it is simply because the brand that shouted the loudest got their attention This outdated approach to marketing communications is dying and fast Brands are realising that to secure the lifetime value of their customers by gaining true customer loyalty they must give something back The relationships between brands and their target audiences are being revolutionized Experiential Marketing looks at the new experiential marketing era which focuses on giving target audiences a fabulous brand relevant customer experience that adds value to their lives Experiential marketing is made up of live brand experiences two way communications between consumers and brands which are designed to bring brand personalities to life This book demonstrates how experiential marketing fits in with the current marketing climate and how to go about planning activating and evaluating it for best results This is essential reading for both advertising and marketing practitioners and marketing students Murder Among Friends Candace Fleming,2022-03-29 thinker counts the 100 ways in which humans behave irrationally showing us what we can do to recognize and minimize these thinking errors to make better decisions and have a better life Despite the best of intentions humans are notoriously bad that is irrational when it comes to making decisions and assessing risks and tradeoffs Psychologists and neuroscientists refer to these distinctly human foibles biases and thinking traps as cognitive errors Cognitive errors are systematic deviances from rationality from optimized logical rational thinking and behavior We make these errors all the time in all sorts of situations for problems big and small whether to choose the apple or the cupcake whether to keep retirement funds in the stock market when the Dow tanks or whether to take the advice of a friend over a stranger The behavioral turn in neuroscience and economics in the past twenty years has increased our understanding of how we think and how we make decisions It shows how systematic errors mar our thinking and under which conditions our thought processes work best and worst Evolutionary psychology delivers convincing theories about why our thinking is in fact marred The neurosciences can pinpoint with increasing precision what exactly happens when we think clearly and when we don t Drawing on this wide body of research The Art of Thinking Clearly is an entertaining presentation of these known systematic thinking errors offering guidance and insight into everything why you shouldn t accept a free drink to why you SHOULD walk out of a movie you don t like it to why it s so hard to predict the future to why shouldn t watch the news The book is organized into 100 short chapters each covering a single cognitive error bias or heuristic Examples of these concepts include Reciprocity Confirmation Bias The It Gets Better Before It Gets Worse Trap and the Man With A Hammer Tendency In engaging prose and with real world examples and anecdotes The Art of Thinking Clearly helps solve the puzzle of human reasoning
