Everyday Politics in the Libyan Arab Jamahiriya Matteo Capasso, 2023-01-25 Treating the everyday as central to the study of regional and international politics this book reconstructs the last two decades of the Libyan Arab Jamahiriya leading up to the 2011 events that sanctioned its fall It provides a unique and vivid look into the political dynamics that characterized the everyday lives of Libyans offering a compelling counterargument to those who insist on framing the history of the country as a stateless authoritarian and rogue state Based on the collection of oral histories what sets the tempo of this journey is an extensive collection of personal anecdotes moods and emotions popular jokes and rumors In weaving the threads that link these quotidian lives to Libya's interaction with wider international and geopolitical dynamics the book offers a unique and timely analysis of the 2011 events that witnessed the fall of the regime reaching the current state of violence war and hope

Social Regulation in the WTO Krista Nadakavukaren Schefer, 2011-11-01 Recourse to restrictions of international trade for the promotion of non economic goals is at the heart of international trade regulation This book offers a fresh broad but equally detailed analysis of such restrictions It places WTO law in the broader framework of public international law and explores new ways and means as to how tensions and conflict in the pursuit of non economic policy goals should be addressed It is essential reading for all seeking answers beyond the existing framework of WTO law and policies Thomas Cottier World Trade Institute University of Bern Switzerland and Institute of European and International Economic Law This book presents a thoughtful and very readable analysis of social trade regulation that is the use of border measures for non trade purposes The study examines how such measures are regarded in international law and in the more specialized law of the World Trade Organization After she concludes that such unilateral measures may often be illegal under trade law Professor Schefer s original contribution to the debate is to unpack that unlawful status into the categories of law disabling law supporting and law creating trade regulation Through a careful exposition of these concepts the book shows ways in which social trade regulation can improve the progress of the international community Steve Charnovitz The George Washington University US This original and authoritative book analyzes how the WTO s restrictions on the use of trade measures for social goals affects the development of the law of the international community The author examines international law on the use of trade measures to promote non trade values including human health environmental protection and cultural diversity in order to determine whether the WTO decisions in these areas promote the development of the international legal system in a way that benefits the individual Including an analysis of the most important trade cases handed down by the WTO s Appellate Body the book stimulates creative consideration of the extent to which the international trading system s prohibition on the use of trade measures may stifle progress on legal norms that would foster an international community Krista Nadakavukaren Schefer suggests using the law of equity to fully take into account both the trade and the social issues at stake in any particular case With its thorough analysis of WTO trade and decisions this path breaking book will be a stimulating read for scholars and students of international law international economic law and international relations

US Foreign Policy and the Horn of Africa Peter Woodward,2016-02-11 Examining US involvement in the Horn of Africa this volume addresses the relationship between the US and the Islamic movement in this region Peter Woodward explores the interests of the United States in the region through two cases Sudan and Somalia He also discusses the effects of the Eritrean Ethiopian war on US policy and posture in the region along with the effects of other regional wars The book looks at the relationship between US perceptions of Islamism and brings a unique perspective to the ongoing debate over US policy in the Islamic world It will be of interest to those working in or researching foreign policy as well as peace security and conflict issues

Books on Turkey ,2005 Terrorism in the Cold War Adrian Hänni,Thomas Riegler,Przemyslaw Gasztold,2020-09-17 Accounts of the relationships between states and terrorist organizations in the Cold War era have long been shaped by speculation a lack of primary sources and even conspiracy theories In the last few years however things have evolved rapidly Using a wide range of case studies including the KGB s Abduction Program Polish

Military Intelligence and North Korea's Terrorism and Counterterrorism this book sheds new light on the relations between state and terrorist actors allowing for a fresh and much more insightful assessment of the contacts dealings agreements and collusion with terrorist organizations undertaken by state actors on both sides of the Iron Curtain This book presents the current state of research and provides an assessment of the nature motives effects and major historical shifts of the relations between individual states and terrorist organizations The articles collected demonstrate that these state terrorism relationships were not only much more ambiguous than much of the older literature had suggested but are in fact crucial for the understanding of global political history in the Cold War era

Political Economy of Statebuilding Mats

Berdal, 2017-07-05 This volume examines and evaluates the impact of international statebuilding interventions on the political economy of post conflict countries over the past 20 years While statebuilding today is typically discussed in the context of peacebuilding and stabilisation operations the current phase of interest in external interventions to rebuild and strengthen governmental institutions can be traced back to the good governance policies of the International Financial Institutions IFIs in the early 1990s These sought political changes and improvements in the quality of governance in countries that were subject to or were seeking support under IFI designed structural adjustment programmes The focus of this book is specifically on state building efforts in conflict affected countries countries that are emerging or have recently emerged from periods of war and violent conflict The interventions covered in the present volume fall into three broad and overlapping categories International administrations and transformative occupations East Timor Iraq and Kosovo Complex peace operations Afghanistan Burundi Haiti and Sudan Governance and state building programmes conducted in the context of economic assistance Georgia and Macedonia This book will be of much interest to students of statebuilding humanitarian intervention post conflict reconstruction political economy international organisations and IR Security Studies in general

The Nile Development Game Mina Michel Samaan, 2018-12-30 This book introduces an analytic framework constructed upon the iterated Prisoners Dilemma game to model and analyze transboundary water interactions along the Nile River It presents a thorough and in depth analysis of the historical path through which conflict and cooperation have been generated among the Nile riparians over large scale developmental schemes This is done through modeling water interactions in the basin as an iterated Prisoners Dilemma game and employing process tracing method to compare four distinguishable rounds of the game the colonial round the Cold War round the post Cold War round and the post 2011 round The book examines the influences of the changing political contexts at the domestic regional and global levels on the game outcomes This framework is initially applied on several cases of international rivers worldwide while the rest of the book is devoted to the Nile case The book's central argument is that the riparians interests capabilities and beliefs are heterogeneous in varying degrees and that the changing multilevel political contexts influence the level of such heterogeneities among the riparians which ultimately drive the equilibrium dynamics in the Nile game to generate different conflictive and cooperative outcomes over time Although the book's main conclusion indicates that the absence of economic interdependence and regional integration will transfer the game into tug of war which will impose harsh punishment on the basin communities and ecosystems on the long term the final chapter lists a group of recommendations addressed to the riparian states and international donors exploring the way for boosting cooperation and preventing conflicts in the basin Presenting clear theoretical methodological and policy implications this book is appropriate for students and scholars of international relations hydrology and development studies      The United Nations, Peace and Security Ramesh

Thakur, 2006-06-08 Preventing humanitarian atrocities is becoming as important for the United Nations as dealing with interstate war In this book Ramesh Thakur examines the transformation in UN operations analysing its changing role and structure He asks why when and how force may be used and argues that the growing gulf between legality and legitimacy is evidence of an eroded sense of international community He considers the tension between the US with its capacity to use force and project power and the UN as the centre of the international law enforcement system He asserts the central importance of the rule of law and of a rules based order focused on the UN as the foundation of a civilised system of international relations This book will be of interest to students of the UN and international organisations in politics law and international relations departments as well as policymakers in the UN and other NGOs      Communication and Conflict Transformation through Local, Regional, and Global Engagement Peter M. Kellett, Thomas G. Matyók, 2016-12-13 Central to a transformational approach to conflict is the idea that conflicts must be viewed as embedded within broader relational patterns and social and discursive structures and must be addressed as such This implies the need for systemic change at generative levels in order to create genuine transformation at the level of particular conflicts Central also to this book is the idea that the origins of transformation can be momentary or situational small scale or micro level as well as bigger and more systemic or macro level Micro level changes involve shifts and meaningful changes in communication and related patterns that are created in communication between people Such transformative changes can radiate out into more systemic levels and systemic transformative changes can radiate inwards to more micro levels This book engages this transformative framework Within this framework this book pulls together current work that epitomizes and highlights the contribution of communication scholarship and communication centered approaches to conflict transformation in local community regional environmental and global conflicts in various parts of the world The resulting volume presents an engaging mix of scholarly chapters think pieces and experiences from the field of practice The book embraces a wide variety of theoretical and methodological approaches as well as transformative techniques and processes including narrative dialogic critical cultural linguistic conversation analytic discourse analytic and rhetorical This book makes a valuable contribution to the ongoing dialogue across and between disciplines and people on how to transform conflicts creatively sustainably and ethically
