Paris School Semiotics Theory 1 Semiotic Crossroads:

Paris School Semiotics: Theory Paul Perron, Frank Collins, 1989-01-01 It has often been claimed that the aim of semiotics is to establish a general theory of systems of signification However as Jean Claude Coquet notes in a recent collection of essays what distinguishes one school of semiotics from another is the initial definition given of sign If for certain semioticians the sign is first of all an observable phenomenon for the Paris School it is first of all a construct and this point of departure has crucial theoretical and practical consequences The essays appearing in these two volumes are representative of recent work carried out by members of this semiotic school Essays in Volume I study problems more closely related to theoretical issues while Volume II focuses more specifically on various fields of application Paris School Semiotics Paul Perron, Frank Collins, 1989-01-01 It has often been claimed that the aim of semiotics is to establish a general theory of systems of signification However as Jean Claude Coquet notes in a recent collection of essays what distinguishes one school of semiotics from another is the initial definition given of sign If for certain semioticians the sign is first of all an observable phenomenon for the Paris School it is first of all a construct and this point of departure has crucial theoretical and practical consequences The essays appearing in these two volumes are representative of recent work carried out by members of this semiotic school Essays in Volume I study problems more closely related to theoretical issues while Volume II focuses more specifically on various fields of application Paris School Semiotics: Practice Paul Perron, Frank Collins, 1989-01-01 It has often been claimed that the aim of semiotics is to establish a general theory of systems of signification However as Jean Claude Coquet notes in a recent collection of essays what distinguishes one school of semiotics from another is the initial definition given of sign If for certain semioticians the sign is first of all an observable phenomenon for the Paris School it is first of all a construct and this point of departure has crucial theoretical and practical consequences The essays appearing in these two volumes are representative of recent work carried out by members of this semiotic school Essays in Volume I study problems more closely related to theoretical issues while Volume II focuses more specifically on various fields of application Paris School Semiotics Frank Collins, Paul Perron, 1989 Paris School Semiotics Paul Perron, Frank Collins, 1989-01-01 It has often been claimed that the aim of semiotics is to establish a general theory of systems of signification However as Jean Claude Coquet notes in a recent collection of essays what distinguishes one school of semiotics from another is the initial definition given of sign If for certain semioticians the sign is first of all an observable phenomenon for the Paris School it is first of all a construct and this point of departure has crucial theoretical and practical consequences The essays appearing in these two volumes are representative of recent work carried out by members of this semiotic school Essays in Volume I study problems more closely related to theoretical issues while Volume II focuses more specifically on various fields of application Semiotica, 1999 Fundamentals of Story Logic Therese Budniakiewicz, 1992 This book may be viewed not only as a post Proppian post Greimassian reconstruction and theoretical advance but also as a neo Proppian neo Greimassian remodelling of story logic leading to an integrated descriptive model which focuses by design on narrative semiotics as a branch of descriptive poetics The investigation and the revision of the actantial model and the narrative schema are made concrete through multiple small narratives from literary fiction specifically Nathanael West's Miss Lonelyhearts a parable of Pascal and a historical chronicle The modifications which Therese Budniakiewicz proposes are turned as it were backward towards a theoretical foundation that is both re found and re founded and what emerges is a methodology of textual analysis the scope of which extends to include hermeneutics and interpretation At the same time through the analysis the author makes of the contractual and communication events and the central position she gives to the Sender and Receiver the book is led to place emphasis on the social and interactional nature of discourse and thereby integrating the basics of narrative within the framework of law and society and justice By putting the theory in perspective while carefully analyzing its premises and by consolidating a broad spectrum of interdisciplinary concepts crucial to narrative Fundamentals of Story Logic will be welcomed by all students of fiction narratology and the classical Greimas

Linguistics and Psychoanalysis Michel Arrivé, 1992 between linguistic and psychoanalytic concepts necessarily arises Until now this question has been examined mainly by psychoanalysts from their own perspective but here it is investigated by a linguist who systematically explores two domains The first is related to the sign and symbol where the meeting of Freud Saussure and Hjelmselv occurred whereas in the second that of the signifier Saussure reappears escorted by Lacan But Freud is not far away since the Literature, Criticism, and the Theory of Signs Victorino Tejera, 1995 Following Peirce in his non reductive understanding of the theory of signs as a branch of aesthetics this book reconceptualizes the processes of literary creation appreciation and reading in semiotic terms Here is a carefully developed theory of what sort of criteria serve to distinguish apposite from inapposite readings of literary works of art Given Peirce's triadic account of signification it enlarges Aristotle's view of mimesis as expressive making into an understanding of literary works as deliberately designed sign systems belonging to Peirce's eighth class of signs In parallel with Bakhtin's account of the dialogical nature of literary work and its success in exposing misreadings of Dostoyevsky this work categorizes in precise theoretical terms what is wrong with the non dialogical readings which treat Plato's dialogues as doctrinal tractates As a study in literary theory finally and on the basis of apt distinctions between exhibitively active and assertive judgments this book re demarcates and distinguishes the discipline of literary criticism from that of literary theory and both of these from the work of literary creation itself

Sign Crossroads in Global Perspective Susan Petrilli, 2017-09-08 Language is the species specific human version of the animal system of communication In contrast to non human animals language enables humans to invent a plurality of possible worlds reflect upon signs be responsible for our actions gain conscious awareness of our inevitable mutual involvement in the network of life on this planet and be responsibly involved in the destiny of the planet The author looks at semiotics the study of signs symbols and communication as developing sequentially rather than successively more synchronically than diachronically She discusses the contemporary phenomenon that people in today s society have witnessed and participated in as part of the development of semiotics Although there is a long history preceding semiotics in a sense the field is as a phenomenon more of our time than of any time past Its leading figures whom Petrilli examines belong to the twentieth and twenty first century Semiotics is associated with a capacity for listening This capacity is also the condition for reconnecting to and recovering the ancient vocation of semiotics as that branch of medical science relating to the interpretation of signs or symptoms The pragmatic aspect of global semiotics studies the impact of language or signs on those who use them and looks for consequences in actual practice In this respect Petrilli theorizes that the task for semiotics in the era of globalization is nothing less than to take responsibility for life in its totality

Theoretical Schools and Circles in the Twentieth-Century Humanities Marina Grishakova, Silvi Salupere, 2015-04-10 Schools and circles have been a major force in twentieth century intellectual movements They fostered circulation of ideas within and between disciplines thus altering the shape of intellectual inquiry This volume offers a new perspective on theoretical schools in the humanities both as generators of conceptual knowledge and as cultural phenomena The structuralist semiotic phenomenological and hermeneutical schools and circles have had a deep impact on various disciplines ranging from literary studies to philosophy historiography and sociology The volume focuses on a set of loosely interrelated groups with a strong literary linguistic and semiotic component but extends to the fields of philosophy and history the interdisciplinary conjunctions arising from a sense of conceptual kinship It includes chapters on unstudied or less studied groups such as Tel Aviv School of poetics and semiotics or the research group Poetics and Hermeneutics The volume presents a significant supplement to the standard historical accounts of literary critical and related theory in the twentieth century It enhances and complicates our understanding of the twentieth century intellectual and academic history by showing schools and circles in the state of germination dialogue controversy or decline in their respective historical and institutional settings while reaching simultaneously beyond those dense settings to the new cultural and ideological situations of the twenty first century
