Paris by Hollywood Antoine de Baecque, 2012 This comprehensive volume examines Tinseltown's fascination with the City of Light from silent movies through to modern blockbusters Romantic elegant and enticing Paris has fascinated American filmmakers for over a century As habile in accommodating a romantic comedy or mystery as it is in hosting an action packed thriller it is by far the foreign city that appears most frequently in Hollywood movies In Paris by Hollywood essays by eminent film experts and commentators uncover Hollywood's role in the cultivation of now timeless Parisian clichés examining seminal films such as An American in Paris The Hunchback of Notre Dame and Sabrina Chapters on Audrey Hepburn's Parisian persona Disney's and Woody Allen's personifications of Paris Hollywood's depictions of the French Revolution and the American fascination with the enigmatic glamorous Parisienne explore a cultural relationship that owes as much to the allure of Paris itself as to Hollywood's desire to paint a picture of European exoticism Interviews with eminent filmmakers and actors including Martin Scorsese Julie Delpy and Leslie Caron bring us behind the scenes and provide intimate insider's perspective Insightful analysis explores the reasons why Hollywood has invested and continues to invest so much in depicting the French capital an often mutually beneficial economic and cultural relationship Covering over 100 years of movie making from silent films to the animated world of Disney via Cancan films and action packed blockbusters Paris by Hollywood is the perfect companion for lovers of American cinema and those captivated by the magic of the French capital

It's So French! Vanessa R. Schwartz, 2007 The recent history of cultural exchange between France and the United States would appear to be defined by freedom fries and boycotts against Beaujolais or on the other side of the Atlantic by enraged farmers toppling statues of Ronald McDonald But this dismal state of affairs is a long way from the mutual admiration that followed World War II epitomized in a 1958 cover of Look magazine that declared Brigitte Bardot conquers America It's So French explores the close affinity between the French and American film industries that flourished in the postwar years breaking down myths of American imperialism and French cultural protectionism while illuminating the vital role that cinema has played in the globalization of culture Hollywood was once enamored with everything French and this infatuation blossomed in a wildly popular series of films including An American in Paris Gigi and Funny Face Schwartz here examines the visual appeal of such films and then broadens her analysis to explore their production and distribution probing the profitable influences that Hollywood and Paris exerted on each other This exchange moved beyond individual films with the sensational spectacle of the Cannes Film Festival and the meteoric career of Brigitte Bardot And in turn their success led to a new kind of film that celebrated internationalism and cultural hybridity Ultimately Schwartz uncovers an intriguing paradox that the road to globalization was paved with nationalist clichés and thus films beloved for being so French were in fact the first signs of a nascent cosmopolitan culture Packed with an array of colorful film stills publicity photographs paparazzi shots ads and never before seen archival images It's So French is an incisive account of the fertile collaboration between France and the United States that expanded the geographic horizons of both filmmaking and filmgoing forever changing what the world saw and dreamed of when they went to the movies

Signs and Meaning in the Cinema Peter Wollen, 1972 Without doubt it is the best study of cinema published in English for years Cinema a major achievement drawing on the results of aesthetic inquiry from Shaftesbury and Lessing to Jakobson and the formalists in order to relate the cinema to wider areas of linguistic theory and theory of art Times Literary Supplement

International Noir Petter Homer B. Petter, 2014-11-11 Following World War II film noir became the dominant cinematic expression of Cold War angst influencing new trends in European and Asian filmmaking International Noir examines film noir's influence on the cinematic traditions of Britain France Scandinavia Japan Hong Kong Korea and India This book suggests that the film noir style continues to appeal on such a global scale because no other cinematic form has merged style and genre to effect a vision of the disturbing consequences of modernity International noir has however adapted and adopted noir themes and aesthetic elements so that national cinemas can boast an independent and indigenous expression of the genre Ranging from Japanese silent films and women's films to French Hong Kong and Nordic New Waves this book also calls into question critical assessments of noir in international cinemas In short it challenges prevailing film scholarship to renegotiate the concept of noir Ending with an examination of Hollywood's neo noir recontextualization of the genre and post noir's reinvigorating critique of this aesthetic International Noir offers Film Studies scholars an in depth commentary on this influential global cinematic art form further offering extensive bibliography and filmographies for recommended reading and viewing

Hollywood Blaise Cendrars, 1995 Blaise Cendrars one of twentieth century France's most gifted men of letters came to Hollywood in 1936 for the newspaper Paris Soir Already a well known poet Cendrars was a celebrity journalist whose perceptive dispatches from the American dream factory captivated millions These articles were later published as Hollywood Mecca of the Movies which has since appeared in many languages Remarkably this is its first translation into English Hollywood in 1936 was crowded with stars moguls directors scouts and script girls Though no stranger to filmmaking he had worked with director Abel Gance Cendrars was spurned by the industry greats with whom he sought to hobnob His response was to invent a wildly funny Hollywood of his own embellishing his adventures and mixing them with black humor star anecdotes and wry social commentary Part diary part tall tale this book records Cendrars's experiences on Hollywood's streets and at its studios and hottest clubs His impressions of the town's drifters star-crazed sailors and undiscovered talent are recounted in a personal conversational style that anticipates the new journalism of writers such as Tom Wolfe Perfectly complemented by his friend Jean Guerin's witty drawings and following the tradition of European travel writing Cendrars's little book about Hollywood offers an astute entertaining look at 1930s America as reflected in its unique movie mecca Hollywood on Lake Michigan Michael Corcoran, Arnie Bernstein, 2013 Previous edition Chicago Ill Lake Claremont Press 1998 by Arnie Bernstein

Film Festivals Cindy H. Wong, 2011 Movies stars auteurs and critics come together in film festivals as quintessential constellations of art business and glamour Yet how well do we understand the forces and meanings that these events embody This work offers an overview of the history people films and functions of the festival world National Identity in Global Cinema C. Celli, 2016-02-02 When themes of historical and cultural identity appear and repeat in popular film it is possible to see the real pulse of a nation and comprehend a people their culture and their history National Identity in Global Cinema describes how national cultures as reflected in popular cinema can truly explain the world one country at a time

Cosmopolitan Cinema Felicia Chan, 2017-03-20 Films are produced reviewed and watched worldwide often circulating between cultural contexts The book explores cosmopolitanism and its debates through the lens of East Asian cinemas from Hong Kong China Malaysia and Singapore throwing doubt on the validity of national cinemas or definitive cultural boundaries Case studies illuminate the ambiguously gendered star persona of Taiwanese Hong Kong actress Brigitte Lin the fictional realism of director Jia Zhangke the arcane process of selection for the Best Foreign Film Oscar and the intimate connection between cinema and identity in Hirokazu Koreeda's Afterlife 1998 Considering films their audiences and tastemaking institutions the book argues that cosmopolitan cinema does not smooth over difference but rather puts it on display The Wrong House Steven Jacobs, 2007 Architecture plays an important role In the films of Alfred Hitchcock Steven Jacobs devotes lengthy discussion to a series of domestic buildings with the help of a number of reconstructed floor plans made specially for this book

Theorising National Cinema Valentina Vitali, Paul Willemsen, 2019-07-25 Why do we think of clusters of films as national cinema Why has the relationship between the nation and film become so widely and uncritically accepted Theorising National Cinema is a major contribution to work on national cinema by many of the leading scholars in the field It addresses the knotty and complex relationship between cinema and national identity showing that the nationality of a cinema production company and the films that it made have not always been seen as pertinent The volume begins by reviewing and rethinking the concept of national cinema in an age of globalisation and it goes on to chart the parallel developments of national film industries and the idea of a nation state in countries as diverse as Japan South Korea Russia France and Italy The issues of a national cinema for nation states of contested status with disputed borders or displaced peoples is discussed in relation to film making in Taiwan Ireland and Palestine The contributors also consider the future of national cinema in an age of trans national cultural flows exploring issues of national identity and cinema in Latin America Asia the Middle East India Africa and Europe Theorising National Cinema also includes a valuable bibliography of works on national cinema

Cross-channel Perspectives Leila Wimmer, 2009 This book is the first ever full length study of the reception of British cinema in post war France challenging François Truffaut's infamous dismissal of British cinema as a contradiction in terms a comment which has been and still is widely reproduced yet has until now remained critically unexplored A historical account the book gathers together well known episodes such as Cahiers du cinéma in the 1950s and critics André Bazin François Truffaut Jean Luc Godard along with original new material and thus throws new light on a topic which given the influential nature of French film criticism and cinephilia continues to be at the core of film culture
