One Place after Another Miwon Kwon, 2004-02-27 A critical history of site specific art since the late 1960s Site specific art emerged in the late 1960s in reaction to the growing commodification of art and the prevailing ideals of art's autonomy and universality Throughout the 1970s and 1980s as site specific art intersected with land art process art performance art conceptual art installation art institutional critique community based art and public art its creators insisted on the inseparability of the work and its context In recent years however the presumption of unrepeatability and immobility encapsulated in Richard Serra's famous dictum to remove the work is to destroy the work is being challenged by new models of site specificity and changes in institutional and market forces One Place after Another offers a critical history of site specific art since the late 1960s and a theoretical framework for examining the rhetoric of aesthetic vanguardism and political progressivism associated with its many permutations Informed by urban theory postmodernist criticism in art and architecture and debates concerning identity politics and the public sphere the book addresses the siting of art as more than an artistic problem It examines site specificity as a complex cipher of the unstable relationship between location and identity in the era of late capitalism The book addresses the work of among others John Ahearn Mark Dion Andrea Fraser Donald Judd Renee Green Suzanne Lacy Inigo Manglano Ovalle Richard Serra Mierle Laderman Ukeles and Fred Wilson

Edward Ruscha: 1983-1987 Edward Ruscha, 2003

David Hammons Elena Filipovic, 2017-09-08

Drawing on unpublished documents and oral histories, an illustrated examination of an iconic artwork of an artist who has made a lifework of tactical evasion. One wintry day in 1983, alongside other street sellers in the East Village, David Hammons peddled snowballs of various sizes. He had neatly laid them out in graduated rows and spent the day acting as obliging salesman. He called the evanescent and unannounced street action Blizzard Ball Sale, thus inscribing it into a body of work that from the late 1960s to the present has used a lexicon of ephemeral actions and self-consciously black materials to comment on the nature of the artwork, the art world, and race in America. And although Blizzard Ball Sale has been frequently cited and is increasingly influential, it has long been known only through a mix of eyewitness rumors and a handful of photographs. Its details were as elusive as the artist himself; even its exact date was unrecorded. Like so much of the artist's work, it was conceived, it seems, to slip between our fingers, to trouble the grasp of the market as much as of history and knowability. In this engaging study, Elena Filipovic collects a vast oral history of the ephemeral action, uncovering rare images and documents and giving us singular insight into an artist who made an art of making himself difficult to find. And through it, she reveals Blizzard Ball Sale to be the backbone of a radical artistic oeuvre that transforms such notions as art commodity, performance, and even race into categories that shift and dissolve much like slowly melting snowballs.

Art School Steven Henry Madoff, 2009-09-11

Leading international artists and art educators consider the challenges of art education in today's dramatically changed art world. The last explosive change in art education came nearly a century ago when the German Bauhaus was formed. Today, dramatic changes in the art world—its increasing professionalization, the pervasive power of the art market, and fundamental shifts in art making itself in our post-Duchampian era—combined with a revolution in information technology raise fundamental questions about the education of today's artists. Art School: Propositions for the 21st Century brings together more than thirty leading international artists and art educators to reconsider the practices of art education in academic, practical, ethical, and philosophical terms. The essays in the book range over continents, histories, traditions, experiments, and fantasies of education. Accompanying the essays are conversations with such prominent artist educators as John Baldessari, Michael Craig Martin, Hans Haacke, and Marina Abramovic, as well as questionnaire responses from a dozen important artists, among them Mike Kelley, Ann Hamilton, Guillermo Kuitca, and Shirin Neshat, about their own experiences as students. A fascinating analysis of the architecture of major historical art schools throughout the world looks at the relationship of the principles of their designs to the principles of the pedagogy practiced within their halls. And throughout the volume, attention is paid to new initiatives and proposals about what an art school can and should be in the twenty first century and what it shouldn't be No other book on the subject covers more of the questions concerning art education today or offers more insight into the pressures challenges risks and opportunities for artists and art educators in the years ahead Contributors Marina Abramovic Dennis Adams John Baldessari Ute Meta Bauer Daniel Birnbaum Saskia Bos Tania Bruguera Luis Camnitzer Michael Craig Martin Thierry de Duve Clementine Deliss Charles Esche Liam Gillick Boris Groys Hans Haacke Ann Lauterbach Ken Lum Steven Henry Madoff Brendan D Moran Ernesto Pujol Raqs Media Collective Charles Renfro Jeffrey T Schnapp Michael Shanks Robert Storr Anton Vidokle Beyond Memory Diane Neumaier, 2004 Photography possesses a powerful ability to bear witness aid remembrance shape and even alter recollection In Beyond Memory Soviet Nonconformist Photography and Photo Related Works of Art the general editor Diane Neumaier and twenty three contributors offer a rigorous examination of the medium's role in late Soviet unofficial art Focusing on the period between the mid 1950s and the late 1980s they explore artists unusually inventive and resourceful uses of photography within a highly developed Soviet dissident culture During this time lack of high quality photographic materials complimented by tremendous creative impulses prompted artists to explore experimental photo processes such as camera and darkroom manipulations photomontage and hand coloring Photography also took on a provocative array of forms including photo installation artist made samizdat self published books photo realist painting and many other surprising applications of the flexible medium Beyond Memory shows how innovative conceptual moves and approaches to form and content echoes of Soviet society's coded communication and a Russian sense of absurdity were common in the Soviet cultural underground Collectively the works in this anthology demonstrate how late Soviet artists employed irony and invention to make positive use of difficult circumstances In the process the volume illuminates the multiple characters of photography itself and highlights the leading role that the medium has come to play in the international art world today Beyond Memory stands on its own as a rigorous examination of photography's place in late Soviet unofficial art while also serving as a supplement to the traveling exhibition of the same title Video Spaces Barbara London, 1995 Exhibition 6 22 9 12 95 Distributed by Abrams The Art and Films of Lynn Hershman Leeson Meredith Tromble, Lynn Hershman, 2005-12-05 Lynn Hershman Leeson's groundbreaking installation performance photography video digital and film works have earned her an international reputation as a prodigious and innovative artist This first historical and critical analysis of her work by prominent scholars and the artist herself brings nearly forty years of creative output into focus by tracking the development of her constant themes through each medium The provocative essays in this volume ranging from formal to theoretical to psychological to poetical analyses establish her place at the forefront of contemporary art Hershman Leeson's work explores vision spectatorship and the construction of sexed subjectivity touching on key feminist concerns relating to the lived experience of the physical body and the body as a medium on which social law and values are inscribed Her projects of self analysis and self mythification explode stable notions of identity The Art and Films of Lynn Hershman Leeson demonstrates
