The Years of Alienation in Italy Alessandra Diazzi, Alvis Sforza Tarabochia, 2019 The Years of Alienation in Italy offers an interdisciplinary overview of the socio political psychological philosophical and cultural meanings that the notion of alienation took on in Italy between the 1960s and the 1970s It addresses alienation as a social condition of estrangement caused by the capitalist system a pathological state of the mind and an ontological condition of subjectivity Contributors to the edited volume explore the pervasive influence this multifarious concept had on literature cinema architecture and photography in Italy The collection also theoretically reassesses the notion of alienation from a novel perspective employing Italy as a paradigmatic case study in its pioneering role in the revolution of mental health care and factory work during these two decades Alessandra Diazzi is Lecturer in Italian at the University of Manchester UK Her work focuses primarily on the reception of psychoanalysis in Italian culture with a particular focus on the relationship between psychoanalysis and impegno in Italy She has published articles on contemporary Italian literature and cinema Alvis Sforza Tarabochia is Lecturer in Italian at the University of Kent UK His research encompasses visual culture and psychiatry in Italy He has published a monograph on the theoretical implications of Basaglia's thought as well as articles on Italian literature biopolitics visual culture and psychoanalysis The Peasantry of the Border: an Appeal in Their Behalf, Etc William Stephen Gilly, 1841 Memory and Utopia Luisa Passerini, 2017-07-05 Memory and Utopia looks at the connection between memory and forgetfulness in Europe during the twentieth century Drawing on oral history and feminist theory and practice the book highlights how women struggled to be recognized as full subjects The themes of utopia and desire in the 1968 movements of students women and workers are explored Memory and Utopia examines the sense of belonging to Europe that has emerged in the last twenty years The book analyses European identity as expressed through identities based on gender age and culture to explore an inclusive and non hierarchical subjectivity A Journey to the End of the Millennium A.B. Yehoshua, 2012-07-05 The year is 999 A D Christians in Europe are preparing themselves for the arrival of the Messiah at the millennium and religious fervour is in the air Sailing from the North African port of Tangier to a small distant town called Paris are a Jewish merchant Ben Attar his two beloved wives and his Arab partner Abu Lutfi They have come for a meeting with their third partner the widower Raphael Abulafia who has been forced to turn his back on their previous trading partnership because of his new wife's distrust of the dual marriage of Ben Attar The latter turns this annual trading voyage into a personal quest to legitimise his second wife restore his honour and equally important to show others the richness and humanity in his way of life A confrontation ensues between people of different cultures whose ways of living and loving are so different and yet who are of the same religion believe in the same God and in the same morality Thus we enter a profound human drama whose moral conflicts of fidelity and desire resonate deeply with our times A B Yehoshua has imaginatively recreated a medieval world with its merchant trade in great depth and sensuous detail His evocation of one man's love is lyrical erotic even and A Journey to the End of the Millennium will rank with the best of Yehoshua's work The Global Lives of Things Anne Gerritsen, Giorgio Riello, 2015-11-19 The Global Lives of Things considers the ways in which things ranging from commodities to works of art and precious materials participated in the shaping of global connections in the period 1400-1800 By focusing on the material exchange between Asia Europe the Americas and Australia this volume traces the movements of objects through human networks of commerce colonialism and consumption It argues that material objects mediated between the forces of global economic exchange and the constantly changing identities of individuals as they were drawn into global circuits It proposes a reconceptualization of early modern global history in the light of its material culture by asking the question what can we learn about the early modern world by studying its objects This exciting new collection draws together the latest scholarship in the study of material culture and offers students a critique and explanation of the notion of commodity and a reinterpretation of the meaning of exchange It engages with the concepts of proto globalization the first global age and commodities consumption Divided into three parts the volume considers in Part One Objects of Global Knowledge in Part Two Objects of Global

Connections and finally in Part Three Objects of Global Consumption The collection concludes with afterwords from three of the leading historians in the field Maxine Berg Suraiya Faroqhi and Paula Findlen who offer their critical view of the methodologies and themes considered in the book and place its arguments within the wider field of scholarship Extensively illustrated and with chapters examining case studies from Northern Europe to China and Australia this book will be essential reading for students of global history
