The Theology of Sanctification and Resignation in Charles Wesley's Hymns Julie A. Lunn, 2018-12-07

Sanctification is a central theme in the theology of both John and Charles Wesley. However while John's theology of sanctification has received much scholarly attention significantly less has been paid to Charles' views on the subject. This book redresses this imbalance by using Charles' many poetic texts as a window into his rich theological thought on sanctification particularly uncovering the role of resignation in the development of his views on this key doctrine. In this analysis of Charles' theology of sanctification the centrality he accorded to resignation is uncovered to show a positive attribute involving acts of intention, desire and offering to God. The book begins by putting Charles' position in the context of contemporary theology and then shows how he differed in attitude from his brother John. It then discusses in depth how his hymns use the concept of resignation both in relation to Jesus Christ and the believer. It concludes this analysis by identifying the ways in which Charles understood the relationship between resignation and sanctification namely that resignation is a lens through which Charles views holiness. The final chapter considers the implications of these conclusions for a twenty-first century theological and spiritual context and asks whether resignation is still a concept which can be used today. This book breaks new ground in the understanding of Charles Wesley's personal theology. As such it will be of significant interest to scholars of Methodism and the Wesleys as well as those working in theology, spirituality and the history of religion.

Modern Orthodox Theology Paul Ladouceur, 2019-02-21. Modern Orthodox theology represents a continuity of the Eastern Christian theological tradition stretching back to the early Church and especially to the Ancient Fathers of the Church. This volume considers the full range of modern Orthodox theology. The first chapters of the book offer a chronological study of the development of modern Orthodox theology beginning with a survey of Orthodox theology from the fall of Constantinople in 1453 until the early 19th century. Ladouceur then focuses on theology in imperial Russia, the Russian religious renaissance at the beginning of the 20th century and the origins and nature of neopatristic theology as well as the new theology in Greece and Romania and tradition and the restoration of patristic thought. Subsequent chapters examine specific major themes: God and Creation, Divine humanity, personhood and human rights, The Church of Christ, Ecumenical theology and religious diversity, The Christification of life, Social and Political Theology, The Name of God, conflict, The ordination of women. The volume concludes with assessments of major approaches of modern Orthodox theology and reflections on the current status and future of Orthodox theology. Designed for classroom use, the book features case studies, a detailed index, a list of recommended readings for each chapter.
