The Roles and Function of Parliamentary Questions Shane Martin, Olivier Rozenberg, 2014-06-03 Parliamentary questions are a feature of almost all national legislatures Despite this we know very little about how questions are used by MPs and what impact questions have on controlling the government This volume advances our theoretical and empirical knowledge of the use of questioning in a number of different parliamentary settings The propensity of parliamentarians to ask questions indicates that the interrogatories are an important tool for measuring an individual legislator's job Ultimately how a parliamentarian chooses to use the questioning tool provides a unique insight into legislator behaviour and role orientation Many of the chapters in this volume provide new empirical measures of legislator activity and use this data to provide new tests of leading theories of legislator behaviour At an institutional level questions provide an important source of information for the chamber and are a critical tool of government oversight as many of the chapters in the volume indicate Evidence of the impact of questions on executive and bureaucratic oversight challenges conventional views of parliaments as weak and ineffective parts of the political process This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Legislative Studies

Ministerial Accountability and Parliamentary Questions Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Public Administration Select Committee, 2005 Ministerial Accountability and Parliamentary Questions Fifth Report of Session 2004-05

Monitoring written Parliamentary questions Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Procedure Committee, 2013-05-08 In October 2010 the Committee in response to a report by its predecessor committee began a trial exercise in monitoring unsatisfactory and late answers to written Parliamentary questions With just over 50 complaints from Members in response to the exercise of which half were followed up This resulted in answers for Members on a number of occasions in circumstances where they would otherwise have found difficult or impossible to follow up on an inadequate response The exercise will now come to an end and be put on a more permanent footing In consideration of a memorandum from the Leader of the House providing statistics on the time taken to respond to WPQs in 2010-12 the committee has sought explanations from Ministers in charge of poorly performing departments for the level of performance in the memorandum and what steps are being taken to improve these levels The Department for Education had a particularly poor performance and evidence was taken from the Parliamentary Under Secretary and a senior official in the Department which the Committee found unsatisfactory with and so a follow up session with the Permanent Secretary and Secretary of State was undertaken The Committee will continue its interest in the answering performance of this Department and hold it to further account should its performance not improve markedly settings The propensity of parliamentarians to ask questions indicates that the interrogatories are an important tool for measuring an individual legislator's job Ultimately how a parliamentarian chooses to use the questioning tool provides a unique insight into legislator behaviour and role orientation Many of the chapters in this volume provide new empirical measures of legislator activity and use this data to provide new tests of leading theories of legislator behaviour At an institutional level questions provide an important source of information for the chamber and are a critical tool of government oversight as many of the chapters in the volume indicate Evidence of the impact of questions on executive and bureaucratic oversight challenges conventional views of parliaments as weak and ineffective parts of the political process This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Legislative Studies E-tabling of parliamentary questions for written answer Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Procedure Committee, 2012-02-21 On 13 October 2011 the House agreed to a 3 month experiment with restrictions on the number of questions which could be tabled electronically on any one day and an earlier deadline for their submission The Table Office has provided the Committee with a memorandum assessing the impact of those changes and recommending that the experiment be made permanent The Committee therefore agree with the Table Office's conclusions and recommend that the restrictions on e tabling which have been piloted should continue The Committee also recommends that the consequent upgrade to the e tabling system include improvements such as the introduction of a basket in which to keep PQs prior to their submission if and when they prove technically feasible
