Paul,2018-09-03 As the aspirations of the two rising Asian powers collide the China India rivalry is likely to shape twenty first century international politics in the region and far beyond This volume by T V Paul and an international group of leading scholars examines whether the rivalry between the two countries that began in the 1950s will intensify or dissipate in the twenty first century The China India relationship is important to analyze because past experience has shown that when two rising great powers share a border the relationship is volatile and potentially dangerous India and China s relationship faces a number of challenges including multiple border disputes that periodically flare up division over the status of Tibet and the Dalai Lama the strategic challenge to India posed by China s close relationship with Pakistan the Chinese navy s greater presence in the Indian Ocean and the two states competition for natural resources Despite these irritants however both countries agree on issues such as global financial reforms and climate change and have much to gain from increasing trade and investment so there are reasons for optimism as well as pessimism The contributors to this volume answer the following questions What explains the peculiar contours of this rivalry What influence does accelerated globalization especially increased trade and investment have on this rivalry What impact do US China competition and China s expanding navy have on this rivalry Under what conditions will it escalate or end The China India Rivalry in the Globalization Era will be of great interest to students scholars and policymakers concerned with Indian and Chinese foreign policy and Asian security Facts and Fears James R.
