The Homeschool Choice Kate Henley Averett, 2021-05-04 Honorable Mention Sex Gender Section Distinguished Book Award given by the American Sociological Association The surprising reasons parents are opting out of the public school system and homeschooling their kids Homeschooling has skyrocketed in popularity in the United States in 2019 a record breaking 2.5 million children were being homeschooled In The Homeschool Choice Kate Henley Averett provides insight into this fascinating phenomenon exploring the perspectives of parents who have chosen to homeschool their children Drawing on in depth interviews Averett examines the reasons why these parents choose to homeschool from those who disagree with sex education and LGBT content in schools to others who want to protect their children's sexual and gender identities With eye opening detail she shows us how homeschooling is a trend being chosen by an increasingly diverse subset of American families at times in order to empower or constrain children's gender and sexuality Ultimately Averett explores how homeschooling as a growing practice has changed the roles that families schools and the state play in children's lives As teachers parents and policymakers debate the future of public education The Homeschool Choice sheds light on the ongoing struggle over school choice

How to Raise Your Parents Sarah O'Leary Burningham, 2011-04-29 Being a teen or the parent of a teen doesn't have to be so hard How to Raise Your Parents will help teens and their parents navigate those years between training bras and keys to the family car In a voice teens will relate to and parents will appreciate author Sarah O'Leary Burningham offers smart advice about negotiation and parental hot buttons and a little insight about what the world looks like from a parent's point of view

Parenting Matters National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Board on Children, Youth, and Families, Committee on Supporting the Parents of Young Children, 2016-11-21 Decades of research have demonstrated that the parent child dyad and the environment of the family which includes all primary caregivers are at the foundation of children's well being and healthy development From birth children are learning and rely on parents and the other caregivers in their lives to protect and care for them The impact of parents may never be greater than during the earliest years of life when a child's brain is rapidly developing and when nearly all of her or his experiences are created and shaped by parents and the family environment Parents help children build and refine their knowledge and skills charting a trajectory for their health and well being during childhood and beyond The experience of parenting also impacts parents themselves For instance parenting can enrich and give focus to parents lives generate stress or calm and create any number of emotions including feelings of happiness sadness fulfillment and anger Parenting of young children today takes place in the context of significant ongoing developments These include a rapidly growing body of science on early childhood increases in funding for programs and services for families changing demographics of the U.S. population and greater diversity of family structure Additionally parenting is increasingly being shaped by technology and increased access to information about parenting Parenting Matters

identifies parenting knowledge attitudes and practices associated with positive developmental outcomes in children ages 0-8 universal preventive and targeted strategies used in a variety of settings that have been effective with parents of young children and that support the identified knowledge attitudes and practices and barriers to and facilitators for parents use of practices that lead to healthy child outcomes as well as their participation in effective programs and services This report makes recommendations directed at an array of stakeholders for promoting the wide scale adoption of effective programs and services for parents and on areas that warrant further research to inform policy and practice It is meant to serve as a roadmap for the future of parenting policy research and practice in the United States

Childfree by Choice Dr. Amy Blackstone,2019-06-11 From Dr Amy Blackstone childfree woman co creator of the blog we're not having a baby and nationally recognized expert on the childfree choice comes a definitive investigation into the history and current growing movement of adults choosing to forgo parenthood what it means for our society economy environment perceived gender roles and legacies and how understanding and supporting all types of families can lead to positive outcomes for parents non parents and children alike As a childfree woman Dr Amy Blackstone is no stranger to a wide range of negative responses when she informs people she doesn't have nor does she want kids confused looks patronizing quips thinly veiled pity even outright scorn and condemnation But she is not alone in opting out when it comes to children More people than ever are choosing to forgo parenthood and openly discussing a choice that's still often perceived as taboo Yet this choice and its effects personally and culturally are still often misunderstood Amy Blackstone a professor of sociology has been studying the childfree choice since 2008 a choice she and her husband had already confidently and happily made Using her own and others research as well as her personal experience Blackstone delves into the childfree movement from its conception to today exploring gender race sexual orientation politics environmentalism and feminism as she strips away the misconceptions surrounding non parents and reveals the still radical notion that support of the childfree can lead to better lives and societies for all      Theory and Educational Research Jean Anyon,2008-08-18 Throughout U S history education policies practices and politics have been described and tested to yield empirical data often with little attempt to place findings in a larger theoretical infrastructure that could provide them with increased explanatory critical or even liberatory power This collection fills that void by taking the point of view that neither research nor theory alone is adequate to the task of social explanation Instead Jean Anyon and her collaborators argue that they imbricate and instantiate one another forming and informing each other as the inquiry process unfolds      Insight Guides Explore Beijing (Travel Guide eBook) Insight Guides,2016-05-03 Explore Beijing is from the popular series from insight and is the ideal companion when discovering this vibrant city This itinerary based guide provides details of the country s best routes written by a local expert for that personal touch and insider information Explore Beijing is the perfect companion when exploring this fascinating city revealing its history and cultural flavour through appealing walks and tours These cover Beijing s classic attractions but also tracks lesser known sights and up and coming areas The best places to eat and drink are highlighted in each route and in the directory section which also contains a wealth of useful practical information including a range of carefully selected hotels to suit all budgets All routes are plotted on the useful pull out map and evocative photography reveals Beijing s unique character The stylish design full colour photography throughout and durable flexi bound cover makes this guide not only a pleasure to read but also the ultimate companion when exploring Beijing About Insight Guides Insight Guides has over 40 years experience of publishing high quality visual travel guides We produce around 400 full color print guide books and maps as well as picture packed eBooks to meet different travelers needs Insight Guides unique combination of beautiful travel photography and focus on history and culture together create a unique visual reference and planning tool to inspire your next adventure Insight Guides has spawned many imitators but is still the best of its type Wanderlust Magazine      Hand-Me-Down Blues Michael D. Yapko,2000-07-14 Depression often runs in families Often the behaviours and coping skills learned in families do not prepare us for challenges which life presents The author demonstrates practical methods for dealing with depression and improving your outlook to create healthy relationships      Exploring Single Black Mothers' Resistance Through Homeschooling Cheryl Fields-Smith,2020-03-05 This book expands the concept of homeplace with contemporary Black homeschooling positioned as a form of resistance among single Black mothers Chapters explore each mother s experience and unique context from their own perspectives in deciding to homeschool and developing their practice It corroborates many of the issues that plague the education of Black children in America including discipline disproportionality frequent referrals to special education services teachers low expectations and the marginalization of Black parents as partners in traditional schools This book demonstrates how single mothers experience the inequity in school choice policies and also provides an understanding of how single Black mothers experience home school partnerships within traditional schools Most importantly this volume challenges stereotypical characterizations of who homeschools and why Challenging Social Inequality Through Career Miller,2019-11-05 Confident Parents Confident Kids lays out an approach for helping parents and the kids they love hone their emotional intelligence so that they can make wise choices connect and communicate well with others even when patience is thin and become socially conscious and confident human beings How do we raise a happy confident kid And how can we be confident that our parenting is preparing our child for success Our confidence develops from understanding and having a mastery over our emotions aka emotional intelligence and helping our children do the same Like learning to play a musical instrument we can fine tune our ability to skillfully react to those crazy wonderful big feelings that naturally arise from our child s constant growth and changes moving from chaos to harmony We want our children to trust that they can conquer any challenge with hard work and persistence that they can love boundlessly that they will find their unique sense of purpose and they will act wisely in a complex world This book shows you how With author and educator Jennifer Miller as your supportive guide you ll learn the lies we ve been told about emotions how they shape our choices and how we can reshape our parenting decisions in better alignment with our deepest values how to identify the temperaments your child was born with so you can support those tendencies rather than fight them how to align your biggest hopes and dreams for your kids with specific skills that can be practiced along with new research to support those powerful connections about each age and stage your child goes through and the range of learning opportunities available how to identify and manage those big emotions that only the parenting process can bring out in us and how to model emotional intelligence for your children how to deal with the emotions and influences of your choir the many outside individuals and communities who directly impact your child s life including school the digital world extended family neighbors and friends Raising confident centered happy kids while feeling the same way about yourself is possible with Confident Parents Confident Kids How to Navigate Life

Belle Liang, PhD,Timothy Klein, LCSW,2022-08-02 An essential guide to tackling what students families and educators can do now to cut through stress and performance pressure and find a path to purpose Today s college bound kids are stressed anxious and navigating demands in their lives unimaginable to a previous generation They re performance machines hitting the benchmarks they re supposed to in order to reach the next tier of a relentless ladder Then their mental and physical exhaustion carries over right into first jobs What have traditionally been considered the best years of life have become the beaten down years of life Belle Liang and Timothy Klein devote their careers both to counseling individual students and to cutting through the daily pressures to show a better way a framework and set of questions to find kids true north what really turns them on in life and how to harness the core qualities that reveal allowing them to choose a course of study a college and a career Even the gentlest parents and teachers tend to play into pervasive societal pressure for students to PERFORM And when we take the foot off the gas we beg the kids to just figure out what their PASSION is Neither is a recipe for mental or physical health or ironically for performance or passion How to Navigate Life shows that successful human beings instead tap into their PURPOSE the why behind the what and how Best of all purpose is a completely translatable quality to every aspect of life from first jobs to last jobs and everything in between Choices in Deafness Sue Schwartz,1996 Tells the stories of deaf and hearing impaired children discusses modern treatments and compares speech oral and total communication approaches to the education of the deaf Partnering With Parents in Elementary School Math Hilary Kreisberg,Matthew L. Beyranevand,2021-02-03 How to build productive relationships in math education I wasn't taught this way I can't help my child These are common refrains from today's parents and guardians who are often overwhelmed confused worried and frustrated about how to best support their children with what they see as the new math The problem has been compounded by the shift to more distance learning in response to a global pandemic Partnering With Parents in Elementary School Math provides educators with long overdue guidance on how to productively partner and communicate with families about their children's mathematics learning It includes reproducible surveys letters and planning documents that can be used to improve the home school relationship which in turn helps students parents teachers and education leaders alike Readers will find guidance on how to Understand and empathize with what fuels parents anxieties and concerns Align as a school and set parents expectations about what math instruction their children will experience and how it will help them Communicate clearly and productively with parents about their students progress strengths and needs in math Run informative and fun family events support homework Coach parents to portray a productive disposition about math in front of their children Educators families and students are best served when proactive productive and healthy relationships have been developed with each other and with the realities of today's math education This guide shows how these relationships can be built Key nutrition and hydration insights for public health and policy Sumantra Ray,Pauline Douglas,2023-07-27
