Computing the News Sylvain Parasie, 2022-10-11 Faced with a full-blown crisis a growing number of journalists are engaging in seemingly unjournalistic practices such as creating and maintaining databases handling algorithms or designing online applications Data journalists claim that these approaches help the profession demonstrate greater objectivity and fulfill its democratic mission In their view computational methods enable journalists to better inform their readers more closely monitor those in power and offer deeper analysis In Computing the News Sylvain Parasie examines how data journalists and news organizations have navigated the tensions between traditional journalistic values and new technologies He traces the history of journalistic hopes for computing technology and contextualizes the surge of data journalism in the twenty-first century By importing computational techniques and ways of knowing new to journalism news organizations have come to depend on a broader array of human and nonhuman actors Parasie draws on extensive fieldwork in the United States and France including interviews with journalists and data scientists as well as a behind-the-scenes look at several acclaimed projects in both countries Ultimately he argues fulfilling the promise of data journalism requires the renewal of journalistic standards and ethics Offering an in depth analysis of how computing has become part of the daily practices of journalists this book proposes ways for journalism to evolve in order to serve democratic societies

The Invention of Decolonization Todd Shepard, 2006 Contento Muslim French citizens from Algeria a short history Inventing decolonization The tide of history versus the laws of the republic Forgetting French Algeria Making Algerians Repatriation rather than aliyah the Jews of France and the end of French Algeria Veiled Muslim women violent pied noir men and the family of France gender sexuality and ethnic difference Repatriating the Europeans Rejecting the Muslims The post Algerian republic Conclusion forgetting Algerian France Media Monoliths Mark Tungate, 2005-06-03 In an increasingly cluttered media landscape an elite group of brands stands out newspapers magazines and broadcasters with longevity power and instant brand recognition Over decades and often centuries they have consolidated their positions against fierce competition the rise and fall of the global economy and the emergence of the Internet How have they succeeded What marketing strategies have enabled them to thrive and survive in such a spectacular fashion Can they maintain their seemingly impregnable status in the new century Journalist and author Mark Tungate takes us behind the scenes revealing what it takes to be a great media brand For the first time we are given a rare insight into this fascinating world and its key movers and shakers Cold War Holidays Christopher Endy, 2005-12-15 Moving beyond traditional state centered conceptions of foreign relations Christopher Endy approaches the Cold War era relationship between France and the United States from the original perspective of tourism Focusing on American travel in France after World War II Cold War Holidays shows how both the U S and French governments actively cultivated and shaped leisure travel to advance their foreign policy agendas From the U S government s campaign to encourage American vacations in Western Europe as part of the Marshall Plan to Charles de Gaulle s aggressive promotion of American tourism to France in the 1960s Endy reveals how consumerism and globalization played a major role in transatlantic affairs Yet contrary to analyses of globalization that emphasize the decline of the nation state Endy argues that an era notable for the rise of informal transnational exchanges was also a time of entrenched national identity and persistent state power A lively array of voices informs Endy s analysis Parisian hoteliers and cafe waiters American and French diplomats advertising and airline executives travel writers and tourists themselves The resulting portrait reveals tourism as a colorful and consequential illustration of the changing nature of international relations in an age of globalization Sex, Love, and Letters Judith G. Coffin, 2020-09-15 When Judith G Coffin discovered a virtually unexplored treasure trove of letters to Simone de Beauvoir from Beauvoir s international readers it inspired Coffin to explore the intimate bond between the famed author and her reading public This correspondence at the heart of Sex Love and Letters immerses us in the tumultuous decades from the late 1940s to the 1970s from the painful aftermath of World War II to the horror and shame of French colonial brutality in Algeria and through the dilemmas and exhilarations of the early gay liberation and feminist movements The letters also provide a glimpse into the power of reading and the power of readers to seduce their favorite authors The relationship between Beauvoir and her audience proved especially long intimate and vexed Coffin traces this relationship from the publication of Beauvoir's acclaimed The Second Sex to the release of the last volume of her memoirs offering an unfamiliar perspective on one of the most magnetic and polarizing philosophers of the twentieth century Along the way we meet many of the greatest writers of Beauvoir's generation Hannah Arendt Dominique Aury author of The Story of O Fran ois Mauriac winner of the Nobel Prize and nemesis of Albert Camus Betty Friedan and of course Jean Paul Sartre bringing the electrically charged salon experience to life Sex Love and Letters lays bare the private lives and political emotions of the letter writers and of Beauvoir herself Her readers did not simply pen fan letters but as Coffin shows engaged in a dialogue that revealed intellectual and literary life to be a joint and collaborative production This must happen to you often doesn't it wrote one That people write to you and tell you about their lives Yves Montand Joseph

Harriss, 2024-01-09 Once described by the New York Times as the quintessential French Romantic half adventurer half intellectual actor singer and political activist Yves Montand won the hearts of audiences around the world with a charisma and talent that transcended physical and linguistic borders Born in Italy as Ivo Livi Montand achieved international recognition for his singing and performances in films such as Salaire de la Peur 1952 and Let's Make Love 1960 with Marilyn Monroe with whom he had a passionate but short-lived affair An Oscar and BAFTA Award winner who was also twice nominated for a César Award for best actor Montand's success was not limited to his work in film Discovered and mentored by Edith Piaf his interpretations of French songs were intense and intoxicating His mellow baritone voice led to Broadway stardom and sent him on tour making him one of the best known entertainers of his day Yves Montand The Passionate Voice profiles Montand's complex dynamic and extraordinary life From his birth in an Italian village near Florence in 1921 to his accidental immigration to France his international success as an actor singer and activist to his sudden death from a heart attack in 1991 Joseph Harriss covers every aspect of Montand's life and career Drawing on foreign language biographies Montand's autobiography specialized studies interviews and other archival materials Yves Montand is a riveting and multidimensional account of Montand's story and legacy Challenging Communism in Eastern Europe Terry

Cox, 2013-09-13 Marking the 50th anniversary of events in 1956 that were a major turning point in the history of communist ruled Eastern Europe this book contains a selection of some of the most recent research on those momentous events and their memory and legacy The book contains edited contributions from historians and social scientists from Hungary Poland the UK and the USA Their contributions are the fruit of research which has only been possible since 1989 In the years since the fall of the communist regimes the state archives have been opened to researchers and it has been possible to collect the testimony of eye witnesses without fear of repression and censorship The outcome of 1956 led to Poland embarking on its own distinctive version of communist rule Meanwhile 1956 in Hungary saw the first society wide attempt to overthrow a ruling communist regime only to be put down by Soviet military intervention In both countries the events of 1956 had lasting repercussions for society and its relationship with the communist regime In retrospect they can be seen as paving the way for the eventual fall of the communist regimes in East Central Europe in 1989
