Linking Up and Reaching Out in Bangladesh Henry K. Bagazonzya, Zaid Safdar, A.K.M. Abdullah, Cecile Thioro Niang, Aneeka Rahman, 2010-01-21 The microfinance sector in Bangladesh has matured rapidly in the past 30 years and now boasts the largest number of clients in the entire world Despite these successes the day to day operations of most microcredit institutions in Bangladesh are done manually The introduction of a centralized information and communications technology ICT platform in the microfinance sector will provide further cost savings by streamlining data so that errors omissions and duplications client overlap are eliminated Moreover the introduction of a centralized ICT platform will help to ensure transparency through the standardization of information exchange and accounting mechanisms increase outreach to rural areas and integrate the largely informal microfinance sector with the formal financial system Linking Up and Reaching Out in Bangladesh shows how the establishment of a centralized microfinance platform would revolutionize the country s microfinance sector This volume will be a useful guide for practitioners policy makers and microfinance institutions around the world BISNIS Search for Partners , 1999 Created to help U S companies find business opportunities in the expanding markets of the Newly Independent States NIS of the former Soviet Union Social Transformation in Bangladesh Shahidur

Rahman, Md. Masud-All-Kamal, 2024-08-26 Social Transformation in Bangladesh explores the social political and cultural implications of the unprecedented economic development that has occurred in Bangladesh since its independence in 1971. In the 1970s Bangladesh was labelled an international basket case because of food insecurity and low levels of per capita income with high population growth and various social problems. Defying overwhelming odds however a societal transformation is underway in Bangladesh with diverse opportunities and challenges. This edited book analyses issues of inclusivity, extractivism, sustainability and equitability as it takes a look at the interconnected metamorphosis of the economy, society, culture and the environment of Bangladesh. Discussing topics from the products of post industrial society such as YouTube sensations and digital labour platforms to groups that have suffered marginalisation for decades such as the urban poor and Indigenous peoples, a wide array of scholarship and case studies are used to analyse the challenges and opportunities offered by the process of societal transformation. With insights from multidisciplinary scholars, this collection will be of great interest to those specialising in the fields of sociology, political science, anthropology, development, refugee and migrant studies, media studies, labour studies, health and indigeneity. The Bangladesh Garment Industry and the Global Supply Chain

Shahidur Rahman, 2021-06-17 This book analyzes the choices and constraints of management within the Bangladesh garment industry and how management negotiates these challenges to ensure the global garment supply chain is sustainable. Exploring the international South Asian garment industry and using middle management and the owners of Bangladeshi factories as a case study, the book assesses the limits and costs of globalization for Bangladesh and outlines the challenges of the fast fashion business model for the global market. It focusses on the changing dynamics of the entrepreneur class, how they manage factories and their experiences with Accord Alliance and the challenges of sustainability. Within these four broader themes, the author critically examines management strategies towards compliance and labour productivity, transnational governance, buyer-supplier relationships and power dynamics. This book is the first to explore management's perceptions of workers, buyers and government through an analysis of four factories which demonstrate the role of mid-level management, how supervisors treat production workers, workers' impact on innovation, welfare programmes as well as CSR policies and the impact of COVID-19. Offering new perspectives on Bangladesh's garment export industry, this book will be of interest to researchers in the field of policy studies, labour studies, South and South East Asian studies, development studies, international trade and political science. Public-Private Partnerships in ADB Education Lending, 2000-2009

Asian Development Bank, 2010-11-01 Education is a concern for all, including students, parents, communities, employers, societies and governments. All stakeholders have a role in providing education services. In this context, the operations of the Asian Development Bank (ADB) in the education sector pursue new and innovative models of education service delivery and financing. Public-private partnerships (PPPs) can contribute to improving the quality and relevance of education and to raising the cost efficiency of education delivery, including to disadvantaged groups. This report provides a review of PPP models.

supported by ADB financed education sector projects in the past decade It is part of broader analytical work being conducted by ADB on PPPs in education that will guide education sector operations in the coming years Bangladesh Gender Equality Diagnostic of Selected Sectors Asian Development Bank,2018-01-01 Over the last two decades Bangladesh has made progress in women s participation in the labor force gender parity in primary education and women s political representation Areas of concern include the high prevalence of violence against women obstacles to women s access to resources and assets unequal terms of their labor engagement and impact of their overwhelming responsibility for care work The Government of Bangladesh has made policy commitments toward gender equality and established an institutional framework to fulfill these This publication intends to support the government in its attempt to address persisting gender inequalities and gaps through a multisector approach across policies programs and projects It provides insights into gender issues in urban transport energy and skills vocational and tertiary education and gives suggestions for strengthening gender mainstreaming in projects

Tax Convention with Bangladesh Bangladesh,2005 Public-Private Partnerships in Sub-Saharan Africa James Leigland,2020-04-29 Expectations are high regarding the potential benefits of public private partnerships PPPs for infrastructure development in low income countries The development community led by the G20 the United Nations and others expects these partnerships between governments and private companies in infrastructure service provision to aid transformational mega projects as well as efforts to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals Yet PPPs have been widely used only since the 1990s and discussion of their efficacy is still dominated by best practice guidance academic studies that focus on developed countries or ideological criticism Meanwhile practitioners have quietly accumulated a large body of empirical evidence on the actual performance of PPPs The purpose of this book is to summarize and consolidate what this critical mass of evidence based research indicates about PPPs in low income countries and thereby develop a more realistic perspective on the practical value of these mechanisms With a primary focus on Sub Saharan Africa though drawing on critical insights from other regions it demonstrates that the benefits of such partnerships will only be realised if expectations remain modest and projects are subject to transparent evaluation and competition Marketing in Bangladesh John J.
