Parallel Journeys Larry Lachman,Ric Masten,2003-03      The Guernsey Literary and Potato Peel Pie Society Mary Ann Shaffer,Annie Barrows,2009-06-01 A celebration of literature love and the power of the human spirit this warm funny tender and thoroughly entertaining novel is the story of an English author living in the shadow of World War II and the writing project that will dramatically change her life Public metadata view summary      Education for Life and Work National Research Council,Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education,Board on Science Education,Board on Testing and Assessment,Committee on Defining Deeper Learning and 21st Century Skills,2013-01-18 Americans have long recognized that investments in public education contribute to the common good enhancing national prosperity and supporting stable families neighborhoods and communities Education is even more critical today in the face of economic environmental and social challenges Today s children can meet future challenges if their schooling and informal learning activities prepare them for adult roles as citizens employees managers parents volunteers and entrepreneurs To achieve their full potential as adults young people need to develop a range of skills and knowledge that facilitate mastery and application of English mathematics and other school subjects At the same time business and political leaders are increasingly asking schools to develop skills such as problem solving critical thinking communication collaboration and self management often referred to as 21st century skills Education for Life and Work Developing Transferable Knowledge and Skills in the 21st Century describes this important set of key skills that increase deeper learning college and career readiness student centered learning and higher order thinking These labels include both cognitive and non cognitive skills such as critical thinking problem solving collaboration effective communication motivation persistence and learning to learn 21st century skills also include creativity innovation and ethics that are important to later success and may be developed in formal or informal learning environments This report also describes how these skills relate to each other and to more traditional academic skills and content in the key disciplines of reading mathematics and science Education for Life and Work Developing Transferable Knowledge and Skills in the 21st Century summarizes the findings of the research that investigates the importance of such skills to success in education work and other areas of adult responsibility and that demonstrates the importance of developing these skills in K 16 education In this report features related to learning these skills are identified which include teacher professional development curriculum assessment after school and out of school programs and informal learning centers such as exhibits and museums      Evvie Drake Starts Over: A Read with Jenna Pick Linda Holmes,2020-06-02 NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER Read with Jenna Book Club Pick as Featured on Today Everything a romantic comedy should be witty relatable and a little complicated People A heartfelt debut about the unlikely relationship between a young woman who s lost her husband and a major league pitcher who s lost his game NAMED ONE OF THE BEST BOOKS OF THE YEAR BY NPR In a sleepy seaside town in Maine recently widowed Eveleth Evvie Drake rarely leaves her large painfully empty house nearly a year after her husband's death in a car crash. Everyone in town, even her best friend Andy, thinks grief keeps her locked inside, and Evvie doesn't correct them. Meanwhile, in New York City, Dean Tenney, former Major League pitcher and Andy's childhood best friend, is wrestling with what miserable athletes living out their worst nightmares call the yips: he can't throw straight anymore, and even worse, he can't figure out why. As the media storm heats up, an invitation from Andy to stay in Maine seems like the perfect chance to hit the reset button on Dean's future. When he moves into an apartment at the back of Evvie's house, the two make a deal: Dean won't ask about Evvie's late husband, and Evvie won't ask about Dean's baseball career. Rules, though, have a funny way of being broken, and what starts as an unexpected friendship soon turns into something more. To move forward, Evvie and Dean will have to reckon with their pasts, the friendships they've damaged, the secrets they've kept, but in life, as in baseball, there's always a chance up until the last out. A joyful, hilarious, and hope-filled debut, Evvie Drake Starts Over will have you cheering for the two most unlikely comebacks of the year and will leave you wanting more from Linda Holmes. Praise for Evvie Drake Starts Over: A quirky, sweet, and splendid story of a woman coming into her own. Taylor Jenkins Reid, New York Times bestselling author of Daisy Jones & The Six. Effortlessly enjoyable, a pitch-perfect adult love story that is as romantic as it is real. USA Today. Charming, hopeful, and gently romantic. Evvie Drake is great company. Rainbow Rowell, 1, New York Times bestselling author of Eleanor & Park.

Parting Jennifer Sutton Holder, Jann Aldredge-Clanton, 2009-11-30. At times we may be called to be companions on a journey we would rather not take: the journey of a loved one toward the end of life. For those who choose to serve as close companions of terminally ill relatives or friends, Parting offers the collective wisdom of people from many cultures and faith traditions as a travel guide for meaningful companionship, helping someone toward a peaceful transition from this life. Sections of the book discuss how to cross the bridge from ordinary conversation to spiritual reflection, how to provide comforts for the body, mind, and soul, and how to care for yourself while concentrating on the needs of another. Transcending any specific religion or culture, this handbook addresses universal spiritual needs. Designed for easy reading by weary travelers, this practical, pocket-sized guide prepares the spiritual companion for an enriching experience, even on the journey toward life's end. It is an indispensable tool for family members and friends, hospice workers, religious leaders, counselors, and medical providers. Four Paws, Five Directions Cheryl M. Schwartz, 1996. Suitable for animal lovers seeking an alternative to Western medicine and students of veterinary science, this book places special emphasis on uncomplicated approaches to acupuncture and diet that can be done by the reader at home. The book's colour portraits, which accurately chart the meridians and acupuncture points. The Conduct of Life Ralph Waldo Emerson, 1884. Humanitarian Military Intervention Taylor B. Seybolt, 2007. Military intervention in a conflict without a reasonable prospect of success is unjustifiable, especially when it is done in the name of humanity. Couched in the debate on the responsibility to protect civilians from violence and drawing on traditional just war principles, the central premise of this book is that humanitarian military intervention can be justified as a policy option only if decision makers can be reasonably sure that intervention will do more good than harm This book asks Have past humanitarian military interventions been successful It defines success as saving lives and sets out a methodology for estimating the number of lives saved by a particular military intervention Analysis of 17 military operations in six conflict areas that were the defining cases of the 1990s northern Iraq after the Gulf War Somalia Bosnia and Herzegovina Rwanda Kosovo and East Timor shows that the majority were successful by this measure In every conflict studied however some military interventions succeeded while others failed raising the question Why have some past interventions been more successful than others This book argues that the central factors determining whether a humanitarian intervention succeeds are the objectives of the intervention and the military strategy employed by the intervening states Four types of humanitarian military intervention are offered helping to deliver emergency aid protecting aid operations saving the victims of violence and defeating the perpetrators of violence The focus on strategy within these four types allows an exploration of the political and military dimensions of humanitarian intervention and highlights the advantages and disadvantages of each of the four types Humanitarian military intervention is controversial Scepticism is always in order about the need to use military force because the consequences can be so dire Yet it has become equally controversial not to intervene when a government subjects its citizens to massive violation of their basic human rights This book recognizes the limits of humanitarian intervention but does not shy away from suggesting how military force can save lives in extreme circumstances

Lazarus, Bernice N. Lazarus, 1994-11-03 When Oxford published Emotion and Adaptation the landmark 1991 book on the psychology of emotion by internationally acclaimed stress and coping expert Richard Lazarus Contemporary Psychology welcomed it as a brightly shining star in the galaxy of such volumes Psychiatrists psychologists and researchers hailed it as a masterpiece a major breakthrough in our understanding of the emotional process and its central role in our adaptation as individuals and as a species What was still needed however was a book for general readers and health care practitioners that would dispel the myths still surrounding cultural beliefs about emotion and systematically explain the relevance of the new research to the emotional dramas of our everyday lives Now in Passion and Reason Lazarus draws on his four decades of pioneering research to bring readers the first book to move beyond both clinical jargon and feel good popular psychology to really explain in plain accessible language how emotions are aroused how they are managed and how they critically shape our views of ourselves and the world around us With his co author writer Bernice Lazarus Dr Lazarus explores the latest findings on the short and long term causes and effects of various emotions including the often conflicting research on stress management and links between negative emotions and heart disease cancer and other aspects of physical and psychological health Lazarus makes a strong case that contrary to common assumption emotions are not irrational our emotions and our analytical thought processes are inextricably linked While not a how to book Passion and Reason does describe how readers can interpret what lies behind their own emotions and those of their families friends and co workers and how to manage them more effectively Exploring fifteen emotions in depth from love to jealousy the authors show how the personal meaning we give to the events and conditions of our lives trigger such emotions as anger anxiety guilt and pride They provide fascinating vignettes to frame a biography of each emotion Some are composite case histories drawn from Dr Lazarus s long career but most are stories of people the Lazaruses have known over the years people whose emotional fears conflicts and desires mirror readers own The Lazaruses also offer a special chapter on the diverse strategies of coping people use in managing their emotions and another When Coping Fails on psychotherapy and its approaches to emotional stress and dysfunction from traditional Freudian psychoanalysis to continuing research into relaxation techniques meditation hypnosis and biofeedback Packed with insight and compellingly readable Passion and Reason will enrich all readers fascinated by our emotional lives
