The Sea Ranch Donlyn Lyndon, James Alinder, Donald Canty, Lawrence Halprin, 2004 Recognized for its environmentally sensitive planning and architecture the Sea Ranch community is located on the Californian Sonoma Coast Heavily illustrated this volume uses photographs and plans to portray the people and buildings and reveal the community's success as an environmental experiment

Iconic Planned Communities and the Challenge of Change Mary Corbin Sies, Isabelle Gournay, Robert Freestone, 2019-08-23 In the history of planning the design of an entire community prior to its construction is among the oldest traditions Iconic Planned Communities and the Challenge of Change explores the twenty first century fortunes of planned communities around the world Drawing on interdisciplinary perspectives the editors and contributors examine what happened to planned communities after their glory days had passed and they became vulnerable to pressures of growth change and even decline Beginning with Robert Owen s industrial village in Scotland and concluding with Robert Davis s neotraditional resort haven in Florida this book documents the effort to translate optimal design into sustaining a common life that works for changing circumstances and new generations of residents Basing their approach on historical research and practical on the ground considerations the essayists argue that preservation efforts succeed best when they build upon foundational planning principles address landscape architecture and social engineering together and respect the spirit of place Presenting twenty three case studies located in six continents each contributor considers how to preserve the spirit of the community and its key design elements and the ways in which those elements can be adapted to contemporary circumstances and changing demographics Iconic Planned Communities and the Challenge of Change espouses strategies to achieve critical resilience and emphasizes the vital connection between heritage preservation equitable sharing of the benefits of living in these carefully designed places and sustainable development Communities Bat ovany Partiz nske Cit Frug s Colonel Light Gardens Den en Ch fu Garbatella Greenbelt Hampstead Garden Suburb Jardim Am rica Letchworth Garden City Menteng New Lanark Pacaemb Radburn Riverside R merstadt Sabaudia Seaside Soweto Sunnyside Gardens Tapiola The Uplands Welwyn Garden City Wythenshawe Contributors Arnold R Alanen Carlos Roberto Monteiro de Andrade Sandra Annunziata Robert Freestone Christine Garnaut Isabelle Gournay Michael Hebbert Susan R Henderson James Hopkins Steven W Hurtt Alena Kubova Gauch Jean Fran ois Lejeune Maria Cristina a Silva Leme Larry McCann Mervyn Miller John Minnery Angel David Nieves John J Pittari Jr Gilles Ragot David Schuyler Mary Corbin Sies Christopher Silver Andr Sorensen R Bruce Stephenson Shun ichi J Watanabe

Designing Community David Walters, 2007-06-01 Greenfield sites around towns and cities and redevelopment infill sites in existing urban areas often become battlegrounds between the conflicting interests of developers and communities In America design charrettes intensive design and planning workshops have become widely used as a means of bringing together these divergent groups using detailed design exercises to establish agreement around a development masterplan Despite the increasing frequency of their use charrettes are widely misunderstood and can be misapplied This book provides a detailed guidance on the proper and most effective ways to use this helpful tool The book combines charrette masterplanning with the creation of design based codes also known as form based codes to control the development s implementation in line with the design and planning principles established during the charrette process

Design First David Walters, Linda Brown, 2012-08-06 Well grounded in the history and theory of Anglo American urbanism this illustrated textbook sets out objectives policies and design principles for planning new communities and redeveloping existing urban neighborhoods Drawing from their extensive experience the authors explain how better plans and consequently better places can be created by applying the three dimensional principles of urban design and physical place making to planning problems Design First uses case studies from the authors own professional projects to demonstrate how theory can be turned into effective practice using concepts of traditional urban form to resolve contemporary planning and design issues in American communities The book is aimed at architects planners developers planning commissioners elected officials and citizens and importantly students of architecture and planning with the objective of reintegrating three dimensional design firmly back into planning practice The Emancipatory City? Loretta Lees,2004-08-31 The Emancipatory City is a wonderful addition to a growing literature on the public culture of the city In these spaces tolerance and intolerance difference and indifference transgressions resistances and playful spontaneity erupt to give texture to urban life The book broadens our gaze and deepens our understanding of how cities enable people to express themselves and be free Robert A Beauregard New School University New York Who are cities for What kinds of societies might they most democratically embody And how can cities be emancipatory sites The ambivalent status of urban space in terms of emancipation democratisation justice and citizenship is central to recent work in urban geography new cultural geography critical geography and postmodern planning as well as literature on urban social justice public space and the politics of identity Seeking alternative and progressive visions of the emancipatory city through an exploration of the tensions and possibilities between the freedoms and constraints offered by the city the authors of The Emancipatory City build on this wealth of current perspectives to present a critical analysis of urban experience The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Architectural History Duanfang Lu,2023-07-31 The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Architectural History offers a comprehensive and up to date knowledge report on recent developments in architectural production and research Divided into three parts Practices Interrogations and Innovations this book charts diversity criticality and creativity in architectural interventions to meet challenges and enact changes in different parts of the world through featured exemplars and fresh theoretical orientations The collection features 29 chapters written by leading architectural scholars and highlights the reciprocity between the historical and the contemporary research and practice and disciplinary and professional knowledge Providing an essential map for navigating the complex currents of contemporary architecture the Companion will interest students academics and practitioners who wish to bolster their understanding of built environments Architectural Record ,1996 Shaping the Sierra Timothy P. Duane,1999-06-30 The rural west is at a crossroads and the Sierra Nevada is at the center of this social and economic change The Sierra Nevada landscape has always been valued for its bounty of natural resource commodities but new residents and an ever growing flood of tourists to the area have transformed the relationship between the region s nature and its culture In an engaging narrative that melds the personal with the professional Timothy P Duane who grew up in the area documents the impact of rapid population growth on the culture economy and ecology of the Sierra Nevada since the late 1960s He also recommends innovative policies for mitigating the negative effects of future population growth in this spectacular but threatened region as well as throughout the rural west Today the primary social and economic values of the Sierra Nevada landscape are in the amenities and ecological services provided by its wildlands and functioning ecosystems Duane shows how further unfettered population growth threatens the very values which have made the Sierra Nevada a desirable place to live and work A new approach to land use planning resource management and local economic development one that recognizes the emerging values of the landscape is necessary in order to achieve sustainable development Duane claims Weaving personal experience with outstanding scholarship he shows how such an approach must explicitly recognize the importance of values and the application of an environmental land ethic to future development in the area Virtual Geographies Mike Crang, Phil Crang, Jon May, 2013-04-15 This book examines the interrelationship between telecommunications and tourism in shaping the nature of space place and the urban at the end of the twentieth century They discuss how these agents are instrumental in the production of homogenous world spaces and how these in turn presuppose new kinds of political and cultural identity Virtual Geographies explores how new communication technologies are being used to produce new geographies and new types of space Leading contributors from a wide range of disciplines including geography sociology philosophy and literature investigate how visions of cyberspace have been constructed offer a critical assessment of the status of virtual environments and geographies explore how virtual environments reshape the way we think and write about the world This book sets recent technological developments in a historical and geographical perspective to offer a clearer view of the new vistas ahead book centers on a philosophical analysis of creative acts at the Burning Man Festival and their roles in wider social change. With particular focus on the Ten Principles of Burning Man, Linda Noveroske Tritten posits a re-interpretation of common notions of self and other as they apply to identity, difference, and the ways that these personal impulses ripple outward from changing individuals into changing societies. Such radical re-imagining of ideology can be most powerful when it occurs in spaces of otherness or heterotopia. This study casts Burning Man as a heterotopia not only to destabilize what we think we know about visual art performance and creative encounters but also to bring these acts into an attitude of immediacy that facilitates previously unimagined behavior and opens out artistic drive into the unknown. This book would be of value for scholars and practitioners in Performance Studies, Theatre and Dance, Art History, Psychology, Phenomenology, Humanities, Architecture, and Urban Studies.

Designing a Place Called Home James Wentling, 2016-12-28. This insightful volume shares design ideas to help builders, planners, and architects create mass-produced, affordable housing that pushes suburban development in more sustainable, liveable directions. The author argues that improving the quality of design in our new homes and communities for greater resiliency, sustainability, and equality, we can build neighborhoods and communities where residents feel more connected to their homes and to one another. Through text, photographs, and illustrations, the book reviews prototypical American housing design, then suggests ways to both learn from the past as well as adapt for new environmental imperatives, demographic changes, and lifestyle needs. Written by a practicing architect with 25 years of experience optimizing residential design, this pioneering approach to suburban building will inspire readers to view mass-produced housing through a new modern lens.

Design Book Review, 1996

Baby-boom Daydreams Douglas Bourgeois, Dan Cameron, Estill Curtis Pennington, David S. Rubin, 2003. This monograph features the work of Douglas Bourgeois, a figurative artist whose meticulously detailed paintings and sculptural assemblages present icons of popular culture as well as ordinary people from Louisiana's diverse populations. Bourgeois' work often portrays religious imagery and environmental concerns and the political issues expressed in the rock and roll and movies he loves. He fuses private fantasy with a kind of social document exploring everything from racial tensions to violence, both domestic and public. The artist, like the figures he depicts, searches for magic or spiritual qualities in everyday life. Ultimately, he and his art seek redemption.

The Human Shore John R. Gillis, 2015-11-17. Since before recorded history, people have congregated near water. But as growing populations around the globe continue to flow toward the coasts on an unprecedented scale and climate change raises water levels, our relationship to the sea has begun to take on new and potentially catastrophic dimensions. The latest generation of coastal dwellers lives largely in ignorance of the history of those who came before them, the natural environment, and the need to live sustainably on the world's shores. Humanity has forgotten how to live with the oceans. In The Human Shore, a magisterial account of 100,000 years of seaside civilization, John R. Gillis recovers the coastal experience from its origins among the people who dwelled along the African shore to the bustle and glitz of today's megacities and beach resorts He takes readers from discussion of the possible coastal location of the Garden of Eden to the ancient communities that have existed along beaches bays and bayous since the beginning of human society to the crucial role played by coasts during the age of discovery and empire An account of the mass movement of whole populations to the coasts in the last half century brings the story of coastal life into the present Along the way Gillis addresses humankind s changing relationship to the sea from an environmental perspective laying out the history of the making and remaking of coastal landscapes the creation of ports the draining of wetlands the introduction and extinction of marine animals and the invention of the beach while giving us a global understanding of our relationship to the water Learned and deeply personal The Human Shore is more than a history it is the story of a space that has been central to the attitudes plans and existence of those who live and dream at land s end Urban Design Update ,1991 Fine Homebuilding ,1997
