Parish Picnic:

The Parish Picnic James Marcoux, Carmen Marcoux, Rebekah Marcoux, 2010-10 What Parish Are You From? Eileen M. McMahon, 2014-07-11 For Irish Americans as well as for Chicago's other ethnic groups the local parish once formed the nucleus of daily life Focusing on the parish of St Sabina's in the southwest Chicago neighborhood of Auburn Gresham Eileen McMahon takes a penetrating look at the response of Catholic ethnics to life in twentieth century America She reveals the role the parish church played in achieving a cohesive and vital ethnic neighborhood and shows how ethno religious distinctions gave way to racial differences as a central point of identity and conflict For most of this century the parish served as an important mechanism for helping Irish Catholics cope with a dominant Protestant American culture Anti Catholicism in the society at large contributed to dependency on parishes and to a desire for separateness from the American mainstream As much as Catholics may have wanted to insulate themselves in their parish communities however Chicago demographics and the fluid nature of the larger society made this ultimately impossible Despite efforts at integration attempted by St Sabina's liberal clergy white parishioners viewed black migration into their neighborhood as a threat to their way of life and resisted it even as they relocated to the suburbs The transition from white to black neighborhoods and parishes is a major theme of twentieth century urban history The experience of St Sabina's which changed from a predominantly Irish parish to a vibrant African American Catholic community provides insights into this social trend and suggests how the interplay between faith and ethnicity contributes to a resistance to change The Church Times, 1924 New-Church Messenger, 1928 The Shared Parish Brett C. Hoover, 2014-08-15 As faith communities in the United States grow increasingly more diverse many churches are turning to the shared parish a single church facility shared by distinct cultural groups who retain their own worship and ministries The fastest growing and most common of these are Catholic parishes shared by Latinos and white Catholics Shared parishes remain one of the few institutions in American society that allows cultural groups to maintain their own language and customs while still engaging in regular intercultural negotiations over the shared space This book explores the shared parish through an in depth ethnographic study of a Roman Catholic parish in a small Midwestern city demographically transformed by Mexican immigration in recent decades Through its depiction of shared parish life the book argues for new ways of imagining the U S Catholic parish as an organization The parish argues Brett C Hoover must be conceived as both a congregation and part of a centralized system and as one piece in a complex social ecology The Shared Parish also posits that the search for identity and adequate intercultural practice in such parishes might call for new approaches to cultural diversity in U S society beyond assimilation or multiculturalism We must imagine a religious organization that accommodates both the need for safe space within distinct groups and for social networks that connect these groups as they struggle to respectfully co exist The Living Church, 1962 All Souls Church Annual Chicago (Ill.).
