Parent-child Relations Dorothy M. Devore, 2006. In the life of a person there are probably no events outside influences or genetic characteristics even approaching the significance of the broad category of acts and actions called parent-child relations. These include decisions and actions and lack thereof from the first day of life and sometimes throughout the life span. They include learning by example, schooling, disciplining, coping skills, behavioural practices, eating habits, communication skills, conflict management, and a plethora of other actions. This book presents new research in this dynamic field.
