Making Sense of Construction Improvement Stuart Green, 2023-12-15 Making Sense of Construction Improvement provides a critical evaluation of the construction improvement debate from the end of the Second World War through to the modern era The book offers unique insights into the way the UK construction sector is continuously shaped and re shaped in accordance with changes in the prevailing political economy This second edition brings the book up to date by including coverage of key trends from 2010 2023 The book has been substantially revised and reworked to include new material relating to the age of austerity and the subsequent period of political uncertainty initiated by the Brexit referendum Changes in the political economy are positioned alongside the rise of the sustainability agenda and the advent of zero carbon Particular attention is paid to the ongoing skills crisis and the over hyped advocacy of modern methods of construction MMC as the latest supposed panacea of industry improvement Coverage includes the Farmer 2016 report Modernise or Die and the Construction Playbook HM Government 2020 However perhaps the most important addition is a focus on the Grenfell Disaster 2017 and the subsequent revelations from the public enquiry Further intermediate milestones include Building a Safer Future Hackitt 2018 and the Construction Sector Deal HM Government 2018 The emerging consensus points towards a systemic failure involving not only the construction sector but also the entire system of regulation and compliance Tracing the failings back over time and scrutinising the role played by previous generations of policymakers Stuart Green ultimately argues that Grenfell was a disaster entirely foretold The insightful and critical analysis of the industry contained within these pages is essential and timely reading for anyone who wants to understand how the construction sector arrived at where it is today and with that knowledge give further thought to where it might go next

Commercial Management of Projects David Lowe, Roine Leiringer, 2008-04-15 This is the first book to establish a theoretical framework for commercial management It argues that managing the contractual and commercial issues of projects from project inception to completion is vital in linking operations at the project level and the multiple projects portfolios programmes level to the corporate core of a company The book focuses on commercial management within the context of project oriented organisations for example aerospace construction IT pharmaceutical and telecommunications in the private and public sectors By bringing together contributions from leading researchers and practitioners in commercial management it presents the state of the art in commercial management covering both current research and best practice Commercial Management of Projects defining the discipline covers the external milieu competition culture procurement systems the corporate milieu corporate governance strategy marketing trust outsourcing the projects milieu management of uncertainty conflict management and dispute resolution performance measurement value management and the project milieu project governance contract management bidding purchasing logistics and supply cost value reconciliation Collectively the chapters constitute a step towards the creation of a body of knowledge and a research agenda for commercial management

Contracting for Project Management J. Rodney Turner, 2017-07-05 In all but the smallest of projects the project sponsor inevitably has to buy in the goods and services of other suppliers This requires people to make contracts so that they know the basis on which they are working with each other and to deal with any disagreements that subsequently arise So a knowledge of contracting specifically for project management is essential if a project is to avoid difficulties and reach a successful conclusion This book concentrates specifically on the contracting issues that surround projects of any size

Which Contract? Sarah Lupton, 2019-06-27 Which Contract is an invaluable desktop companion to be turned to at the start of every new project and is recommended to any professional whose clients expect him or her to know the contemporary procurement landscape inside out Providing clear guidance on how to identify the most appropriate procurement strategy and contract for a given set of circumstances it has been brought fully up to date to take account of the latest editions of all the recognised forms from JCT 2011 to FIDIC Construction Procurement Brian Greenhalgh, Graham Squires, Abdul-Majeed Mahamadu, 2021-12-30 This book is an easy to read introduction to the principles and methods of building procurement and is aimed at first year students or non cognate graduates starting out on a career in construction property quantity surveying and construction management The book starts with a brief introduction to the construction industry including how the industry is organised into contractors consultants and clients After a discussion of the historical development of procurement methods which show a steady shift of risk and responsibility towards the supply side contractors the various roles and responsibilities which must be carried out in any project are discussed in detail The aim is to show the reader that procurement routes are effectively a permutation of these responsibilities between the various parties The book then explains the various methods by which the contractor s are paid either by pre negotiated lump sums or by some form of cost reimbursement Variants of these two systems are also discussed Several chapters are given to the detailed discussion of the main procurement routes together with the appropriate standard forms of contract designed for that route More modern developments such as Private Financing and PPP are discussed and a chapter covering emerging trends in procurement completes the book Containing discussion points chapter summaries and case studies this book is ideal for use in a variety of degree programs and courses across the built environment and engineering Construction Cost Management Keith Potts, Nii Ankrah, 2014-01-23 In this updated and expanded second edition Keith Potts and Nii Ankrah examine key issues in construction cost management across the building and civil engineering sectors both in the UK and overseas Best practice from pre contract to post contract phases of the project life cycle are illustrated using major projects such as Heathrow Terminal 5 Crossrail and the London 2012 Olympics as case studies More worked examples legal cases case studies and current research have been introduced to cover every aspect of the cost manager's role. Whole life costing, value management and risk management are also addressed and self-test questions at the end of each chapter support independent learning. This comprehensive book is essential reading for students on surveying and construction management programmes as well as built environment practitioners with cost or project management responsibilities.

The Architect in Practice David Chappell, Andrew Willis, 2013-02-05. The Architect in Practice was first published in 1952. Originally written by a quantity surveyor and an architect, it has remained through its nine editions a leading textbook used in the education of architects world wide. While the format of the book has developed, the message and philosophy remains the same as the original to provide the student of architecture and the young practitioner with a readable guide to the profession, outlining an architect's duties to client and contractor, the key aspects of running a building contract and the essentials of management, finance and drawing office procedure. The tenth edition follows in that tradition. The authors, still an architect and a quantity surveyor, have brought the text fully up to date. Major revisions in this edition include Revised sections on Planning and the Building Regulations. Changes to the education of architects in the UK have been detailed. Discussion of the new ARB Architects Code, Standards of Professional Conduct and Practice which came into force in January 2010. The commentary on the RIBA Standard Form for the Appointment of an Architect 1999 SFA 99 has been updated. The latest RIBA Standard Agreement 2010 S 10 A is now discussed. All references to JCT contracts have been updated to refer to the latest revisions of the 2005 suite of contracts. Now also includes reference to education registration and CPD requirements of the Royal Institute of the Architects of Ireland. The tenth edition of The Architect in Practice will continue to provide the guidance and advice all students and practising architects need in the course of their studies and in their profession.

Using the Engineering Literature Bonnie A. Osif, 2006-08-23. The field of engineering is becoming increasingly interdisciplinary and there is an ever growing need for engineers to investigate engineering and scientific resources outside their own area of expertise. However, studies have shown that quality information finding skills often tend to be lacking in the engineering profession. Using the Engineering Literature provides a guide to the literature of engineering and science.

Built Environment and Property Management Emerald Group Publishing Limited, 2015-11-03. Built Environment and Property Management: A Focus on China and Hong Kong is a unique collection of previously published articles that identify themes that have established themselves as key trends in the field. These include the following: Public-private partnerships; China's property boom and the resulting increase in prices.

Introduction to Building Procurement Brian Greenhalgh, Graham Squires, 2011-01-11. The procurement stage of the building process is critical to the success of any building project and as such must be understood by everybody entering the industry. This book familiarises the reader with the principles and methods of the procurement of buildings starting at the most basic level.

Understanding Organisational Culture in the Construction Industry Vaughan Coffey, 2010-01-28. Using the construction industry as the subject of his research, Vaughan Coffey investigates the culture-performance link using a new measure of company performance and an evaluation of organizational culture which is largely behaviourally based
