Memory, Metaphor, and Aby Warburg's Atlas of Images Christopher D. Johnson, 2012-09-15 The work of German cultural theorist and art historian Aby Warburg 1866 1929 has had a lasting effect on how we think about images This book is the first in English to focus on his last project the encyclopedic Atlas of Images Mnemosyne Begun in earnest in 1927 and left unfinished at the time of Warburg s death in 1929 the Atlas consisted of sixty three large wooden panels covered with black cloth On these panels Warburg carefully intuitively arranged some thousand black and white photographs of classical and Renaissance art objects as well as of astrological and astronomical images ranging from ancient Babylon to Weimar Germany Here and there he also included maps manuscript pages and contemporary images taken from newspapers Trying through these constellations of images to make visible the many polarities that fueled antiquity s afterlife Warburg envisioned the Atlas as a vital form of metaphoric thought While the nondiscursive frequently digressive character of the Atlas complicates any linear narrative of its themes and contents Christopher D Johnson traces several thematic sequences in the panels By drawing on Warburg s published and unpublished writings and by attending to Warburg s cardinal idea that pathos formulas structure the West s cultural memory Johnson maps numerous tensions between word and image in the Atlas In addition to examining the work itself he considers the literary philosophical and intellectual historical implications of the Atlas As Johnson demonstrates the Atlas is not simply the culmination of Warburg s lifelong study of Renaissance culture but the ultimate expression of his now literal now metaphoric search for syncretic solutions to the urgent problems posed by the history of art and culture

The Black Surrealists Jean-Claude Michel, 2000 In their rebellion against Western civilization the European surrealists contested their own society of which black surrealists were subjected to even harsher and shared the same dreadful racial memory of the slave ship Black surrealists would strive to completely eradicate this hostile society by means of art words and metaphors

Woods,1982 Illustrating Mathematics Diana Davis,2020-10-16 This book is for anyone who wishes to illustrate their mathematical ideas which in our experience means everyone It is organized by material rather than by subject area and purposefully emphasizes the process of creating things including discussions of failures that occurred along the way As a result the reader can learn from the experiences of those who came before and will be inspired to create their own illustrations Topics illustrated within include prime numbers fractals the Klein bottle Borromean rings tilings space filling curves knot theory billiards complex dynamics algebraic surfaces groups and prime ideals the Riemann zeta function quadratic fields hyperbolic space and hyperbolic 3 manifolds Everyone who opens this book should find a type of mathematics with which they identify Each contributor explains the mathematics behind their illustration at an accessible level so that all readers can appreciate the beauty of both the object itself and the mathematics behind it The Naked Eye Yoko Tawada,2009-05-26 Tawada s slender accounts of alienation achieve a remarkable potency Michael Porter The New York Times A precocious Vietnamese high school student known as the pupil with the iron blouse in Ho Chi Minh City is invited to an International Youth Conference in East Berlin But in East Berlin as she is preparing to present her paper in Russian on Vietnam as a Victim of American Imperialism she is abruptly kidnapped and taken to a small town in West Germany After a strange spell of domestic sexual boredom with her lover abductor and though the Berlin Wall was said to be more difficult to break through than the Great Wall of China she escapes on a train to Moscow but mistakenly arrives in Paris Alone broke and in a completely foreign land Anh her false name loses herself in the films of Catherine Deneuve as her real adventures begin Dreamy meditative and filled with the gritty everyday perils of a person living somewhere without papers at one point Anh is subjected to some vampire like skin experiments The Naked Eye is a novel that is as surprising as it is delightful each of the thirteen chapters titled after and framed by one of Deneuve s films As far as I was concerned the narrator says while watching Deneuve on the screen the only woman in the world was you and so I did not exist By the time 1989 comes along and the Iron Curtain falls story and viewer have morphed into the dislocating beauty of both dancer and dance International Standard Classification of Occupations International Labour Office,2012 The International Standard Classification of Occupations 2008 ISCO 08 is a four level hierarchically structured classification that covers all jobs in the world Developed with the benefit of accumulated national and international experience as well as the help of experts from many countries and agencies ISCO 08 is fully supported by the international community as an accepted standard for international labour statistics ISCO 08 classifies jobs into 436 unit groups These unit groups are aggregated into 130 minor groups 43 sub major groups and 10 major groups based on their similarity in terms of the skill level and skill specialisation required for the jobs This allows the production of relatively detailed internationally comparable data as well as summary information for only 10 groups at the highest level of aggregation Each group in the classification is designated by a title and code number and is associated with a definition that specifies the scope of the group The classification is

Sculpture Collections in Europe and the United States 1500-1930 ,2021-04-26

Exploring the variety of forms taken by collections of sculpture this volume presents new research by twelve internationally recognized scholars The essays delve into the motivations of different collectors the modes of display and the aesthetics of viewing sculpture bringing to light much new archival material The book underscores the ambiguous nature of sculpture collections variously understood as decorative components of interiors or gardens as objects of desire in cabinets of curiosity or as autonomous works of art in private and public collections Emphasizing the collections and the ways in which these were viewed and described this book addresses a significant but neglected aspect of art collecting and contributes to the literature on this branch of art and cultural history This book evolved from a symposium Sculpture Collecting and Display 1600 2000 organized by the Center for the History of Collecting that was held at The Frick Collection on May 19 and 20 2017 Both the book and the symposium were made possible through the generous support of the Robert H Smith Family Foundation The book is published in association with The Frick Collection Piety in Pieces Kathryn M. Rudy,2016-09-26 Medieval manuscripts resisted obsolescence Made by highly specialised craftspeople scribes illuminators book binders with labour intensive processes using exclusive and sometimes exotic materials parchment made from dozens or hundreds of skins inks and paints made from prized minerals animals and plants books were expensive and built to last They usually outlived their owners Rather than discard them when they were superseded book owners found ways to update amend and upcycle books or book parts These activities accelerated in the fifteenth century Most manuscripts made before 1390 were bespoke and made for a particular client but those made after 1390 especially books of hours were increasingly made for an open market in which the producer was not in direct contact with the buyer Increased efficiency led to more generic products which owners were motivated to personalise It also led to more blank parchment in the book for example the backs of inserted miniatures and the blank ends of textual components Book buyers of the late fourteenth and throughout the fifteenth century still held onto the old connotations of manuscripts that they were custom made luxury items even when the production had become impersonal Owners consequently purchased books made for an open market and then personalised them filling in the blank spaces and even adding more components later This would give them an affordable product but one that still smacked of luxury and met their individual needs They kept older books in circulation by amending them attached items to generic books to make them more relevant and valuable and added new prayers with escalating indulgences as the culture of salvation shifted Rudy considers ways in which book owners adjusted the contents of their books from the simplest add a marginal note sew in a curtain to the most complex take the book apart embellish the components with painted decoration add more quires of parchment By making sometimes extreme adjustments book owners kept their books fashionable and emotionally relevant This study explores the intersection of codicology and human desire Rudy shows how increased modularisation of book making led to more standardisation but also to more opportunities for personalisation She asks What properties did parchment manuscripts have that printed books lacked What are the interrelationships among technology efficiency skill loss and standardisation

The Boundaries of Europe Pietro Rossi,2015-04-24 Europe s boundaries have mainly been shaped by cultural religious and political conceptions rather than by geography This volume of bilingual essays from renowned European scholars outlines the transformation of Europe s boundaries from the fall of the ancient world to the age of decolonization or the end of the explicit endeavor to Europeanize the world From the decline of the Roman Empire to the polycentrism of today s world the essays span such aspects as the confrontation of Christian Europe with Islam and the changing role of the Mediterranean from mare nostrum to a frontier between nations Scandinavia eastern Europe and the Atlantic are also analyzed as boundaries in the context of exploration migratory movements cultural exchanges and war The Boundaries of Europe edited by Pietro Rossi is the first installment in the ALLEA book series Discourses on Intellectual Europe which seeks to explore the question of an intrinsic or quintessential European identity in light of the rising skepticism towards Europe as an integrated cultural and intellectual region
