Shefali Tsabary Ph.D. New York Times bestselling author of The Conscious Parent Tired of yelling and nagging True family connection is possible and this essential guide shows us how. Popular parenting blogger Rebecca Eanes believes that parenting advice should be about more than just getting kids to behave. Struggling to maintain a meaningful connection with her two little ones and frustrated by the lack of emotionally aware books for parents she began to share her own insights with readers online. Her following has grown into a thriving community hundreds of thousands strong. In this eagerly anticipated guide Eanes shares her hard won wisdom for overcoming limiting thought patterns and recognizing emotional triggers as well as advice for connecting with kids at each stage from infancy to adolescence. This heartfelt insightful advice comes not from an expert but from a learning evolving parent. Filled with practical solution oriented advice this is an empowering guide for any parent who longs to end the yelling power struggles and downward spiral of acting out punishment resentment and shame and instead foster an emotional connection that helps kids learn self discipline feel confident and create lasting loving bonds. Parent Management Training Alan E. Kazdin, 2008-12 Among evidence based therapies for children and adolescents with oppositional aggressive and antisocial behavior parent management training PMT is without peer no other treatment for children has been as thoroughly investigated and as widely applied. Here Alan E. Kazdin brings together the conceptual and empirical bases underlying PMT with discussions of background principles and concepts supplemented with concrete examples of the ways therapists should interact with parents and children. The second half of the book is a PMT treatment manual. The manual details the particulars of the therapy what is done to and by whom what the therapist should say and what to expect at each stage of treatment. It also contains handouts charts and aides for parents. A companion website www.oup.com/us/pmt provides additional resources for clinicians.

Supporting the Parents of Young Children, 2016-11-21 Decades of research have demonstrated that the parent child dyad and the environment of the family which includes all primary caregivers are at the foundation of children's well being and healthy development. From birth children are learning and rely on parents and the other caregivers in their lives to protect and care for them. The impact of parents may never be greater than during the earliest years of life when a child's brain is rapidly developing and when nearly all of her or his experiences are created and shaped by parents and the family environment. Parents help children build and refine their knowledge and skills charting a trajectory for their health and well being during childhood and beyond. The experience of parenting also impacts parents themselves. For instance parenting can enrich and give focus to parents' lives generate stress or calm and create any number of emotions including feelings of happiness sadness fulfillment and anger. Parenting of young children today takes place in the context of significant ongoing developments. These include a rapidly growing body of science on early childhood increases in funding for programs and services for families changing demographics of the U.S. population and greater diversity of family structure. Additionally parenting is increasingly being shaped by technology and increased access to information about parenting. Parenting Matters identifies parenting knowledge attitudes and practices associated with positive developmental outcomes in children ages 0-8 universal preventive and targeted strategies used in a variety of settings that have been effective with parents of young children and that support the identified knowledge attitudes and practices and barriers to and facilitators for parents' use of practices that lead to healthy child outcomes as well as their participation in effective programs and services. This report makes recommendations directed at an array of stakeholders for promoting the wide scale adoption of effective programs and services for parents and on areas that warrant further research to inform policy and practice. It is meant to serve as a roadmap for the future of parenting policy research and practice in the United States.
