Parting The Curtains Interviews With Southern Writers:

Parting the Curtains Dannye Romine Powell, 1994 Interviews and biographical sketches of Southern writers Parting the Curtains, 1994 Interviews and biographical sketches of Southern writers Southern Writers Bear Witness Jan Nordby Gretlund, 2018-07-15 Fourteen Southern storytellers reveal their influences methods and daily routines and struggles with the writing process Jan Nordby Gretlund has been studying the literature of the American South for some fifty years and his outsider's perspective as a European scholar has made him an intellectually acute witness of both the literature and its creators Whether it is their language and reflexive storytelling or the craft and techniques by which writers transform life and experience into art that fascinates Gretlund elements of their fiction led to his interviews with the fourteen storytellers featured in Southern Writers Bear Witness Gretlund believes a good interview will always reveal something about a writer's life and character details that can inform a reading of that writer's fiction The interviewer's task according to Gretlund is to supply the reader with some of the sources and experiences that inspired and shaped the fiction Through his conversations Gretlund also occasionally elicits the subjects reflections on other writers and their work to discover affiliations lines of influence and divergences and he also emphasizes the enduring power of their work His interviews with Eudora Welty and Pam Durban uncover strong family and community experiences found at the core of their fiction Gretlund also turns conversations to the craft of writing writers daily routines and specific problems encountered in their work such as Clyde Edgerton's struggle with point of view In other exchanges he investigates distinctive elements of a writer's work such as violence in Barry Hannah's fiction and religious faith in Walker Percy's Still other conversations such as his with Josephine Humphreys touch on the pressures and opportunities of publishing and its influence on the writer's work Taken together these authors insights on life in the South provide a fascinating window into the creative process of storytelling as well as the human experiences that fuel it A foreword by Daniel Cross Turner author of Southern Crossings Poetry Memory and the Transcultural South and co editor of Undead Souths The Gothic and Beyond in Southern Literature and Culture and Hard Lines Rough South Poetry is also included Featured Authors Pat Conroy Pam Durban Clyde Edgerton Percival Everett Kaye Gibbons Barry Hannah Mary Hood Josephine Humphreys Madison Jones Martin Luther King Sr Walker Percy Ron Rash Dori Sanders Eudora Welty Thomas Wolfe and Lost Children in Southern Literature Paula Eckard, 2024-01-12 Paula Gallant Eckard not only explores the utterly teachable The Lost Boy she also provides substantive and provocative readings of a wide variety of contemporary Southern fiction Through her critical analysis and admirable focus on lost children and children suffering loss Eckard examines how some contemporary writers provide new stories of the Civil War the role of other wars in Southern lives and the centrality of family Margaret M Bauer Rivers Chair of Southern Literature at East Carolina University First published in 1937 Thomas Wolfe's The Lost Boy gives name to the theme of lost children that has permeated much of southern literature and provides a template for telling their stories In Thomas Wolfe and Lost Children in Southern Literature which grew out of many years of teaching The Lost Boy and other works of southern literature Paula Gallant Eckard uses Wolfe's novel as a starting point to trace thematic connections among contemporary southern novels that are comparably evocative in their treatment of lostness Eckard explores six authors and their works Fred Chappell's I Am One of You Forever Mark Powell's Prodigals Kaye Gibbons's Ellen Foster Sue Monk Kidd's The Secret Life of Bees Bobbie Anne Mason's In Country Robert Olmstead's Coal Black Horse and Lee Smith's On Agate Hill Though each novel is unique and a product of its own time period all the novels explored here are cast against the backdrop of the South during eras of conflict and change Like The Lost Boy these novels reflect a sense of history a sense of loss associated with that history and an innate love of story and narrative as well as representations of work that historically have defined the lives of individuals and families throughout the South In its artistic treatment of lostness The Lost Boy creates a significant literary legacy As Eckard demonstrates that legacy continues in the form of these six contemporary authors who in writing about the South perpetuate Wolfe's efforts as they also create or find the lost child in new ways

Maternal Body and Voice in Toni Morrison, Bobbie Ann Mason, and Lee Smith Paula Gallant Eckard, 2002

After Southern Modernism Matthew Guinn, 2011-06-14 The literature of the contemporary South might best be understood for its discontinuity with the literary past At odds with traditions of the Southern Renaissance southern literature of today sharply refutes the Nashville Agrarians and shares few of Faulkner's and Welty's concerns about place community and history This sweeping study of the literary South's new direction focuses on nine well-established writers who by breaking away from the firmly ensconced myths have emerged as an iconoclastic generation Harry Crews Dorothy Allison Bobbie Ann Mason Larry Brown Kaye Gibbons Randall Kenan Richard Ford Cormac McCarthy and Barry Hannah Resisting the modernist methods of the past they have established their own postmodern ground beyond the shadow of their predecessors This shift in authorial perspective is a significant indicator of the future of southern writing Crews's seminal role as a ground-breaking poor white author Mason's and Crews's portrayals of rural life and Allison's and Brown's frank portrayals of the lower class pose a challenge to traditional depictions of the South The dissenting voices of Gibbons and Kenan who focus on gender race and sexuality create fiction that is at once identifiably southern and also distinctly subversive Gibbons's iconoclastic stance toward patriarchy like the outsider's critique of community found in Kenan's work proffers a portrait of the South unprecedented in the region's literature Ford McCarthy and Hannah each approach the South's traditional notions of history and community with new irreverence and treat familiar southern topics in a distinctly postmodern manner Whether through Ford's generic consumer landscape the haunted netherworld of McCarthy's southern novels or Hannah's riotous burlesque of the Civil War these authors assail the philosophical and cultural foundations from which the Southern Renaissance arose Challenging the conventional conceptions of the southern canon this is a provocative and innovative contribution to the region's literary study The North Carolina Historical Review ,1998 The New Southern Girl Caren J. Town,2015-01-24 Much has been written about America's troubled teens particularly endangered teenage girls Works like Mary Pipher's Reviving Ophelia and many others have contributed to the general perception that contemporary young women are in a state of crisis Parents educators social scientists and other concerned individuals worry that our nation's girls are losing their ambition moral direction and self esteem as they enter adolescence which can then lead them to promiscuous sex anorexia drug abuse and at the very least declining math scores In spite of evidence to the contrary in life and literature this bleak picture is seldom challenged but a good place to begin may be with recent literary representations of young women fictional and autobiographical which show proud young women who are highly focused and use their brains and good humor to work toward satisfying adult lives This book addresses the ways in which 12 women writers use their heroines stories to challenge commonly held and frequently damaging notions of adolescence femininity and regional identity The book begins with a chapter on sociological and literary theories of adolescent female development This chapter also includes theoretically informed discussions of young adult fiction and Southern literature Chapters that follow focus on adolescent heroines in the novels and autobiographies of the contemporary Southern women writers Anne Tyler Bobbie Ann Mason Josephine Humphreys Dorothy Allison Kaye Gibbons Tina Ansa Janisse Ray and Jill McCorkle and young adult writers Katherine Paterson Mildred Taylor and Cynthia Voigt Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here How It Feels When Parents Divorce Jill Kremetz,2012-05-23 In this immensely moving book nineteen boys and girls from seven to sixteen years old and from highly diverse backgrounds share with us their deepest feelings about their parents divorce By listening to them all children of divorced parents can find constructive ways to help themselves through this difficult time And they will learn that their own shock and anger confusion and pain have been experienced by others and are normal and appropriate These boys and girls speak with extraordinary honesty and tolerance and with a remarkable absence of rationalization illusion or attempt to justify their own often trying behavior in response to their situations Their stories are immediate and convincing and their generosity in confiding their feelings should provide comfort to children and parents alike The New Encyclopedia of Southern Culture M. Thomas Inge,Charles Reagan Wilson,2014-02-01 Offering a comprehensive view of the South's literary landscape past and present this volume of The New Encyclopedia of Southern Culture celebrates the region's ever flourishing literary culture and recognizes the ongoing evolution of the southern literary canon As new writers draw upon and reshape previous traditions southern literature has broadened and deepened its connections not just to the American literary mainstream but also to world literatures a development thoughtfully explored in the essays here Greatly expanding the content of the literature section in the original Encyclopedia this volume includes 31 thematic essays addressing major genres of literature theoretical categories such as regionalism the southern gothic and agrarianism and themes in southern writing such as food religion and sexuality Most striking is the fivefold increase in the number of biographical entries which introduce southern novelists playwrights poets and critics Special attention is given to contemporary writers and other individuals who have not been widely covered in previous scholarship
