Parents Organizing To Improve Schools:

Parents Organizing to Improve Schools Happy Craven Fernandez, 1976      Organizing Schools for Improvement Anthony S. Bryk, Penny Bender Sebring, Elaine Allensworth, John Q. Easton, Stuart Luppescu, 2010-01-14 In 1988 the Chicago public school system decentralized granting parents and communities significant resources and authority to reform their schools in dramatic ways To track the effects of this bold experiment the authors of Organizing Schools for Improvement collected a wealth of data on elementary schools in Chicago Over a seven year period they identified one hundred elementary schools that had substantially improved and one hundred that had not What did the successful schools do to accelerate student learning The authors of this illuminating book identify a comprehensive set of practices and conditions that were key factors for improvement including school leadership the professional capacity of the faculty and staff and a student centered learning climate In addition they analyze the impact of social dynamics including crime critically examining the inextricable link between schools and their communities Putting their data onto a more human scale they also chronicle the stories of two neighboring schools with very different trajectories The lessons gleaned from this groundbreaking study will be invaluable for anyone involved with urban education      Intersectional Pedagogy Kim A. Case, 2016-07-07 Intersectional Pedagogy explores best practices for effective teaching and learning about intersections of identity as informed by intersectional theory Formatted in three easy to follow sections this collection explores the pedagogy of intersectionality to address lived experiences that result from privileged and oppressed identities After an initial overview of intersectional foundations and theory the collection offers classroom strategies and approaches for teaching and learning about intersectionality and social justice With contributions from scholars in education psychology sociology and women s studies Intersectional Pedagogy include a range of disciplinary perspectives and evidence based pedagogy      Improving Children's Homework, Organization, and Planning Skills (HOPS) Joshua Morris Langberg, 2014-07-31 Tired of seeing your son or daughter hunched over the kitchen table all night struggling to complete homework before bedtime Or worse yet failing classes because they couldn t remember to bring home the work in the first place Fueled with hands on tools for success you can put a smile back on your child s face and prepare them for a strong academic career The companion to Homework Organization and Planning Skills HOPS Interventions this guide can help relieve the daily stress surrounding the homework routine Help your child finish homework assignments Declutter their bookbag Develop a winning organization plan so they can tackle the projects ahead Parents this guide empowers you to Effectively manage homework completion Establish a points system for rewards Keep interventions positive Plan ahead for long term projects Better manage time even on busy school nights Better collaborate with your child s school      The Consortium on Chicago School Research Melissa R. Roderick, John Q. Easton, Penny A. Sebring, 2009      The Organized Child Richard Gallagher, Elana G. Spira, Jennifer L. Trust in Schools Anthony Bryk, Barbara Schneider, 2002-09-05 Most Americans agree on the necessity of education reform but there is little consensus about how this goal might be achieved The rhetoric of standards and vouchers has occupied center stage polarizing public opinion and affording little room for reflection on the intangible conditions that make for good schools Trust in Schools engages this debate with a compelling examination of the importance of social relationships in the successful implementation of school reform Over the course of three years Bryk and Schneider together with a diverse team of other researchers and school practitioners studied reform in twelve Chicago elementary schools Each school was undergoing extensive reorganization in response to the Chicago School Reform Act of 1988 which called for greater involvement of parents and local community leaders in their neighborhood schools Drawing on years longitudinal survey and achievement data as well as in depth interviews with principals teachers parents and local community leaders the authors develop a thorough account of how effective social relationships which they term relational trust can serve as a prime resource for school improvement Using case studies of the network of relationships that make up the school community Bryk and Schneider examine how the myriad social exchanges that make up daily life in a school community generate or fail to generate a successful educational environment The personal dynamics among teachers students and their parents for example influence whether students regularly attend school and sustain their efforts in the difficult task of learning In schools characterized by high relational trust educators were more likely to experiment with new practices and work together with parents to advance improvements As a result these schools were also more likely to demonstrate marked gains in student learning In contrast schools with weak trust relations saw virtually no improvement in their reading or mathematics scores Trust in Schools demonstrates convincingly that the quality of social relationships operating in and around schools is central to their functioning and strongly predicts positive student outcomes This book offers insights into how trust can be built and sustained in school communities and identifies some features of public school systems that can impede such development Bryk and Schneider show how a broad base of trust across a school community can provide a critical resource as education professional and parents embark on major school reforms A Volume in the American

Sociological Association's Rose Series in Sociology      Learning to Improve Anthony S. Bryk, Louis M. Gomez, Alicia Grunow, Paul G. LeMahieu, 2015-03-01 As a field education has largely failed to learn from experience Time after time promising education reforms fall short of their goals and are abandoned as other promising ideas take their place In Learning to Improve the authors argue for a new approach Rather than implementing fast and learning slow they believe educators should adopt a more rigorous approach to improvement that allows the field to learn fast to implement well Using ideas borrowed from improvement science the authors show how a process of disciplined inquiry can be combined with the use of networks to identify adapt and successfully scale up promising interventions in education Organized around six core principles the book shows how networked improvement communities can bring together researchers and practitioners to accelerate learning in key areas of education Examples include efforts to address the high rates of failure among students in community college remedial math courses and strategies for improving feedback to novice teachers Learning to Improve offers a new paradigm for research and development in education that promises to be a powerful driver of improvement for the nation's schools and colleges      Book Fiesta! Pat Mora, 2009-03-10 Take a ride in a long submarine or fly away in a hot air balloon Whatever you do just be sure to bring your favorite book Rafael Lopez's colorful illustrations perfectly complement Pat Mora's lilting text in this delightful celebration of El día de los niños El día de los libros Children's Day Book Day Toon Toon Includes a letter from the author and suggestions for celebrating El día de los niños El día de los libros Children's Day Book Day Pasea por el mar en un largo submarino o viaja lejos en un globo aerostático No importa lo que hagas no olvides traer tu libro preferido Las coloridas ilustraciones de Rafael Lopez complementan perfectamente el texto rtmico de Pat Mora en esta encantadora celebraci n de El día de los niños El día de los libros Tun Tun Incluye una carta de la autora y sugerencias para celebrar El día de los niños El día de los libros The author will donate a portion of the proceeds from this book to literacy initiatives related to Children's Day Book Day La autora donar una porci n de las ganancias de este libro a programas para fomentar la alfabetizaci n relacionados con El día de los niños El día de los libros      The School Wellness Wheel: A Framework Addressing Trauma, Culture, and Mastery to Raise Student Achievement Mike Ruyle, Libby Child, Nancy Dome, 2021-10 Your school can evolve to address trauma promote well being and elevate learning The School Wellness Wheel by Mike Ruyle Libby Child and Nancy Dome will show you how Backed by educational psychological and medical research the resource introduces a growth focused framework for supporting students cognitive social and emotional needs Each chapter contains vignettes examples and advice from educators who are actively engaged in transforming their schools into centers of healing and resilience Learn how to develop resilience centered schools that promote healing and higher levels of wellness and learning Discover and grow the three components of the school wellness wheel 1 mastery based learning 2 trauma responsive schooling and 3 culturally responsive teaching Acquire research based practices to foster a culture of mastery and ownership and build positive teacher student relationships Understand the effects of trauma and adverse
