1995 American Travel Survey, 1997      The American Travel Promotion Act United States. Congress. House. Committee on Energy and Commerce. Subcommittee on Commerce, Trade, and Consumer Protection, 2002      Lost in Michigan Mike Sonnenberg, 2017-10-15 Based on the popular Lost In Michigan website that was featured in the Detroit Free Press It contains locations throughout Michigan and tells their interesting story There are over 50 stories and locations that you will find fascinating      American Travelers on the Nile Andrew Oliver, 2015-01-01 The Treaty of Ghent signed in 1814 ending the War of 1812 allowed Americans once again to travel abroad Medical students went to Paris artists to Rome academics to G ttingen and tourists to all European capitals More intrepid Americans ventured to Athens to Constantinople and even to Egypt Beginning with two eighteenth century travelers this book then turns to the 25 year period after 1815 that saw young men from East Coast cities among them graduates of Harvard Yale and Columbia traveling to the lands of the Bible and of the Greek and Latin authors they had first known as teenagers Naval officers off ships of the Mediterranean squadron visited Cairo to see the pyramids Two groups went on business one importing steam powered rice and cotton mills from New York the other exporting giraffes from the Kalahari Desert for wild animal shows in New York Drawing on unpublished letters and diaries together with previously neglected newspaper accounts as well as a handful of published accounts this book offers a new look at the early American experience in Egypt and the eastern Mediterranean world More than thirty illustrations complement the stories told by the travelers themselves      American Travel Survey, 1999 Data from the 1995 American Travel Survey are presented in summary form and tables      Appleton's Illustrated Hand-book of American Travel Daniel Sidney Appleton, 1861      Envisioning Asia Jeanette Roan, 2010-09-22 Whereas some other scholars read selected films mainly to illustrate political arguments Roan never loses sight of the particularities of film as a distinctive cultural form and practice Her drive to see cinema as a mechanism of American orientalism results in not just a textual analysis of these films but also a history of their material production and distribution Josephine Lee University of Minnesota Envisioning Asia offers an exciting new contribution to our understandings of the historical developments of American Orientalism Jeannette Roan deftly situates changing cinematic technologies within the context of U S imperial agendas in this richly nuanced analysis of shooting on location in Asia in early 20th century American cinema Wendy Kozol Oberlin College Through her vivid illustration of the role of American cinema in the material visual and ideological production of Asia Jeanette Roan takes the reader on a journey to Asia through a very different route from the virtual travel taken by the viewers of the films she discusses Mari Yoshihara University of Hawai i at Manoa The birth of cinema coincides with the beginnings of U S expansion overseas and the classic Hollywood era coincides with the rise of the United States as a global superpower In Envisioning Asia Jeanette Roan argues that throughout this period the cinema s function as a form of virtual travel coupled with its purported authenticity served to advance America s shifting interests in Asia Its ability to fulfill this imperial role depended however not only on the cinematic representations themselves but on the marketing of the films production histories and in particular their use of Asian locations Roan demonstrates this point in relation to a wide range of productions offering an engaging and useful survey of a largely neglected body of film Not only that by focusing on the material practices involved in shooting films on location that is the actual travels negotiations and labor of making a film she moves beyond formal analysis to produce a richly detailed history of American interests attitudes and cultural practices during the first half of the twentieth century Jeanette Roan is Adjunct Professor of Visual Studies at California College of the Arts and author of Exotic Explorations Travels to Asia and the Pacific in Early Cinema in Re collecting Early Asian America Essays in Cultural History 2002 Cover art Publicity still Tokyo File 212 Dorrell McGowan and Stuart McGowan 1951 The accompanying text reads Hundreds of spectators gather on the sidelines as technicians prepare to photograph a parade scene in Tokyo File 212 a Breakston McGowan Production filmed in Japan for RKO Radio distribution Courtesy of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences
