Parents and Teachers Francesco Arcidiacono,2021-12-31

The present volume proposes different international scientific contributions coming from professionals and researchers interested in teaching learning and social interactions within a range of various educational settings These scientific investigations as well as professional experiences as teachers are interconnected because they are built around the connections between teachers students and parents The chapters offer a plurality of methodologies and approaches dealing with different educational aspects related to adults and children s involvement in various cultures The contributions propose a set of analyses of the relationships between school and family in risk situations and within different dialogical frames The chapters assume specific perspectives in considering the family school interactions and incorporate analytical reflections connected to specific situations such as the COVID 19 pandemic and the question of inclusive education The volume intends to foster a new comprehension of the dynamics involving school actors and families Each contribution looks at the interconnections between teachers students and parents in order to highlight the centrality of the role of social actors within various educational settings in which the processes of teaching and learning are developed In this sense schools and families are presented as communities continuously engaged in interpersonal relationships and soliciting various processes of appropriation of cultural semiotic professional and emotional resources The volume proposes approaches that are useful to better understand how teachers students and parents can contribute in different and complementary ways to build meaningful frameworks for the processes of teaching and learning

A Teacher's Inside Advice to Parents Robert

Ward,2016-10-20 It is self evident that parents and children garner the benefits of a great teacher but also pay some kind of price for anything less than a sterling teacher Likewise teachers and children share the advantages of committed capable parents but also suffer consequences when parental responsibility and efficacy falters Therefore parents and teachers must be allies who share common expectations methods and goals This book divided into three parts will help everyone achieve this goal

New Ways to Engage Parents Patricia Edwards,2016 Just as populations change ideas about how to encourage and work with parents also need to evolve This practical resource by bestselling author Patricia Edwards provides school leaders and classroom teachers with new and creative ways in which to welcome encourage and involve parents Enacting these types of practices requires a special kind of commitment from teachers and school leaders which often coincides with a particular kind of mindset about families and one s responsibility to engage them Educators often develop this mindset as they deepen their understanding of families literacy language culture race class and themselves Edwards pulls these understandings together and presents them in a straightforward concise and easy to use guide that is perfect for professional learning communities and teacher preparation courses New Ways to Engage Parents is essential reading for all educators who care deeply about engaging a wide range of parents in today s schools It is my hope that this book inspires teachers to seek ways to make schools more equitable and caring spaces for all children From the Foreword by Catherine Compton Lilly University of Wisconsin Madison Long a leader in the field Professor Patricia Edwards reinforces the fact that education is a shared responsibility of home school and community She presents scores of practical ideas and resources to enable educators to involve all parents in their children s education Joyce L Epstein Johns Hopkins University Finally a book that brings partnering with parents into the 21st century This is a book teachers will want to keep at their fingertips Jeanne R Paratore Boston University

The Essential Conversation Sara Lawrence-Lightfoot,2003-08-26 NATIONAL BESTSELLER A renowned Harvard University professor offers valuable insights incisive lessons and deft guidance on how to communicate more effectively to help parents and teachers make the most of parent teacher conferences the essential conversation between the most vital people in a child's life An enormously important volume that will help us all understand what happens when children leave home in order to learn at school Robert Coles author of Children of Crisis and Lives of Moral Leadership The essential conversation is the crucial exchange that occurs between parents and teachers a dialogue that takes place more than one hundred million times a year across our country and is both mirror of and metaphor for the larger cultural forces that define family school relationships and shape the development of our children Participating in this twice yearly ritual so friendly and benign in its apparent goals parents and teachers are often wracked with anxiety In a meeting marked by decorum and politeness they frequently exhibit wariness and assume defensive postures Even though the conversation appears to be focused on the student adults may find themselves playing out their own childhood histories insecurities and fears Through vivid portraits and parables Sara Lawrence Lightfoot captures the dynamics of this complex intense relationship from the perspective of both parents and teachers She also identifies new principles and practices for improving family school relationships In a voice that combines the passion of a mother the skepticism of a social scientist and the keen understanding of one of our nation s most admired educators Lawrence Lightfoot offers penetrating analysis and an urgent call to arms for all those who want to act in the best interests of their children Negotiating the Special Education Maze Winifred Anderson, Stephen Chitwood, Deidre Hayden, 1997 One of the best resources available to parents teachers and school administrators for understanding the special education system and learning how to make it work Counsels to Parents, Teachers and Students Regarding Christian Education Ellen G.
