Paratroopers Odyssey:

Paratroopers' Odyssey, 1985 US World War II Parachute Infantry Regiments Gordon L. Rottman, 2014-01-20 The parachute infantry regiments were among the most highly decorated US Army units of World War II and between them they saw action right across the world The elite nature of these units led to them being committed to action not only in the way that had been intended their quality tempted commanders to keep them in the line longer than their light armament justified and they were tested to the limit This engaging study traces the story of each of the 17 regiments from their creation and training in the USA through their deployments overseas to their combat jumps and all their battles The book is illustrated with wartime photographs many previously unpublished and eight full colour plates detailing the specifics of their uniforms insignia and equipment practices which often differed from unit to unit 517th Parachute Regimental Combat Team, 1998 Messengers of the Lost Battalion Gregory Orfalea, 2010-05-11 The author of Before the Flames and the son of a member of the ill fated infantry battalion discusses America's 551st Battalion and their heroic little known role during World War II's Battle of the Bulge The Riviera at War George G. Kundahl, 2017-05-30 During World War II three distinct forces opposed the Allies Germany Italy and Japan Few areas of the world experienced domination by more than a single one of these but southeastern France the region popularly known as the Riviera or Cote d Azur was one Not only did inhabitants suffer through Italian Fascism and German Nazism but also under a third hardship at times even more oppressive the rule of Vichy France Following a nine month prelude the reality of World War II burst onto the Riviera in June 1940 when the region had to defend itself against the Italian army and ended in April 1945 with a battle against German and Italian forces in April 1945 a period longer than any other part of France In this book George G Kundahl tells for the first time the full story of World War II on the French Riviera Featuring previously unseen sources and photographs this will be essential reading for anyone interested in wartime France US Airborne Units in the Mediterranean Theater 1942-44 Gordon L. Rottman, 2013-07-20 This book is the first of three to examine the genesis organization and operational deployment of the US airborne divisions in World War II It discusses early airborne units detailing how and why they were formed Task organization for combat details of attached units tactics and weapons and equipment are examined together with command relationships The units discussed in this book include the 82d Airborne Division 1st Special Service Force 517th Parachute Regimental Combat Team and 1st Airborne Task Force and the operations in North Africa Sicily the Italian mainland and in southern France are covered The Lost Paratroopers of Normandy Stephen G. Rabe, 2022-11-10 The fateful days and weeks surrounding 6 June 1944 have been extensively documented in histories of the Second World War but less attention has been paid to the tremendous impact of these events on the populations nearby The Lost Paratroopers of Normandy tells the inspiring yet heartbreaking story of ordinary people who did extraordinary things in defense of liberty and freedom On D Day when transport planes dropped paratroopers from the 82nd and 101st Airborne Divisions hopelessly off target into marshy waters in northwestern France the 900 villagers of Graignes welcomed them with open arms These villagers predominantly women provided food gathered intelligence and navigated the floods to retrieve the paratroopers equipment at great risk to themselves When the attack by German forces on 11 June forced the overwhelmed paratroopers to withdraw many made it to safety thanks to the help and resistance of the villagers In this moving book historian Stephen G Rabe son of one of the paratroopers meticulously documents the forgotten lives of those who participated in this integral part of D Day history

Going for Broke James M. McCaffrey, 2013-04-30 When Japanese forces attacked Pearl Harbor on December 7 1941 Americans reacted with revulsion and horror In the patriotic war fever that followed thousands of volunteers including Japanese Americans rushed to military recruitment centers Except for those in the Hawaii National Guard who made up the 100th Infantry Battalion the U S Army initially turned Japanese American prospects away Then as a result of anti Japanese fearmongering on the West Coast more than 100 000 Americans of Japanese descent were sent to confinement in inland relocation centers Most were natural born citizens their only crime their ethnicity After the army eventually decided it would admit the second generation Japanese American Nisei volunteers it complemented the 100th Infantry Battalion by creating the 442nd Regimental Combat Team This mostly Japanese American unit consisted of soldiers drafted before Pearl Harbor volunteers from Hawaii and even recruits from the relocation centers In Going for Broke historian James M McCaffrey traces these men s experiences in World War II from training to some of the deadliest combat in Europe Weaving together the voices of numerous soldiers McCaffrey tells of the men s frustrations and achievements on the U S mainland and abroad Training in Mississippi the recruits from Hawaii and the mainland have their first encounter with southern style black white segregation Once in action they helped push the Germans out of Italy and France The 442nd would go on to become one of the most highly decorated units in the U S Army McCaffrey s account makes clear that like other American soldiers in World War II the Nisei relied on their personal determination social values and training to go for broke to bet everything even their lives Ultimately their bravery and patriotism in the face of prejudice advanced racial harmony and opportunities for Japanese Americans after the war

The Bloody Forest Gerald Astor, 2010-06-02 The definitive account of one of World War II s bloodiest campaigns the five month battle between American and German forces in the Huertgen Forest told through the words of the men who were there From the preface In the course of research and interviews while writing a series of books on World War II I became increasingly aware of the campaign for the Huertgen Forest While survivors of other battles sometimes criticized the strategy and the orders they were given there was a depth of anger about the Huertgen that surpassed anything I had encountered elsewhere The unhappiness with what occurred and the absence of much objective coverage in the memoirs of those in the top command slots convinced me to produce this history As I have reiterated in all of my books which rely heavily on oral or eyewitness reports there are always the dangers of flawed memory limited vantage points and the possibility of self interest in such accounts But the almost universal condemnation of their superiors critical decisions by individuals who were under fire in that green hell offers a cautionary note on the accuracy and the truths of histories that draw from the official documents and the personal papers of the likes of Dwight Eisenhower Omar Bradley Courtney Hodges who apparently left little in the way of records J Lawton Collins and others in similar positions Each new war differs from that of the past but to ignore what happened in the Huertgen enhances the possibilities for another bitter victory if not a defeat Major General Melvin Zais And Hamburger Hill Major Kelly Owen Carl Boian,2014-08-15 Includes 14 maps and diagrams Major General Melvin Zais a second generation Russian American orchestrated the battle between the 29th Regiment of the People s Army of Vietnam and the 101st Airborne Division around Dong Ap Bia Hamburger Hill Vietnam General Zais focused operations on and around Hamburger Hill to prevent build up of men weapons and supplies in the A Shau Valley which would have allowed for VC and NVA forces to conduct another Tet Offensive As General Zais developed the situation in Thau Thien Province similarities can be drawn to an offensive he assisted in coordinating within southern France in World War II This familiarity in size of terrain enemy presence and friendly tactical actions assisted Zais in his understanding of the situation and conducting continuous assaults up the 937 meters of Dong Ap Bia to destroy the 29th Regiment of the People s Army of Vietnam and prevent the perceived threat of another Tet Offensive Battling Buzzards Gerald Astor,1993 The 517th Regimental Parachute Combat Team collected one Congressional Medal of Honor six Distinguished Service Crosses three Legion of Merits 126 Silver Stars and almost 400 Bronze Stars This collection of survivors stories comes from new interviews and previously unpublished diaries journals and official documents Photos Maps 82nd Airborne Division ,1988-06-15 Celebrating the 60th Anniversary of the 82nd Airborne Division this beautiful book heralds those who fought for their country and those who paid the ultimate price Follow the All American Division from activation in 1917 to campaigns in St Mihiel Anzio Normandy Holland Vietnam Grenada Panama and Iraq Includes more than 700 biographies and photos of 82nd Airborne veterans personal stories Medal of Honor recipients hundreds of photos an index and more The Making of a Paratrooper Kurt Gabel,2015-08-07 The memoir of paratrooper Kurt Gabel a German Jew who emigrated to the US in 1938 joined the 513th Regiment of the 17th Airborne Division and fought against his former countrymen in the Battle of the Bulge Gabel conveys with rare immediacy an in depth look at the training of a paratrooper the dangers of combat and his transformation from romantic idealist to warrior He vividly recounts the fire fights and such episodes as narrow escapes separation from his battalion and his rescue by another and the interrogation of prisoners He tells the full story of his desperate hours on Dead Man s Ridge near Bastogne Beyond Valor Patrick K. Four Flags: the Odyssey of a Professional Soldier. Part 2 Dave Barr,2017-03-15 Dave Barr knew from 12 years old he wanted to be a Marine Following a series of menial jobs including working at a shoe shiner in a barber s shop and in service stations at 17 he joined the Marines before shipping out to Vietnam This was his dream come true flying as a helicopter gunner and he ended the war with an impressive 57 Air Medals one Air Medal for every 20 combat missions After leaving the Marines like many veterans Dave found it hard to hold down a good job and stay out of trouble It was then that he read about Israel Always looking for a rush Dave learnt to skydive before deciding to take his chances emigrating illegally to Israel He was inducted into the Israeli Army and then the Paratroopers where the training was difficult involving long tough marches as well as learning Hebrew After serving his time he left Israel and back in the USA Dave was stuck in a rut and ready for his next adventure This is the second volume of Dave s memoirs Just as rich and colourful an account as the first instalment the book portrays a professional soldier s view of the sharp end of war Following on from his time in the Israeli Army paratroopers Dave travelled to Rhodesia and fought alongside the Rhodesian Light Infantry His next assignment was with the South African Defence Force in operations in South West Africa and Angola Then came the fateful day and near fatal injuries as a result of a land mine explosion Almost a year later following 20 operations and Dave was finally allowed back onto active duty and doing what he did best being a soldier The Killing Fields of Provence James Bourhill,2020-02-19 A history of the German occupation of France during World War II the French resistance and ultimately the nation s liberation In the south of France the most memorable event of World War II was the sea and airborne invasion of August 15 1944 Perhaps because it went relatively smoothly this Second D Day was soon relegated to the back pages of history Operation Dragoon and the liberation are however only a small part of the story The arrival of the Allies was preceded by years of suffering and sacrifice under Hitler and Vichy's oppression. Provençal people still struggle to come to terms with the painful past of split allegiances and empty stomachs that epitomize les années noires, the dark years. Deportations, requisitions, forced labor and hunger provoked resistance by a courageous minority. Many actively colluded with the enemy but most just waited for better days. By sea and air, Allied agents and special forces were infiltrated to fan the flames but wherever the Resistance arose prematurely, the reprisals from the Nazis and their auxiliaries were ferocious. In every corner of Provence, one can find words chipped into stone: Passant souviens-toi (passer by, remember). It is hard to imagine such cruelty could have existed here less than one generation ago. These memories here tell a story of duplicity, defiance and ultimately deliverance. Whether the stuff of legends or the experiences of everyday humans, humanity is used to explain the Franco-American experience of wartime Provence as seen through an Anglo-Saxon prism. A complete and well-researched study of the French Resistance groups, Allied agents and Special Forces operating against the Germans in the South of France. Firetrench.
