Part Two Reflections On The Sequel:

Part Two Paul Vincent Budra, Betty A. Schellenberg, 1998 What do Paradise Regained and Terminator 2 have in common They are both sequels both chronological extensions of narratives that were originally envisioned as closed and complete works Part Two explores the phenomenon of secondary narrative by studying the conditions that determine its production and reception The volume encompasses works of poetry drama prose and films moving from Homer to Hollywood Each piece is grounded in a specific genre or period and while engaging a broader historical or theoretical perspective The Pleasures of Horror Matt Hills, 2005-06-20 Pleasures of Horror is a stimulating and insightful exploration of horror fictions literary cinematic and televisual and the emotions they engender in their audiences The text is divided into three sections The first examines how horror is valued and devalued in different cultural fields the second investigates the cultural politics of the contemporary horror film while the final part considers horror fandom in relation to its embodied practices film festivals its reading formations commercial fan magazines and fanzines and the role of special effects Pleasures of Horror combines a wide range of media and textual examples with highly detailed and closely focused exposition of theory It is a fascinating and engaging look at responses to a hugely popular genre and an invaluable resource for students of media cultural and film studies and fans of horror Part Two Paul Vincent Budra, Betty A. Schellenberg, 1998 A collection of essays that explores the phenomenon of secondary narrative by studying the conditions that determine its production and reception The essays cover a wide span of representation from Homer to Hollywood The Worlds of Carol Shields David Staines, 2014-12-02 The Worlds of Carol Shields is the first book to examine Shields extraordinary career and life through the lens both of close friends and of literary critics Examinations and Analysis of Sequels and Serials in the Film Industry Seçmen, Emre Ahmet, 2023-04-25 There are many elements in the concept of visual continuity and they are all interrelated In films or film series that are described as sequels establishing a visual integrity relationship between films comes to the fore The concept of the sequel appears in two ways Sometimes while the ideas are scripted the story is divided into more than one part Sometimes the story is planned as a single movie and after a certain time it can be realized as a follow up movie film for different reasons In both systems of expression it is necessary to seek harmony between all elements of visual design Examinations and Analysis of Sequels and Serials in the Film Industry examines certain contents through the concepts of cinematography and narrative focusing more on the practical side of cinema and partially on the theoretical side It examines samples sequels serials and trilogy universes on the axis of cinematography and narration Covering topics such as film landscape repeated narrative elements and storytelling this premier reference source is an excellent resource for film industry workers film students and educators sociologists librarians academicians and researchers Horror in Space Michele Brittany, 2017-10-27 In sharp contrast to many 1960s science fiction films with idealized views of space exploration Ridley Scott's Alien 1979 terrified audiences depicting a harrowing and doomed deep space mission The Alien films launched a new generation of horror set in the great unknown inspiring filmmakers to take Earth bound franchises like Leprechaun and Friday the 13th into space This collection of new essays examines the space horror subgenre with a focus on such films as Paul W S Anderson s Event Horizon Duncan Jones Moon Mario Bava s Planet of the Vampires and John Carpenter s Ghosts of Mars Contributors discuss how filmmakers explored the concepts of the final girl survivor the uncanny valley the isolationism of space travel religion and supernatural phenomena

On Second Thought Debra Taylor Bourdeau, Elizabeth Kraft, 2007 Every ending marks a potential beginning every act of reading is in a very real sense an act of re writing and to revise is literally to re see These bits of conventional wisdom underlie the topic explored in this volume s collection of essays by literary critics who want to know more about the instinct to continue and the impulse to revise an existing text

The Adaptation Industry Simone Murray, 2012-03-12 Adaptation constitutes the driving force of contemporary culture with stories adapted across an array of media formats However adaptation studies has been concerned almost exclusively with textual analysis in particular with compare and contrast studies of individual novel and film pairings This has left almost completely unexamined crucial questions of how adaptations come to be made what are the industries with the greatest stake in making them and who the decision makers are in the adaptation process The Adaptation Industry re imagines adaptation not as an abstract process but as a material industry It presents the adaptation industry as a cultural economy of six interlocking institutions stakeholders and decision makers all engaged in the actual business of adapting texts authors agents publishers book prize committees scriptwriters and screen producers and distributors Through trading in intellectual property rights to cultural works these six nodal points in the adaptation network are tightly interlinked with success for one party potentially auguring for success in other spheres But marked rivalries between these institutional forces also exist with competition characterizing every aspect of the adaptation process This book constructs an overdue sociology of contemporary literary adaptation never losing sight of the material and institutional dimensions of this powerful process

Transmedia Creatures Francesca Saggini, Anna Enrichetta Soccio, 2018-10-19 On the 200th anniversary of the first edition of Mary Shelley s Frankenstein Transmedia Creatures presents studies of Frankenstein by international scholars from converging disciplines such as humanities musicology film studies television studies English and digital humanities These innovative contributions investigate the afterlives of a novel taught in a disparate array of courses Frankenstein disturbs and transcends boundaries be they political ethical theological aesthetic and not least of media ensuring its vibrant presence in contemporary popular culture Transmedia Creatures highlights how cultural content is redistributed through multiple media forms and modes of production including user generated ones from below that often appear synchronously and dismantle and renew established readings of the text while at the same time incorporating and revitalizing aspects that have always been central to it The authors engage with concepts value systems and aesthetic moral categories among them the family horror monstrosity diversity education risk technology the body from a variety of contemporary approaches and highly original perspectives which yields new connections Ultimately Frankenstein as evidenced by this collection is paradoxically enriched by the heteroglossia of preconceptions misreadings and overreadings that attend it and that reveal the complex interweaving of perceptions and responses it generates Published by Bucknell University Press Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press

Children's Literature and the Fin de Siècle Roderick McGillis, 2003-11-30 The close of a century invites both retrospection and prognostication As a period of transition it also brings a sense of uncertainty finality and apocalypticism These feelings stem from various events such as political turmoil scientific advancements and social change As might be expected literature reflects such changes and the feelings they engender But perhaps more surprisingly children's literature is especially sensitive to such matters and fiction for children often struggles with dark and unpleasant issues This book examines fin de siècle tensions in 19th and 20th century children's literature from around the world Each chapter is written by an expert contributor and the volume ranges over a disparate variety of topics These include poetry series books pacifist fiction gender issues religion and literature eco criticism minority experiences humor and the Holocaust fantasy and science fiction and computer culture In exploring these issues in relation to children's literature the contributors reveal the shifting nature of our values and the world in which we live Global in nature the chapters look at children's literature from such places as Germany Holland the United Kingdom Australia and the United States

Snakes' Legs Martin W. Huang, 2004-09-30 Snakes Legs examines sequels xushu a common but long neglected literary phenomenon in traditional China What prompted writers to produce sequels despite their poor reputation as a genre What motivated readers to read them How should we characterize the nature of the relationship between sequels and rewritings Contributors to this volume illuminate these and other questions and the collection as a whole offers a comprehensive consideration of this vigorous genre while suggesting fascinating new directions for research Xushu as a discursive practice reinforces the paradox that innovation is impossible without imitation It presents us with fertile ground for studying the intricate ties that bind the writer and reader of traditional Chinese fiction the writer of xushu is always self consciously assuming the dual role of author and reader and in the writing process must consider both the work in progress as well as its precursor s Snakes Legs contains detailed discussions of some representative xushu works from the late Ming and Qing periods many of which have received little scholarly attention It will shed light on the development of Chinese fiction and the various textual practices in traditional China as well as account for the genre s continuing vitality in modern times Contributors Robert E Hegel Siao chen Hu Martin W Huang Keith McMahon Qiancheng Li Ying Wang Ellen Widmer Laura H Wu Shuhui Yang

The Drama of Memory in Shakespeare's History Plays Isabel Karremann,2015-10-20 This book sheds new light on the dramatic devices Shakespeare developed for turning history into theatre in his history plays

Homer Jonathan S. Burgess,2014-11-13 What reader could fail to be enthralled by the Iliad and the Odyssey those greatest heroic epics of antiquity Yet the author of those immortal text remains in the end an enigma The central paradox of Homer is that while recognized as producing poetry of incomparable genius even in the ancient world nobody knew who he was As a result the myth maker became the subject of myth For the satirist Lucian c 125 180 CE he was a captive Babylonian Other traditions have Homer born in Smyrna or on the island of Chios or portray him as a blind and wandering minstrel In his new and authoritative introduction Jonathan S Burgess addresses fundamental questions of provenance and authorship Besides conveying why these epics have been cherished down the ages he discusses their historical sources and the possible impact on the Iliad and Odyssey of Indo European Near Eastern and folktale influences Tracing their transmission through the ancient medieval and modern periods the author further examines questions of theory and reception

The Next Instalment Wendy Roy,2019-11-28 What happens next That was the question asked of early twentieth century authors Nellie L McClung L M Montgomery and Mazo de la Roche whose stories and novels appeared serially and kept readers and publishers in a state of anticipation Each author answered through the writing and dissemination of further instalments McClung s Pearlie Watson trilogy 1908 1921 Montgomery s Anne of Green Gables books 1908 1939 and de la Roche s Jalna novels 1927 1960 were read avidly not just as sequels but as serials in popular and literary newspapers and magazines A number of the books were also adapted to stage film and television The Next Instalment argues that these three Canadian women writers all born in the same decade of the late nineteenth century were influenced by early twentieth century publication marketing and reading practices to become heavily invested in the cultural phenomenon of the continuing story A close look at their serials sequels and adaptations reveals that rather than existing as separate cultural productions each is part of a cultural and material continuum that encourages repeated consumption through development and extension of the originary story This work considers the effects that each mode of dissemination of a narrative has on the other

Simpson, 2023-03-15 One of the most influential thrillers in media history Jaws first surfaced as a best selling novel by first time novelist Peter Benchley in 1974 followed by the 1975 feature film directed by Steven Spielberg at the beginning of his storied career Jaws is often considered the first blockbuster and successive generations of filmmakers have cited it as formative in their own creative development For nearly 50 years critics and scholars have studied how and why this seemingly straightforward thriller holds such mass appeal This book of original essays assembles a range of critical thought on the impact and legacy of the film employing new perspectives historical cinematic literary scientific and environmental while building on the insights of previous writers While varying in focus the essays in this volume all explore why Jaws was so successful in its time and how it remains a prominent storytelling influence well into the 21st century
