Committee for the Study of Health Consequences of the Stress of Bereavement, 1994 Death of a Parent Debra Umberson, 2003-04-28 When a parent dies most adults are seized by an unexpected crisis that can trigger a profound transformation Using in depth interviews and national surveys Dr Umberson explains why the death of a parent has strong effects on adults and looks at protective factors that help some individuals experience better mental health following the death than they did when the parent was alive This is the first book to rely on sound scientific method to document the significant adverse effects of parental death for adults in a national population Exploring the social and psychological risk factors that make some people more vulnerable than others readers will come to view the loss of a parent in a new way as a turning point in adult development Psychopathology and the Family Jennifer Hudson, Ron Rapee, 2005-10-11 Understanding the factors that place an individual at greater risk of developing psychopathology has important implications for both treatment and prevention of psychological disorders Of critical relevance in this regard is the exploration of the potential influence of the family Parenting and the family environment are considered to significantly contribute to a child s early development and adjustment It follows then that parental behavior may also be of importance in the development maintenance and or the prevention of psychopathology Over the past 50 years there has been a considerable amount of research as well as controversy surrounding the link between parenting and psychopathology The purpose of this book is to provide researchers and clinicians with state of the art research findings presented by experts in the field on the role of the family in the development and maintenance of psychopathology This edited book is divided into 3 sections The first addresses broader issues of theory and methodology and the second provides separate chapters relating to the role of the family in the development and maintenance of specific psychopathologies A final section discusses the involvement of the family in treatment and prevention Developmental Psychopathology Amanda Venta, Carla Sharp, Peter Fonagy, Jack M.
