Insinuating herself into high society May lands a well to do fiancé until that is a Pinkerton detective named Reed Doherty intervenes. Reed has made it his mission to bring May to justice and he pursues her across the world from Shanghai to London and back until he makes one last daring attempt to corner her. Remember when you played cards or knucklebones or noughts and crosses. Or what about charades, murder in the dark, I spy or hide and seek. Or made chatterboxes, those devices made from a square of paper that you flipped open between thumbs and forefingers with wishes and dreams under the flaps. This book has the lot. It may even ween you off the telly. Remember blind man's buff. What about conversations in which players discuss a topic by starting each sentence with a consecutive letter of the alphabet. Great family fun. Sun Herald. Written by two young mums, Parlour Games for Modern Families sets out to revive the tradition of indoor family games. This book is bursting with games of logic and memory, wordplay, card games, role play and rough and tumble. No game requires any equipment beyond a pack of cards, a dictionary, dice, paper and pen. Games are organised thematically and referenced for age appropriateness. All are set out with clear rules and instructions. There are games that will challenge and stimulate you and games that will have you in fits, games that can last all night and games to fill that empty half hour before tea. Games for adults and older children and games to keep all the kids at a four year old's birthday party happy. Every family and every home needs a copy. Parlor Games for the Wise and Otherwise Helen E. Hollister, 1917
