Correction Lines Curt Meine, 2013-04-10 The last fifteen years have been a period of dramatic change both in the world at large and within the fields of ecology and conservation The end of the Cold War the dot com boom and bust the globalizing economy and the attacks of September 11 among other events and trends have reshaped our worldview and the political environment in which we find ourselves At the same time emerging knowledge needs and opportunities have led to a rapid evolution in our understanding of the scientific foundations and social context of conservation Correction Lines is a new collection of essays from one of our most thoughtful and eloquent writers on conservation putting these recent changes into perspective and exploring the questions they raise about the past present and future of the conservation movement The essays explore interrelated themes the relationship between biological and social dimensions the historic tension between utilitarian and preservationist approaches the integration of varied cultural perspectives the enduring legacy of Aldo Leopold the contrasts and continuities between conservation and environmentalism the importance of political reform and the need to retool conservation to address twentyfirst century realities Collectively the essays assert that we have reached a critical juncture in conservation a correction line of sorts Correction Lines argues that we need a more coherent and comprehensive account of the past if we are to understand our present circumstances and move forward under unprecedented conditions Meine brings together a deep sense of history with powerful language and compelling imagery yielding new insights into the origins and development of contemporary conservation Correction Lines will help us think more clearly about the forces that have changed and are changing conservation and inspire us to address current realities and future needs

Sport Diver, 2003-06 Sport Diver, 2002-07 Sport Diver, 2002-07 Water Worlds: Human Geographies of the Ocean Kimberley Peters, 2016-02-11 Our world is a water world Seventy percent of our planet consists of ocean However geography has traditionally overlooked this vital component of the earth's composition The word geography directly translates as earth writing and in line with this definition the discipline has preoccupied itself with the study of terrestrial spaces of society and nature This book challenges human geography's preoccupation with the terrestrial investigating the terra incognita of the seas and oceans Linking to new theoretical debates shaping the geographic discipline such as affect assemblage emotion hybridity and the more than human this volume unlocks new knowledge concerning the human geographies of ocean space The book casts adrift stable bounded and fixed conceptions of space and advances geographical understanding based on the world as becoming changing mobile and processional This ontology supports the notion that the oceans are not simply fluid in a literal way but also in a conceptual sense suggesting that the seas have their own fluid natures their own capacities and agencies which are co-fabricated with social and cultural life This book features twelve chapters authored by key academics contributing to this growing field of research The book is divided into three sections including an Introduction by the editors and a foreword by Prof Philip E Steinberg the leading scholar in the field of maritime geographies The first section of the book considers the ways in which different watery spaces from the Atlantic Ocean to the Mediterranean Sea have been conceptualized theorized and known through metaphors voyages of discovery and scientific endeavour The second section examines how oceans are experienced through various activities including driving on water kayaking in water and diving under water The final section explores the relations between human life and the nature of the sea as a material mobile and more than human space

American Tuna Andrew F. Smith, 2012-08-08 In a lively account of the American tuna industry's fortunes and misfortunes over the past century a celebrated food writer relates how tuna went from being sold primarily as a fertiliser to becoming the most commonly consumed fish in the US Tuna is both the subject and the backdrop for other facets of American history

Shipwreck Modernity Steve Mentz, 2015-12-10 Shipwreck Modernity engages early modern representations of maritime disaster in order to describe the global experience of ecological crisis In the wet chaos of catastrophe sailors sought temporary security as their worlds were turned upside down Similarly writers poets and other thinkers searched for stability amid the cultural shifts that resulted from global expansion The ancient master plot of shipwreck provided a literary language for their dislocation and uncertainty Steve Mentz identifies three paradigms that expose the cultural meanings of shipwreck in historical and imaginative texts from the mid sixteenth through the early eighteenth centuries wet globalization blue ecology and shipwreck modernity The years during which the English nation and its emerging colonies began to define themselves through oceangoing expansion were also a time when maritime disaster occupied sailors poets playwrights sermon makers and many others Through coming to terms with shipwreck these figures adapted to disruptive change Traces of shipwreck ecology appear in canonical literature from Shakespeare to Donne to Defoe and also in sermons tales of survival amateur poetry and the diaries of seventeenth century English sailors The isolated islands of Bermuda and the perils of divine anger hold central places Modern sailor poets including Herman Melville serve as valuable touchstones in the effort to parse the reality and understandings of global shipwreck Offering the first ecocritical account of early modern shipwreck narratives Shipwreck Modernity reveals the surprisingly modern truths to be found in these early stories of ecological collapse     Derek Walcott's Encounter with Homer Rachel D. Friedman, 2024-03-23 Derek Walcott's Encounter with Homer puts Derek Walcott's epic poem Omeros in conversation with Homer especially the Odyssey to show how reading them against each other changes our understanding of the poems of both poets It explores Walcott's conscious use of the Odyssey and the Homeric persona of Omeros to explore his own deepening relationship with his craft and his identity as a Caribbean poet Walcott's ability to serve as the vessel of history for his people and their landscapes rests on his transformation into and self-perception as Homer's contemporary and equal Central to the project of Omeros is thus an account of his shift from a diachronic to synchronic relationship with Homer over the course of the poem his poetic persona the Poet and Homer come to occupy the same temporality and creative space By locating the poems of Walcott and Homer in a zone of vibrant and unexpected encounter Rachel Friedman demonstrates how they can be seen as mutually informing texts each made richer in the presence of the other The argument follows two intertwined thematic threads The first focuses on the poems' landscapes and seascapes and the ways in which Omeros reworks the Odyssey's affective geography While the Odyssey represents the sea as a dangerous space and valorizes life on land Walcott reverses this trajectory from sea to land bearing witness to the painful histories carried in the St Lucian soil and relocating homecoming to the space of the Caribbean Sea a space which accommodates diasporic histories and the imagining of fluid forms of emplacement The second thread focuses on Walcott's poetic persona his journey in and out of the poem and his positioning of himself as a tribal poet like Homer Central to the project of Omeros is the Poet's account of the processes by which he becomes the poet who can adequately give voice to the histories of his people and the archipelago they inhabit
