The Codes of the Global in the Twenty-first Century Anna Maria Guasch,2017-12-22 At the start of the twenty first century the contemporary implies a clear desire to affirm a type of art that is expanding across the globe challenging old geographical borders and reclaiming narratives of place and displacement in other words new cultural practices that transfigure the relationship between the global and the local and articulate the discourse of difference Being in the place of here and now working with others in simultaneous and specific practice and contemplating the production of work in the experience of connection means raising the value of the performative aspect of practice and displacing the reflective role of cultural production In the new cartography of this multifarious global art the author who combines theoretical and curatorial discourse with creative practice defines how global concepts circulate from the critical analysis of transnational contemporary art to the global centrale qui a su tirer remarquablement parti de son parcours la fois existentiel et scientifique et qui m'a été connue par-delà les cercles de spécialistes. Les contributions regroupées dans ce volume offrent la possibilité de comprendre et même de vivre une trajectoire qui a fait bouger les frontières de trois continents : l'Afrique, l'Amérique et l'Europe et qui a conduit un dialogue entre de nombreuses disciplines : histoire, anthropologie, sociologie, linguistique, critique littéraire. L'exploitation de l'image et de la mémoire soulève des problématiques multiples correspondant des champs d'intérêts très différents que ce livre reflète grâce la rencontre de très nombreux chercheurs, collègues et amis. Cette mobilisation permet de présenter un parcours très large de la question et d'illustrer la multiplicité des pistes ainsi ouvertes et qui ont contribué à l'enrichissement des savoirs en sciences sociales.

The Global Work of Art Caroline A. Jones, 2017-06-01 Global biennials have proliferated in the contemporary art world but artists' engagement with large scale international exhibitions has a much longer history that has influenced the present in important ways. Going back to the earliest world's fairs in the nineteenth century this book argues that globalism was incubated in a century of international art contests and today constitutes an important tactic for artists. As world's fairs brought millions of attendees into contact with foreign cultures, products and processes, artworks became juxtaposed in a theater of nations which challenged artists and critics to think outside their local academies. From Gustave Courbet's rebel pavilion near the official art exhibit at the 1855 French World's Fair to curator Beryl Madras's choice of London-based Cypriot Hussein Chalayan for the off-site Turkish pavilion at the 2006 Venice Biennale, artists have used these exhibitions to reflect on contemporary art, speak to their own governments back home and challenge the wider geopolitical realm, changing art and art history along the way. Ultimately Caroline A. Jones argues the modern appetite for experience and event structures which were cultivated around the art at these earlier expositions have now come to constitute contemporary art itself, producing encounters that transform the public and force us to reflect critically on the global condition.

Curating Art Janet Marstine, Oscar Ho Hing Kay, 2021-12-30 Curating Art provides insight into some of the most socially and politically impactful curating of historical and contemporary art since the late 1990s. It offers up a museological framework for understanding watershed developments of curating in art museums. Representing the plurality of theory and practice around the expanded field of relational curating, the book focuses on curating that prioritises the quality of relationships between people and objects, between institutions and people, and among people. It has wide international breadth with particularly strong representation in East and Southeast Asia, including four papers never before translated into English. This Asian cluster illuminates the globalisation of the field and challenges dichotomies of East and West while acknowledging distinctions within specific but often transnational cultural spheres. The compelling philosophical perspectives and case studies included within Curating Art will be of interest to students and researchers studying curating, exhibition development and art museums. The book will also inspire current and emerging curators to pose challenging but important questions about their own practice and the relationships that this work sustains.

Along the Indian Highway Cathrine

Bublitzky,2019-08-02 This book is an ethnographic study of the travelling art exhibition Indian Highway that presented Indian contemporary art in Europe and China between 2008 and 2012 a significant period for the art world that saw the rise and fall of the national exhibition format It analyses art exhibition as a mobile object and promotes the idea of art as a transcultural product by using participant observation in depth interviews and multi media studies as research method This work encompasses voices of curators artists audiences and art critics spread over different cities sites and art institutions to bridge the distance between Europe and India based on vignettes along the Indian Highway The discussion in the book focuses on power relations the contested politics of representation and dissonances and processes of negotiation in the field of global art It also argues for rethinking analytical categories in anthropology to identify the social role of contemporary art practices in different cultural contexts and also examines urban art and the way national or cultural values are reinterpreted in response to ideas of difference and pluralism Rich in empirical data this book will be useful to scholars and researchers of modern and contemporary art Indian art art and visual culture anthropology art history mobility and transcultural studies
