Paris In 3d From Stereoscopy To Virtual Reality 18502000:

Paris in 3D Françoise Reynaud, Catherine Tambrun, Kim Timby, 2000      Paris in 3D Musee Carnavalet, 2000-10 This fully illustrated book sets out to offer a comprehensive historical survey of the techniques underpinning 3D photography at the same time it provides an overview of the history of Paris in the last 150 years      3D and Animated Lenticular Photography Kim Timby, 2015-07-31 Scholars are increasingly investigating photography's broad cultural role expanding our understanding of the diversity of photographic practices Kim Timby contributes to this new history of photography by examining the multifaceted story of images that animate with a flick of the wrist or appear vividly three dimensional without the use of special devices both made possible by the lenticular process Using French case studies this volume broadly weaves 3D and animated lenticular imagery into scientific and popular culture from early cinema and color reproduction to the birth of modern advertising and the market for studio portraits postcards and religious imagery The motivations behind the invention and reinvention of this pervasive form of imagery from the turn of the twentieth century through the end of the pre digital era shed new light on our relationship to photographic realism and on the forceful interplay in photography between technological innovation and the desire to be entertained 3D and Animated Lenticular Photography Between Utopia and Entertainment is a profusely illustrated and engaging interdisciplinary study of a wide ranging body of images that have fascinated viewers for generations      Getting the Picture Jason E. Hill, Vanessa R. Schwartz, 2020-09-08 Powerful and often controversial news pictures promise to make the world at once immediate and knowable Yet while many great writers and thinkers have evaluated photographs of atrocity and crisis few have sought to set these images in a broader context by defining the rich and diverse history of news pictures in their many forms For the first time this volume defines what counts as a news picture how pictures are selected and distributed where they are seen and how we critique and value them Presenting the best new thinking on this fascinating topic this book considers the news picture over time from the dawn of the illustrated press in the nineteenth century through photojournalism's heyday and the rise of broadcast news and newsreels in the twentieth century and into today's digital platforms It examines the many kinds of images sport fashion society celebrity war catastrophe and exoticism and many mediums including photography painting wood engraving film and video Packed with the best research and full colour illustrations throughout this book will appeal to students and readers interested in how news and history are key sources of our rich visual culture      Marcel Duchamp and the Architecture of Desire Penelope Haralambidou, 2017-03-02 While much has been written on Marcel Duchamp one of the twentieth century's most beguiling artists the subject of his flirtation with architecture seems to have been largely overlooked Yet in the carefully arranged plans and sections organising the blueprint of desire in the Large Glass his numerous pieces replicating architectural fragments and his involvement in designing exhibitions Duchamp's fascination with architectural design is clearly evident As his unconventional architectural influences Nicéron Lequeu and Kiesler and diverse legacy

Tschumi OMA Webb Diller Scofidio and Nicholson indicate Duchamp was not as much interested in built architecture as he was in the architecture of desire re constructing the imagination through drawing and testing the boundaries between reality and its aesthetic and philosophical possibilities Marcel Duchamp and the Architecture of Desire examines the link between architectural thinking and Duchamp's work By employing design drawing and making the tools of the architect Haralambidou performs an architectural analysis of Duchamp's final enigmatic work Given 1 The Waterfall 2 The Illuminating Gas demonstrating an innovative research methodology able to grasp meaning beyond textual analysis This novel reading of his ideas and methods adds to but also challenges other art historical interpretations Through three main themes allegory visuality and desire the book defines and theorises an alternative drawing practice positioned between art and architecture that predates and includes Duchamp

Paris in 3D Françoise Reynaud, Catherine Tambrun, Kim Timby, 2000

Experimental Self-Portraits in Early French Photography Jillian Lerner, 2020-11-16 This book explores a range of experimental self portraits made in France between 1840 and 1870 including remarkable images by Hippolyte Bayard Nadar Duchenne de Boulogne and Countess de Castiglione Adapting photography for different social purposes each of these pioneers showcased their own body as a living artifact and iconic attraction Jillian Lerner considers performative portraits that exhibit uncanny transformations of identity and embodiment She highlights the tactical importance of photographic demonstrations promotions conversations and the mongrel forms of montage painted photographs and captioned specimens The author shows how photographic practices are mobilized in diverse cultural contexts and enmeshed with the histories of art science publicity urban spectacle and private life in nineteenth century France Tracing calculated and creative approaches to a new medium this research also contributes to an archaeology of the present It furnishes a prehistory of the selfie and offers historical perspectives on the forces that reshape human perception and social experience This interdisciplinary study will appeal to readers interested in the history of photography art visual culture and media studies

Is Paris Still the Capital of the Nineteenth Century? Hollis Clayson, 2017-07-05 Is Paris Still the Capital of the Nineteenth Century The question that guides this volume stems from Walter Benjamin's studies of nineteenth century Parisian culture as the apex of capitalist aesthetics Thirteen scholars test Benjamin's ideas about the centrality of Paris formulated in the 1930s from a variety of methodological perspectives Many investigate the underpinnings of the French capital's reputation and mythic force which was based largely upon the city's capacity to put itself on display Some of the authors reassess the famed centrality of Paris from the vantage point of our globalized twenty first century by acknowledging its entanglements with South Africa Turkey Japan and the United States The volume equally studies a broader range of media than Benjamin did himself from modernist painting and printmaking photography and illustration to urban planning The essays conclude that Paris did in many ways function as the epicenter of modernity's international reach especially in the years from 1850 to 1900 but did so only as a consequence of the idiosyncratic force of its mythic image Above all the essays affirm that the study of late nineteenth century Paris still requires nimble and innovative approaches commensurate with its legend and global aura 3D Cinema Miriam Ross,2015-03-24 3D Cinema Optical Illusions and Tactile Experiences questions the common frameworks used for discussing 3D cinema realism and spectacle in order to fully understand the embodied and sensory dimensions of 3D cinema s unique visuality Visualising China, 1845-1965 Christian Henriot,Wen-hsin Yeh,2012-11-09 In Visualizing China the authors launch a broad inquiry aimed at a synergistic understanding of the story of visuality in modern China The essays cluster around several nodal points including photographs advertising posters and movies from the 1840s to the 1960s Photography and Other Media in the Nineteenth Century Nicoletta Leonardi,Simone Natale,2018-02-05 In this volume leading scholars of photography and media examine photography s vital role in the evolution of media and communication in the nineteenth century In the first half of the nineteenth century the introduction of telegraphy the development of a cheaper and more reliable postal service the rise of the mass circulation press and the emergence of the railway dramatically changed the way people communicated and experienced time and space Concurrently photography developed as a medium that changed how images were produced and circulated Yet for the most part photography of the era is studied outside the field of media history The contributors to this volume challenge those established disciplinary boundaries as they programmatically explore the intersections of photography and new media during a period of fast paced change Their essays look at the emergence and early history of photography in the context of broader changes in the history of communications the role of the nascent photographic press in photography s infancy and the development of photographic techniques as part of a broader media culture that included the mass consumed novel sound recording and cinema Featuring essays by noteworthy historians in photography and media history this discipline shifting examination of the communication revolution of the nineteenth century is an essential addition to the field of media studies In addition to the editors contributors to this volume are Geoffrey Batchen Geoffrey Belknap Lynn Berger Jan von Brevern Anthony Enns Andr Gaudreault Lisa Gitelman David Henkin Erkki Huhtamo Philippe Marion Peppino Ortoleva Steffen Siegel Richard Taws and Kim Timby Visual Cultures in Science and Technology Klaus Hentschel,2014-10-30 This book is offers a broad comparative survey of a booming field within the history of science the history generation use and function of images in scientific practice It explores every aspect of visuality in science arguing for the concept of visual domains What makes a good scientific image What cultural baggage is essential to it Is science indeed defined by its pictures This book aims to provide a synthesis of the history generation use and transfer of images in scientific practice It delves into the rich reservoir of case studies on visual representations in scientific and technological practice that have accumulated over the past couple of decades by historians sociologists and philosophers of science The main aim is thus located on the meta level It adopts an integrative view of recurrently noted general features of visual cultures in science and technology something hitherto unachieved and believed by many to be a mission impossible By systematic comparison of numerous case studies the purview broadens away from myopic microanalysis in search of overriding patterns The many different disciplines and research areas involved encompass mathematics technology natural history medicine the geosciences astronomy chemistry and physics The chosen examples span the period from the Renaissance to the late 20th century The broad range of visual representations in scientific practice is treated as well as schooling in pattern recognition design and implementation of visual devices and a narrowing in on the special role of illustrators and image specialists

Uncomputable Alexander Galloway, 2021-11-02 A journey through the uncomputable remains of computer history Narrating some lesser known episodes from the deep history of digital machines Alexander R Galloway explains the technology that drives the world today and the fascinating people who brought these machines to life With an eye to both the computable and the uncomputable Galloway shows how computation emerges or fails to emerge how the digital thrives but also atrophies how networks interconnect while also fray and fall apart By re building obsolete technology using today s software the past comes to light in new ways from intricate algebraic patterns woven on a hand loom to striking artificial life simulations to war games and back boxes A description of the past this book is also an assessment of all that remains uncomputable as we continue to live in the aftermath of the long digital age Animating Film Theory Karen

Redrobe, 2014-03-21 Animating Film Theory provides an enriched understanding of the relationship between two of the most unwieldy and unstable organizing concepts in cinema and media studies animation and film theory For the most part animation has been excluded from the purview of film theory The contributors to this collection consider the reasons for this marginalization while also bringing attention to key historical contributions across a wide range of animation practices geographic and linguistic terrains and historical periods They delve deep into questions of how animation might best be understood as well as how it relates to concepts such as the still the moving image the frame animism and utopia The contributors take on the kinds of theoretical questions that have remained underexplored because as Karen Beckman argues scholars of cinema and media studies have allowed themselves to be constrained by too narrow a sense of what cinema is
