Parenting And Teaching Young Children:

Parenting Matters National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Board on Children, Youth, and Families, Committee on Supporting the Parents of Young Children, 2016-11-21 Decades of research have demonstrated that the parent child dyad and the environment of the family which includes all primary caregivers are at the foundation of children's well being and healthy development From birth children are learning and rely on parents and the other caregivers in their lives to protect and care for them The impact of parents may never be greater than during the earliest years of life when a child's brain is rapidly developing and when nearly all of her or his experiences are created and shaped by parents and the family environment Parents help children build and refine their knowledge and skills charting a trajectory for their health and well being during childhood and beyond The experience of parenting also impacts parents themselves For instance parenting can enrich and give focus to parents lives generate stress or calm and create any number of emotions including feelings of happiness sadness fulfillment and anger Parenting of young children today takes place in the context of significant ongoing developments These include a rapidly growing body of science on early childhood increases in funding for programs and services for families changing demographics of the U S population and greater diversity of family structure Additionally parenting is increasingly being shaped by technology and increased access to information about parenting Parenting Matters identifies parenting knowledge attitudes and practices associated with positive developmental outcomes in children ages 0-8 universal preventive and targeted strategies used in a variety of settings that have been effective with parents of young children and that support the identified knowledge attitudes and practices and barriers to and facilitators for parents use of practices that lead to healthy child outcomes as well as their participation in effective programs and services This report makes recommendations directed at an array of stakeholders for promoting the wide scale adoption of effective programs and services for parents and on areas that warrant further research to inform policy and practice It is meant to serve as a roadmap for the future of parenting policy research and practice in the United States

Transforming the Workforce for Children Birth Through Age 8

National Research Council, Institute of Medicine, Board on Children, Youth, and Families, Committee on the Science of Children Birth to Age 8: Deepening and Broadening the Foundation for Success, 2015-07-23 Children are already learning at birth and they develop and learn at a rapid pace in their early years This provides a critical foundation for lifelong progress and the adults who provide for the care and the education of young children bear a great responsibility for their health development and learning Despite the fact that they share the same objective to nurture young children and secure their future success the various practitioners who contribute to the care and the education of children from birth through age 8 are not acknowledged as a workforce unified by the common knowledge and competencies needed to do their jobs well Transforming the Workforce for Children Birth Through Age 8 explores the science of child development particularly looking at implications for the professionals who work with children This report examines the current capacities and practices of the workforce the settings in which they work the policies and infrastructure that set qualifications and provide professional learning and the government agencies and other funders who support and oversee these systems This book then makes recommendations to improve the quality of professional practice and the practice environment for care and education professionals These detailed recommendations create a blueprint for action that builds on a unifying foundation of child development and early learning shared knowledge and competencies for care and education professionals and principles for effective professional learning Young children thrive and learn best when they have secure positive relationships with adults who are knowledgeable about how to support their development and learning and are responsive to their individual progress Transforming the Workforce for Children Birth Through Age 8 offers guidance on system changes to improve the quality of professional practice specific actions to improve professional learning systems and workforce development and research to continue to build the knowledge base in ways that will directly advance and inform future actions The recommendations of this book provide an opportunity to improve the quality of the care and the education that children receive and ultimately improve outcomes for children

Powerful Interactions Amy Laura Dombro, Judy Jablon, Charlotte Stetson, 2020 In early childhood settings children and teachers interact all day long The benefits are enormous when even some of those everyday interactions become intentional purposeful and culturally responsive in other words Powerful Interactions With these three steps you can embed Powerful Interactions in your daily work with children from birth through age 8 Step One Be Present Pause tune in to yourself and the moment and consider how you might need to adjust to create a just right fit with a child Step Two Connect To foster trust and confidence let that child know that you see her are interested in what she is doing saying and thinking and want to spend time with her Step Three Extend Learning Make use of your strong connection with the child to stretch her knowledge skills thinking or language and vocabulary With updated content and research new examples and insights and questions to guide group study discussions the new edition of this bestselling classic covers everything you need to understand what Powerful Interactions are how to make them happen and why they are so important in increasing children s learning and your effectiveness as a teacher Discover how Powerful Interactions and you make a difference

Funds of Knowledge Norma Gonzalez, Luis C. Moll, Cathy Amanti, 2006-04-21 The concept of funds of knowledge is based on a simple premise people are competent and have knowledge and their life experiences have given them that knowledge The claim in this book is that first hand research experiences with families allow one to document this competence and knowledge and that such engagement provides many possibilities for positive pedagogical actions Drawing from both Vygotskian and neo sociocultural perspectives in designing a methodology that views the everyday practices of language and action as constructing knowledge the funds of knowledge approach facilitates a systematic and powerful way to represent communities in terms of the resources they possess and how to harness them for classroom teaching This book accomplishes three objectives It gives readers the basic methodology and techniques followed in the contributors funds of knowledge research it extends the boundaries of what these researchers have done and it explores the applications to classroom practice that can result from teachers knowing the communities in which they work In a time when national educational discourses focus on system reform and wholesale replicability across school sites this book offers a counter perspective stating that instruction must be linked to students lives and that details of effective pedagogy should be linked to local histories and community contexts This approach should not be confused with parent participation programs although that is often a fortuitous consequence of the work described It is also not an attempt to teach parents how to do school although that could certainly be an outcome if the parents so desired Instead the funds of knowledge approach attempts to accomplish something that may be even more challenging to alter the perceptions of working class or poor communities by viewing their households primarily in terms of their strengths and resources their defining pedagogical characteristics Funds of Knowledge Theorizing Practices in Households Communities and Classrooms is a critically important volume for all teachers and teachers to be and for researchers and graduate students of language culture and education

Teaching Your Children Values Richard Eyre,Linda Eyre,2010-05-11 One of the greatest gifts you can give your children is a strong sense of personal values Helping your children develop values such as honesty self reliance and dependability is as important a part of their education as teaching them to read or how to cross the street safely The values you teach your children are their best protection from the influences of peer pressure and the temptations of consumer culture With their own values clearly defined your children can make their own decisions rather than imitate their friends or the latest fashions In Teaching Your Children Values Linda and Richard Eyre present a practical proven month by month program of games family ctivities and value building ecercises for kids of all ages
