The City and the Senses Jill Steward, 2016-03-16 How do we experience a city in terms of the senses What are the inter relations between human experience and behaviour in urban space This volume examines these questions in the context of European urban culture between the fifteenth and twentieth centuries exploring the institutions and ideologies relating to the range of sensual experience and its interpretation Spanning pre industrial and modern cities in Britain France Germany and the United States it enables the reader to establish major contrasts and continuities in what is still an evolving urban experience Divided into sections corresponding to the five senses noise vision taste touch and smell each sections allows for comparisons which act as reminders that the experience of the city was a multi sensual one and that these experiences were as much intellectual as physical in their nature

The Destruction of Art Dario Gamboni, 2013-06-01 Last winter a man tried to break Marcel Duchamp's Fountain sculpture The sculpted foot of Michelangelo's David was damaged in 1991 by a purportedly mentally ill artist With each incident intellectuals must confront the unsettling dynamic between destruction and art Renowned art historian Dario Gamboni is the first to tackle this weighty issue in depth exploring specters of censorship iconoclasm and vandalism that surround such acts Gamboni uncovers here a disquieting phenomenon that still thrives today worldwide As he demonstrates through analyses of incidents occurring in nineteenth and twentieth century America and Europe a complex relationship exists among the evolution of modern art destruction of artworks and the long history of iconoclasm From the controversial removal of Richard Serra's Tilted Arc from New York City's Federal Plaza to suffragette protests at London's National Gallery Gamboni probes the concept of artist's rights the power of political protest and how iconoclasm sheds light on society's relationship to art and material culture Compelling and thought provoking The Destruction of Art forces us to rethink the ways that we interact with art and react to its power to shock or subdue

Schmid, 2008-02-19 In the past fifteen years Henri Lefebvre's reputation has catapulted into the stratosphere and he is now considered an equal to some of the greats of European social theory Bourdieu Deleuze Harvey In particular his work has revitalized urban studies geography and planning via concepts like the social production of space the right to the city everyday life and global urbanization Lefebvre's massive body of work has generated two main schools of thought one that is political economic and another that is more culturally oriented and poststructuralist in tone Space Difference and Everyday Life merges these two schools of thought into a unified Lefebvrian approach to contemporary urban issues and the nature of our spatialized social structures

Prof Catherine Dossin, 2015-03-28 This book challenges the perception of New York as the undisputed center of the art world between the end of World War II and the fall of the Berlin Wall a position of power that brought the city prestige money and historical recognition In her transnational and interdisciplinary study Dossin analyses changing distributions of geopolitical and symbolic power in the Western art worlds a story that spans two continents forty years and hundreds of actors The Cultural and Intellectual Rebuilding of France After the Second World War M. Kelly, 2004-09-23 This book reveals how France reinvented itself in the aftermath of World War Two After foreign military interventions the French political and intellectual elites embraced regime change and launched an urgent programme of nation building They rebuilt French national identity with whatever material was available and created a vibrant new cultural and intellectual life The cost to subordinated groups however especially women still casts a long shadow over French values and attitudes In this perhaps there are lessons and implications for other countries struggling to rebuild themselves after conflict Picasso Gertje Utley, 2000-01-01 The fact that Picasso joined the French Communist Party in 1944 and remained a loyal member to the end of his long life presents puzzling contradictions How can the image of him as a protean genius be reconciled with his membership in a repressive political organization that maintained an authoritarian hold on its artistic community and all but obliterated the freedom of the creative mind How could the creator of Guernica lauded at that time as the champion of civilian victims of totalitarian aggression support the policies of the Soviet Union This stimulating book is the first comprehensive examination of Picasso s political commitment his motivations to join the French Communist Party and his contributions as an active member Gertje R Utley assesses the impact communism had on the artist s life and explores how Picasso s political beliefs and the doctrines of the Communist Party affected his artistic production Utley provides the first account in English of the intricate relations between the French Communist Party and its artists in the years immediately following the Liberation She then examines in detail the role Picasso played within the Communist agenda his financial and moral support his active participation at Party events and his artistic endorsement of the Party s most important ideological positions during the Cold War years Addressing Picasso s unfailing loyalty in the face of both the Party s untenable political positions and the opposition within the Party to his art this book offers new insight into aspects of the artist s thought and art that have been little considered before
