Partners In Conflict Perceptions And Realities Of Indous Relations:

Partners in Conflict Aditi Deepak Juvekar, 1997      Global Power B. M. Jain, 2009-06-01 This book examines India as a rising global power by reevaluating its foreign policy and relations from the Nehru period to the present through an analytical framework constructed from Indian foreign policy and the processes of globalization and regionalization Global Power describes the economic scientific technological and nuclear gains that have been made by India reaffirming its status as a major actor on the international scene The book presents a fundamental reappraisal of the ever changing relationship between India and other major and regional powers paying special attention to its relationships with China and Pakistan It seeks to shed light on Indian foreign policy goals as they relate to both national and international interests all the while keeping within the context of India s multiethnic multicultural and multilingual society Book jacket      Indian Books in

Print , 2003      Engaged Democracies Kanti P. Bajpai, Amitabh Mattoo, 2000 This Book Takes Stock Of The Bilateral Relationship And Charts Course For The Future The Book Is An Essential Intellectual Guide To A Cooperative Relationship That Is Critical For The Stability Of The International System      Indian National Bibliography B. S. Kesavan, 2003-02

Research Administration and Management Elliott Kulakowski, Lynne U. Chronister, 2006 This reference text addresses the basic knowledge of research administration and anagement and includes everything from a review of research administration and the infrastructure that is necessary to support research to project development and post project plans Examples of concepts case studies a glossary of terms and acronyms and references to books journal articles monographs and federal regulations are also included      Internal Conflicts- A Four State Analysis V R Raghavan, 2013-01-03 In a new approach to conflict management and subsequent resolution instead of focusing on the causes of the conflicts alone Centre for Security Analysis CSA explored the consequences of the protracted conflicts Northeast of India Jammu and Kashmir Naxalism Myanmar Nepal and Sri Lanka to examine the way consequences undermine the states efforts to bring stability development and peace in the region Six conflict specific studies done in the four countries established the need to analyse three major issues in greater detail ethnic cultural identity political management and economic factors CSA engaged experts from India Nepal Sri Lanka and Myanmar to analyse as to how and what role the identity factor played out in each of the four countries and how their respective governments tried to politically manage the conflict and the consequences      Seminar , 2005

Internal Conflicts V R Raghavan, 2012-08-22 Internal conflicts have replaced interstate wars in the 21st century The scale and intensities of these conflicts have widened Many of these conflicts are protracted and intractable resulting in security economic and political implications not only within the country but also in neighborhood resulting in internationalization of these conflicts In many cases the consequences have turned into the causes of continuing conflicts These developments have made the resolution of internal conflicts complex and stretched the capacities of the states affected by them As the states face internal conflicts they are inclined to depend on the armed forces to curb these conflicts followed by a slew of other approaches viz development economic and political This volume comprises of papers written by a former governor and retired armed forces officials from India and Nepal who had vast experience in handling these conflicts The observations and views put forward by them provide valuable insight for policy makers academia and researchers

Consequences of Longterm Conflicts in Northeast India V R Raghavan,2013-05-01 In the case of Northeast India a number of researchers were engaged to study different and multi layered dynamics of the conflict and the consequences This is the second book that encompasses the studies presented by many researchers on different facets of this conflict Indian Naval Strategy in the Twenty-first Century James R. Holmes,Andrew C. Winner,Toshi Yoshihara,2009-04-02 This is the first academic study of India s emerging maritime strategy and offers a systematic analysis of the interplay between Western military thought and Indian maritime traditions By a quirk of historical fate Europe embarked on its Age of Discovery just as the main Asian powers were renouncing the sea ushering in centuries of Western dominance In the 21st century however Asian states are once again resuming a naval focus with both China and India dedicating some of their new found wealth to building powerful navies and coast guards and drawing up maritime strategies to govern the use of these forces The United States like the British Empire before it is attempting to manage these rising sea powers while preserving its maritime primacy This book probes how India looks at the sea what kind of strategy and seagoing forces New Delhi may craft in the coming years and how Indian leaders may use these forces It examines the material dimension but its major premise is that navies represent a physical expression of a society s history philosophical traditions and culture This book then ventures a comprehensive appraisal of Indian maritime strategy This book will be of interest to students of sea power strategic studies Indian politics and Asian Studies in general James R Holmes is an Associate Professor of Strategy at the U S Naval War College and a former U S Navy surface warfare officer Toshi Yoshihara is an Associate Professor in the Strategy and Policy Department at the Naval War College Andrew C Winner is Professor in the Strategic Research Department at the U S Naval War College

China in India's Post-Cold War Engagement with Southeast Asia Chietigj Bajpae,2022-02-17 This book examines the role of China in driving and sustaining India s post Cold War engagement with Southeast Asia In doing so it provides a unique insight into the regional dimensions of the Sino Indian relationship India launched its Look East Policy in the early 1990s as part of a concerted effort to revive the importance of Southeast Asia in the country s foreign policy agenda This study assesses the role of the China factor defined here as China s regional role which has been interpreted through the prism of the Sino Indian relationship in the inception and evolution of the policy More specifically it establishes the extent to which China has been raised as a priority in discourses of India s Look East Policy and how this has varied over time from the origins of the policy through to the most recent phase of the renamed Act East Policy Addressing the distinction between what policymakers signal in their official statements and their true or underlying motivations the book alludes to the fact that government officials may not always reflect true intentions in their official statements and it is often what is not said that may reveal more about their real motivations This is particularly relevant in the context of the Sino Indian relationship where diplomatic rhetoric often masks more competitive and confrontational aspects of the bilateral relationship An important analysis of the interplay between India's relations with Southeast Asia and China this book will be of interest to academics policymakers and students in the fields of International Relations Asian Security Southeast Asian politics and in particular Indian foreign policy the Sino Indian relationship and India's Look East Act East Policy

US-Indian Strategic Cooperation Into the 21st Century Sumit Ganguly, Andrew Scobell, Brian Shoup, 2007-01-24 In this edited book leading scholars and analysts trace the origins evolution and the current state of strategic cooperation between India and the United States the world's two largest democracies

Report on the National Workshop on Changing Contours of Indo-US Relations, 2006 Proceedings of the National Workshop on Changing contours of Indo US Relations held at Bangalore during 9-10 February 2006

Business and Government Relations D. Wayne Taylor, 1991 Asian Survey, 1974-07 State, Society and International Relations in Asia Mehdi Parvizi Amineh, 2010 In this timely volume M Parvizi Amineh brings together a multitude of studies of modern Asian postcolonial states and societies This part of the world has undergone major transitions over the past decade and is quickly becoming a major player in international policy and the global economy Grounded in the most recent scholarship State Society and International Relations in Asia covers several large scale global concerns including nationalism democratization corruption religious tension globalization and regionalization

China and India Waheguru Pal Singh Sidhu, Jing Dong Yuan, 2003 The hardline view of Sino Indian relations found in the published reports of Indian and Chinese security analysts is often at considerable odds with the more tempered opinions those same analysts express in private interviews and conversations What is the reality of the increasingly important security relationship between the two countries The authors of this new study address that question in depth Sidhu and Yuan explore a range of key issues including mutual distrust and misperception perhaps the most important factor the undemarcated border the status of Tibet and Sikkim trade the tussle over various nonproliferation treaties terrorism the regional roles of the U S and Pakistan and the impact of domestic public opinion and special interests They do see a trend toward a more pragmatic approach in Beijing and New Delhi to managing differences and broadening the agenda of common interests Nevertheless they conclude significant obstacles remain to the amicable relationship necessary for regional peace and stability posing a daunting challenge to policymakers in these two rising powers
