John Milton Nickles

Paris 1900 Collection Europe 1900:

Rendez-vous à Paris, 2019 Paris 1900, 1976 Set in Stone Christine Giviskos, 2018 Known for its collection of French prints and posters the Zimmerli Art Museum at Rutgers University has rich holdings of lithographs made over the course of the 1800s including examples from lithography's early years in Paris to iconic color posters from the 1890s. Invented around 1796 lithography introduced a new process and new opportunities for the creation and circulation of printed images. Artists, printers, and publishers embraced the new medium for its relative ease and economic advantages as compared with the established printmaking media of woodcut engraving and etching. Taking root in Paris around 1815 after the fall of Napoleon's empire, the art and industry of lithography grew in tandem with the city as it became Europe's artistic and urban capital over the course of the nineteenth century. Lithographs played a distinct role in both documenting and advancing and often satirizing the various and competing art movements of the period as publishers responded to the unprecedented demand for printed images of all types.

It also addresses major debates and diverging interpretations of historical and social research regarding the history of European societies in the past one hundred years. Organized in ten thematic chapters, this book takes an interdisciplinary approach, making use of the methods and results of not only history but also sociology, demography, economics, and political science. Béla Tomka presents both the diversity and the commonalities of European societies, looking not just to Western European countries but Eastern, Central, and Southern European countries as well. A perfect introduction for all students of European history.
