Aerodynamics and hydrodynamics are still the main domains that make greater use of flow visualization and classical optical techniques such as schlieren and interferometry than of more recent techniques such as holography speckle laser light sheets laser induced tracers and laser induced fluorescence. A number of studies are now under way on turbulent and vortex flows within boundary layers or wakes in the mixing layer of two flows. Other studies concern jets two phase flows and air water interface. To review and discuss developments in flow visualization four international symposia have been held. Following Tokyo, Bochum and Ann Arbor the Fourth International Symposium on Flow Visualization ISFV 4 was held in Paris in August 1986.

Automatic Verification Methods for Finite State Systems Joseph Sifakis, 1990-01-10 This volume contains the proceedings of a workshop held in Grenoble in June 1989. This was the first workshop entirely devoted to the verification of finite state systems. The workshop brought together researchers and practitioners interested in the development and use of methods tools and theories for automatic verification of finite state systems. The goal at the workshop was to compare verification methods and tools to assist the applications designer. The papers in this volume review verification techniques for finite state systems and evaluate their relative advantages. The techniques considered cover various specification formalisms such as process algebras automata and logics. Most of the papers focus on exploitation of existing results in three application areas hardware design communication protocols and real time systems.

Trends in Data Type Specification Hartmut Ehrig, 1991 The algebraic specification of abstract data types is now a well established research topic in computer science. This area influences both applications and theoretical foundations of methodologies which support the design and formal development of reliable software. The Seventh Workshop on Specification of Abstract Data Types took place in Wusterhausen Dosse April 17-20 1990 and was organized in cooperation with the ESPRIT Basic Research Working Group COMPASS. The main topics covered by the workshop were Modularization Object orientation Higher order types and dependent types Inductive completion Algebraic high level nets PUBLISHER S WEBSITE robotics    Analogical and Inductive Inference Klaus P. Jantke, 1989-09-20 In diesem Buch werden die wesentlichen Aspekte der in den letzten Jahren recht kontrovers geführten Diskussion über das Thema Krankheitsverarbeitung diskutiert. Mehrere Beiträge beschäftigen sich theoretisch und empirisch mit der Frage ob es sinnvoll ist Coping und Abwehr gegeneinander abzugrenzen. Ein Überblick über Methodenverfahren zu Copingprozessen soll die Beurteilung von Ergebnissen erleichtern und bei der Planung und Durchführung von Untersuchungen zu diesem Thema behilflich sein. Empirische Ergebnisse bei verschiedenen Krankheitsbildern Krebs Herzinfarkt chronische Niereninsuffizienz Multiple Sklerose und Alkoholismus und unter verschiedenen Fragestellungen demonstrieren Möglichkeiten und Grenzen unterschiedlicher methodischer Vorgehensweisen.

Combinatorics on Traces Volker Diekert, 1990-09-12 The construction of a software system is a task that has to be structured to ensure that the software product fulfills all expectations and the process of producing it remains manageable and reliable. Mathematical methods including logic algebra and functional calculus are needed to support structuring and provide notations and basic formal concepts for the foundations of software engineering. Mathematical methods of programming reflect the need for modularization and abstraction and suggest appropriate goal directed procedures for the construction of software programs. This volume contains the proceedings of an International Summer School held at Marktoberdorf in 1990 the 11th in a series on mathematical methods in programming. Outstanding scientists contributed papers centered around logical and functional calculi for the specification refinement and verification of programs and program systems and remarkable examples for the formal development of proofs and algorithms are given.    Proceedings of the 1992 ACM Conference on LISP and Functional Programming Association for Computing Machinery, 1992    A Systematic Catalogue of Reusable Abstract Data Types Jürgen Uhl, Hans A. Schmid, 1990-10-24 This book presents a comprehensive catalogue of elementary data types like sets maps orders trees and lists written in Ada. Such data types are often used in systems programming. The major focus is on a uniform syntactic and semantic interface for all data types many implementation variants per data type all accessible through a single interface a hierarchical system of the data types as a basis for data type selection and implementation. Meeting these goals is the main achievement of the book. The combination of efficient applicability and ease of learning and maintenance is achieved by the carefully elaborated interfaces of the catalogue's data types. These interfaces combine abstraction which is necessary for easy learning and for leaving implementation freedom and functional completeness which is an essential prerequisite for high performance in different application contexts. The selection of the right data type implementation for a given context is supported by the data type hierarchy which imposes different abstraction levels and an orthogonal scheme of implementation variants which can be freely combined. Together with the uniformity of interfaces the hierarchical composition of the catalogue leads to a small code base from which different implementation variants are generated using a macro processor.    Computer Vision--ECCV '92 Giulio Sandini, 1992-04-29 This volume collects the papers accepted for presentation at the Second
