Michigan State University Experience:

Power to the Transfer Dimpal Jain,Santiago N. Bernal Melendez,Alfred R. Herrera,2020-02-01 Currently U S community colleges serve nearly half of all students of color in higher education who for a multitude of reasons do not continue their education by transferring to a university For those students who do transfer often the responsibility for the application process retention graduation and overall success is placed on them rather than their respective institutions This book aims to provide direction toward the development and maintenance of a transfer receptive culture which is defined as an institutional commitment by a university to support transfer students of color A transfer receptive culture explicitly acknowledges the roles of race and racism in the vertical transfer process from a community college to a university and unapologetically centers transfer as a form of equity in the higher education pipeline The framework is guided by critical race theory in education which acknowledges the role of white supremacy and its contemporary and historical role in shaping institutions of higher learning

Community Engagement Abroad Pat Crawford,Brett Berquist,2020-03-01 A landmark in our understanding of international community engaged learning programs this book invites educators to rethink everything from disciplinary assumptions to the role of higher education in a globalizing world Tapping the many such programs developed at Michigan State University during the last half century the volume develops a comprehensive framework for analyzing study abroad programs with a community engagement focus More than a how to guide it also offers seven theoretically framed case studies showing how these experiences can change students faculty and communities alike The purposeful broadening of who is involved in these types of international learning programs leads to conceptual transformation and self reflection within the participants The authors take the reader on a fascinating journey through how they changed as a result of designing and delivering programs in full collaboration with community partners The arguments given in this volume for developing truly reciprocal mutually beneficial partnerships beyond the academy are powerful and persuasive Day of Days John Smolens,2020-10-01 In the spring of 1927 Andrew Kehoe the treasurer for the school board in Bath Michigan spent weeks surreptitiously wiring the public school as well as his farm with hundreds of pounds of dynamite The explosions on May 18 the day before graduation killed and maimed dozens of children as well as teachers administrators and village residents including Kehoe s wife Nellie A respected member of the community Kehoe himself died when he ignited his truck which he had loaded with crates of explosives and scrap metal Decades later one survivor Beatrice Marie Turcott recalls the spring of 1927 and how this haunting experience leads her to the conviction that one does not survive the present without reconciling hard truths about the past In its portrayal of several Bath school children Day of Days examines how such traumatic events scar one s life long after the dead are laid to rest and physical wounds heal and how an anguished but resilient American village copes with the bombing which at the time seemed incomprehensible and yet now may be considered a harbinger of the future
