Paris Review 123:

Inspecting the Interview Carsten Junker, 2024-09-03 Interviews are omnipresent in scholarship and public discourses. They play a crucial role in various spheres from collecting research data to providing persons in the public eye a platform in print and online media. Interviews do not only capture a dialogue; they provide a framework in which dialogue gets staged. As such a framework, the interview protocols experiential knowledge and personal experience in certain ways according to interlocutors' different degrees of authority to speak. The volume contributes to the state of the art research on what conclusions can be drawn from these and further reflections for a general assessment of the interview as method and form. It offers fundamental conceptualizations of the interview as a structured and mediated site of knowledge production. Theoreticians and practitioners assembled here conceptualize the interview from perspectives in different fields of the humanities and social sciences such as linguistics, literary and cultural studies, musicology, psychology, and philosophy. The Art of Fiction David Lodge, 2011-05-02 In this entertaining and enlightening collection David Lodge considers the art of fiction under a wide range of headings drawing on writers as diverse as Henry James, Martin Amis, Jane Austen, and James Joyce. Looking at ideas such as the Intrusive Author, Suspense, the Epistolary Novel, Magic Realism, and Symbolism and illustrating each topic with a passage taken from a classic or modern novel, David Lodge makes the richness and variety of British and American fiction accessible to the general reader. He provides essential reading for students, aspiring writers, and anyone who wants to understand how fiction works. The Paris Review George Plimpton, 1995-09 This issue celebrates the great American tradition of literary humor and investigates the future of the medium. Brendan Gill ponders his varied career in a Writers at Work Interview and reflects on New Yorker humorists from Thurber to Frazier. Also featured: Jay McInerney, Fran Lebowitz, T Coraghessan Boyle, Howard Stern, and Mona Simpson. Photos and illustrations. Bring Me Back B.A. Paris, 2018-06-19 THE NEW TWISTY GRIPPING READ FROM B.A. PARIS THE AUTHOR OF THE INSTANT NEW YORK TIMES AND USA TODAY BESTSELLING NOVELS BEHIND CLOSED DOORS AND THE BREAKDOWN We're in a new Golden Age of suspense writing now because of amazing books like Bring Me Back and I for one am loving it. Lee Child: An outstanding Hitchcockian thriller. Publishers Weekly starred review. She went missing. He moved on. A whole world of secrets remained until now. Finn and Layla are young in love and on vacation. They're driving along the highway when Finn decides to stop at a service station to use the restroom. He hops out of the car, locks the doors behind him, and goes inside. When he returns, Layla is gone, never to be seen again. That is the story Finn told to the police. But it is not the whole story. Ten years later, Finn is engaged to Layla's sister Ellen. Their shared grief over what happened to Layla drew them close, and now they intend to remain together. Still, there's something about Ellen that Finn has never fully understood. His heart wants to believe that she is the one for him, even though a sixth sense tells him not to trust her. Then, not long before he and Ellen are to be married, Finn gets a phone call. Someone from his past has seen Layla, hiding in plain sight. There are other odd occurrences. Long lost items from Layla's past that keep turning up around Finn and Ellen's house. Emails from strangers who seem to know too much. Secret messages, clues, warnings. If Layla is alive and on Finn's trail, what does she want? And how much does she know? A tour de force of psychological suspense. Bring Me Back will have you questioning everything and everyone until its stunning climax. Triple Takes on Curricular Worlds Mary Aswell Doll, Delese Wear, Martha L. Whitaker, 2012-02-01 Triple Takes on Curricular Worlds is a groundbreaking exploration of curriculum studies that offers a new understanding of the selves educators bring to work. Three educators from three different disciplines write on issues not usually forefronted in curriculum studies: boundaries, disgrace, distance, fear, forgiveness, light, and mothers. Their gendered voices give new meaning to the idea of curriculum to include that which courses through their lives in the classroom, in the public sphere, and in their nighttime personas. Each writer demonstrates to what extent teaching must interact with living in the twenty-first century. Writing from the perspectives of medicine, elementary education, and literature, the authors examine what it is like to live and work in a multidisciplinary, multilayered world. Their chapters, born out of their life experiences, critique the serious issues of our time: terrorism, technology, power, and privilege, hoping to stimulate readers to think about their own public and private selves.

The Novel, Who Needs It? Joseph Epstein, 2023-07-18 In this brief but highly engaging book, Joseph Epstein argues for the primacy of fiction and specifically of the novel among all intellectual endeavors that seek to describe the behavior of human beings. Reading superior fiction, he holds, arouses the mind in a way that nothing else quite does. He shows how the novel at its best operates above the level of ideas in favor of taking up the truths of the heart. No other form probes so deeply into that eternal mystery of mysteries, human nature, than does the novel. Along the way, Epstein recounts how we read fiction differently than much else we read. He sets out how memory works differently in the reading of fiction than in that of other works. He notes that certain novels are best read at certain ages and suggests that novels like movies might do well to carry ratings, with some novels best read no later than one's early twenties, others not to be read before the age of forty. The knowledge one acquires from reading novels differs from all other kinds of knowledge for the subject of all superior fiction is human existence itself in all its variousness and often humbling confusion. The spirit of the novel entails questioning much that others consider home truths. This is demonstrated by the fact that so many important philosophers, social scientists, jurists, and other intellectuals have been devoted readers of fiction among them, Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr., Michael Oakeshott, Edward Shils, and Clifford Geertz. The Novel, Who Needs It takes up those current elements in the culture that militate against the production of first-rate fiction. Prominent among them are the rise of online reading, the expansion of creative writing programs, the artistically discouraging effects of political correctness, and the pervasiveness of therapeutic thinking throughout contemporary culture. As for the title The Novel, Who Needs It, Joseph Epstein's answer is that we all do.

Literature and the Rise of the Interview Rebecca Roach, 2018-11-15 Today, interviews proliferate everywhere: in newspapers, on television, and in anthologies. As a method, they are a major tool of medicine, the law, the social sciences, oral history projects and journalism and in the book trade interviews with authors are a major promotional device We live in an interview society How did this happen What is it about the interview form that we find so appealing and horrifying Are we all just gossips or is there something more to it What are the implications of our reliance on this bizarre dynamic for publicity subjectivity and democracy Literature and the Rise of the Interview addresses these questions from the perspective of literary culture The book traces the ways in which the interview form has been conceived and deployed by writers and interviewing has been understood as a literary critical practice It excavates what we might call a poetics of the interview form and practice In so doing it covers 150 years and four continents It includes a diverse rostrum of well known writers such as Henry James T S Eliot Ezra Pound Djuna Barnes William Burroughs Philip Roth J M Coetzee and Toni Morrison while reintroducing some individuals that history has forgotten such as Betty Ross Queen of Interviewers and Julian Hawthorne Nathaniel s profligate son Together these stories expose the interview s position in the literary imagination and consider what this might tell us about conceptions of literature authorship and reading communities in modernity Cain's Craft David Madden,1985 Analyzes the master of the hard boiled novel The American Monthly Review of Reviews Albert Shaw,1898 Creative Involution S.E. Gontarski,2015-09-23 Creative Involution Bergson Beckett Deleuze focuses on a philosophical trajectory that not only had a profound impact on critical thought of the 20th and now 21st centuries but on cosmopolitan contemporary culture more broadly and on artistic experiment and expression in particular Literary Research and British Postmodernism Bridgit McCafferty,Arianne Hartsell-Gundy,2015-09-02 Literary Research and British Postmodernism is a guide for researchers of postwar British literature that defines best practices for scholars conducting research in this period Individual chapters connect the complex relationships between print and multimedia technological advancements and the influence of critical theory that converge in postwar British literature The Builder ,1893 Cold War Poetry Edward Brunner,2001 Mainstream American poetry of the 1950s has long been dismissed as deliberately indifferent to its cultural circumstances In this penetrating study Edward Brunner breaks the placid surface of the hollow decade to reveal a poetry sharply responsive to issues of its time Cold War Poetry considers the fifties poem as part of a dual cultural project as proof of the competency of the newly professionalized poet and as a user friendly way of initiating a newly educated upwardly mobile postwar audience into high culture Brunner revisits Richard Wilbur Randall Jarrell and other acknowledged leaders of the period as well as neglected writers such as Rosalie Moore V R Lang Katherine Hoskins Melvin B Tolson and Hyam Plutzik He also examines the one sided authority of the male dominated book review process the ostracizing of female and minority poets poetic fads such as the ubiquitous sestina and the power of the classroom anthology to establish criteria for reading Attributing the gradual change in poetic style during the 1950s to the slow collapse of the authority of the state Brunner shows how a secretive anxious poetics developed in the shadow of a disabled government He recontextualizes the much maligned domestic verse of the 1950s reading its shift toward the private sphere and the recurrent image of the child as a reflection of the powerlessness of the post nuclear citizen Through a close examination of poetry written about the Bomb he delineates how poets registered their growing sense of cosmic disorder in coded language resorting to subterfuge to continue their critique in the face of sanctions levied against those who questioned government policies Brilliantly decoding the politics embedded in the poetry of an ostensibly apolitical time Cold War Poetry provides a powerful rereading of a pivotal decade      Medical Review of Reviews ,1913 Index medicus in v 1 30 1895 1924

Monthly Bulletin San Francisco Free Public Library,1905      Modern Languages ,1923      A Dictionary of Theatre Anthropology Eugenio Barba,Nicola Savarese,2011-03-18 First Published in 2005 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company      Orhan Pamuk, Secularism and Blasphemy Erdag Göknar,2013-02-15 Orhan Pamuk Secularism and Blasphemy is the first critical study of all of Pamuk s novels including the early untranslated work In 2005 Orhan Pamuk was charged with insulting Turkishness under Article 301 of the Turkish penal code Eighteen months later he was awarded the Nobel Prize After decades of criticism for wielding a depoliticized pen Pamuk was cast as a dissident through his trial an event that underscored his transformation from national literateur to global author By contextualizing Pamuk s fiction into the Turkish tradition and by defining the literary and political intersections of his work Orhan Pamuk Secularism and Blasphemy rereads Pamuk s dissidence as a factor of the form of his novels This is not a traditional study of literature but a book that turns to literature to ask larger questions about recent transformations in Turkish history identity modernity and collective memory As a corrective to common misreadings of Pamuk s work in its international reception Orhan Pamuk Secularism and Blasphemy applies various analytical lenses to the politics of the Turkish novel including gender studies cultural translation historiography and Islam The book argues that modern literature that confronts representations of the nation state or devlet with those of Ottoman Islamic and Sufi contexts or din constitute secular blasphemies that redefine the politics of the Turkish novel Concluding with a meditation on conditions of untranslatability in Turkish literature this study provides a comprehensive and critical analysis of Pamuk s novels to date      Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine ,1823
