Partition And Genocide Manifestation Of Violence In Punjab 1937-1947:

Partition and Genocide Anders Bjørn Hansen, 2002      Violence, Martyrdom and Partition Nonica Datta, 2009-02-18

This book presents the oral testimony of Subhashini 1914-2003, the woman head of a well-known Arya Samaj institution devoted to women's education in rural north India. Subhashini's narrative unfolds a story within a sea of stories which has remained silent in the dominant historical discourse. Her memory evokes contrasting images of violence, martyrdom, and Partition. Not 1947 but 1942, the year of her father's martyrdom, is recalled as a violent rupture in her memory. Partition is a moment of celebration, revenge, divine retribution, empathy, remorse, tragedy, and fear. Translating Subhashini's oral testimony, Nonica Datta recreates the memory of a colonial subject living in postcolonial times as a historical narrative. Moving beyond a historical event and well-established historical facts, Violence, Martyrdom and Partition is a parallel history of events and non-events, memory and history, testimony and experience. Breaking the silence of an oral testimony and presenting memory as history, this work opens up the historians' territory. This testimony defies the opposition between subject and agent, victim and victimizer, witness and survivor, aggressor and spectator, perpetrator and bystander. Subhashini's candid, repetitive narrative suggests a remarkable interplay of individual and collective remembrance and reveals the shifts, ambiguities, silences, and contradictions in an individual memory.      Partitions and Their Afterlives Radhika Mohanram, Anindya

Raychaudhuri, 2019-06-28. Partitions and their Afterlives engages with political partitions and how their aftermath affects the contemporary life of nations and their citizens.      The Great Partition Yasmin Khan, 2017-07-04. A reappraisal of the tumultuous Partition and how it ignited long-standing animosities between India and Pakistan. This new edition of Yasmin Khan's reappraisal of the tumultuous India-Pakistan Partition features an introduction reflecting on the latest research and on ways in which commemoration of the Partition has changed and considers the Partition in light of the current refugee crisis. Reviews of the first edition: A riveting book on this terrible story. Economist. Unsparing, provocative and painful. Times. London. Many histories of Partition focus solely on the elite policy makers. Yasmin Khan's empathetic account gives a great insight into the hopes, dreams, and fears of the millions affected by it. Owen Bennett Jones, BBC.      Remembering Genocide

Nigel Eltringham, Pam Maclean, 2014-06-27. In Remembering Genocide, an international group of scholars draw on current research from a range of disciplines to explore how communities throughout the world remember genocide. Whether coming to terms with atrocities committed in Namibia and Rwanda, Australia, Canada, the Punjab, Armenia, Cambodia, and during the Holocaust, those seeking to remember genocide are confronted with numerous challenges. Survivors grapple with the possibility or even the desirability of recalling painful memories. Societies where genocide has been perpetrated find it difficult to engage with an uncomfortable historical legacy. Still, to forget genocide as this volume, edited by Nigel Eltringham and Pam Maclean, shows, is not an option. To do so reinforces the vulnerability of groups whose very existence remains in jeopardy and denies them the possibility of bringing perpetrators to justice. Contributors discuss how genocide is represented in media including literature memorial books film and audiovisual testimony Debates surrounding the role museums and monuments play in constructing and transmitting memory are highlighted Finally authors engage with controversies arising from attempts to mobilise and manipulate memory in the service of reconciliation compensation and transitional justice
