Outside the Box: Rethinking ADD/ADHD in Children and Adults Thomas E. Brown, 2017-04-26

Outside the Box: Rethinking ADD/ADHD in Children and Adults A Practical Guide identifies assumptions about ADD/ADHD that demand reevaluation in light of recent research. Building upon a current science-based foundation, the book describes in practical terms how ADHD can be recognized at various ages, how it differs from more typical brain development, how it can significantly impair those affected, and how it can safely and in most cases effectively be treated in children and adults. The book is based upon current scientific research but also on the experience and perspective of the author, a clinician who has devoted more than 35 years to studying this disorder formally and countless hours to engaging with and providing treatment for a diversity of children, teenagers and adults with ADHD and related problems. The book's audience is the wide variety of clinicians involved in assessing, treating and/or monitoring the care of children and adults with this disorder: e.g. pediatricians, primary care physicians, psychologists, psychiatrists, neurologists, physician assistants, advanced practice nurses and clinical social workers, and also educators, disability service providers, human resource specialists, and the adolescents and adults who seek more information about ADHD assessment and treatment for themselves or for family or friends. The book offers practical, accessible information that is grounded in the latest research. The book is focused not primarily on details of academic arguments but on practical aspects of ADHD: how it varies from one person to another, how it changes over the life span, how treatments need to be adjusted for different individuals, and how it sometimes gets worse and sometimes gets better. Emphasizing that ADHD is not a simple problem of failing to listen or staying focused on a task, the author examines research demonstrating that ADHD results from impairment of a complex syndrome of brain functions essential for self management the executive functions While DSM 5 is acknowledged as a valuable source of information about ADHD this book draws upon a wider range of scientific research and perspectives not yet incorporated into DSM Although accessible to the general reader the text includes citations to sources that can be used to obtain additional more technical information Utterly current and scientifically based Outside the Box Rethinking ADD ADHD in Children and Adults A Practical Guide challenges old thinking and provides much needed information and support to clinicians educators patients and families

The Explosive Child Ross W. Greene, 2010-01-19 What's an explosive child A child who responds to routine problems with extreme frustration crying screaming swearing kicking hitting biting spitting destroying property and worse A child whose frequent severe outbursts leave his or her parents feeling frustrated scared worried and desperate for help Most of these parents have tried everything reasoning explaining punishing sticker charts therapy medication but to no avail They can't figure out why their child acts the way he or she does they wonder why the strategies that work for other kids don't work for theirs and they don't know what to do instead Dr Ross Greene a distinguished clinician and pioneer in the treatment of kids with social emotional and behavioral challenges has worked with thousands of explosive children and he has good news these kids aren't attention seeking manipulative or unmotivated and their parents aren't passive permissive pushovers Rather explosive kids are lacking some crucial skills in the domains of flexibility adaptability frustration tolerance and problem solving and they require a different approach to parenting Throughout this compassionate insightful and practical book Dr Greene provides a new conceptual framework for understanding their difficulties based on research in the neurosciences He explains why traditional parenting and treatment often don't work with these children and he describes what to do instead Instead of relying on rewarding and punishing Dr Greene's Collaborative Problem Solving model promotes working with explosive children to solve the problems that precipitate explosive episodes and teaching these kids the skills they lack Please
