Art and Architecture Division, 1980 Catalogo dei libri in commercio ,2002 L'Oeil Georges Bernier, Rosamond Bernier, 2003 Some issues have separately numbered section L Oeil du d corateur Carte nere Claudio Parmiggiani, 1991 L'Oeil, revue d'art ,2003 L'opera al nero Marisa Vescovo, 2005 Livres hebdo ,2003 The Place of Scraps Jordan Abel, 2013 A conceptual poetry book that plays with the idea of historical First Nations representation through visual and erasure poems PARMIGGIANI. ,1989 Art press ,2003 Attilio Forgioli Sandro Parmiggiani, 2006 Tristano Nanni Balestrini, 2014-02-11 This book is unique as no other novel can claim to be one of 109 027 350 432 000 possible variations of the same work of fiction Inspired by the legend of Tristan and Isolde Tristano was first published in 1966 in Italian But only recently has digital technology made it possible to realise the author s original vision The novel comprises ten chapters and the fifteen pairs of paragraphs in each of these are shuffled anew for each published copy No two versions are the same The random variations between copies enact the variegations of the human heart as exemplified by the lovers at the centre of the story The copies of the English translation of Tristano are individually numbered starting from 10 000 running sequentially from the Italian and German editions Included is a foreword by Umberto Eco explaining how Balestrini s experiment with the physical medium of the novel demonstrates that originality and creativity are nothing more than the chance handling of a combination Economy of the Unlost Anne Carson, 2009-04-11 The ancient Greek lyric poet Simonides of Keos was the first poet in the Western tradition to take money for poetic composition From this starting point Anne Carson launches an exploration poetic in its own right of the idea of poetic economy She offers a reading of certain of Simonides texts and aligns these with writings of the modern Romanian poet Paul Celan a Jew and survivor of the Holocaust whose economies of language are notorious Asking such questions as What is lost when words are wasted and Who profits when words are saved Carson reveals the two poets striking commonalities In Carson s view Simonides and Celan share a similar mentality or disposition toward the world language and the work of the poet Economy of the Unlost begins by showing how each of the two poets stands in a state of alienation between two worlds In Simonides case the gift economy of fifth century b c Greece was giving way to one based on money and commodities while Celan s life spanned pre and post Holocaust worlds and he himself writing in German became estranged from his native language Carson goes on to consider various aspects of the two poets techniques for coming to grips with the invisible through the visible world A focus on the genre of the epitaph grants insights into the kinds of exchange the poets envision between the living and the dead Assessing the impact on Simonidean composition of the material fact of inscription on stone Carson suggests that a need for brevity influenced the exactitude and clarity of Simonides style and proposes a comparison with Celan s interest in the negative design of printmaking both poets though in different ways employ a kind of negative image making cutting away all that is superfluous This book s juxtaposition of the two poets illuminates their differences Simonides fundamental faith in the power of the word Celan s ultimate despair as well as their similarities it provides fertile ground for the virtuosic interplay of Carson s scholarship and her poetic sensibility
