Evaluating for Good Practice Angela Everitt,Pauline Hardiker,1996-11-11 With the changing political economy of social welfare evaluation has become prevalent in the personal social services and voluntary sector organisations This text argues that rational technical and pluralist models of evaluation

may collude with new managerialism to act as powerful processes of control Alternative critical models of evaluation which take account of power are explored so as to enable practitioners to take responsibility for evaluating practice both in order to inhibit poor or even corrupt practice and to promote good practice      Hearing the Voices of Children Christine Hallett, Alan Prout, 2003-12-16 Hearing the Voices of Children provides a fresh perspective on social policy At the heart of the book is the emergence of children's voices and the implications of this for social policy The authors argue that children's voices should be heard much more strongly in the process of policy formation at all levels Although there is growing support for this idea it is not without opposition and the authors themselves make many critical points about the current attempts to put it into practice The book is divided into four main themes hearing children's voices discourses of childhood children and services and resources for children Childhood experts from the UK Scandinavia Germany and Australia examine how assumptions and models about childhood and discuss ways in which children's voices might become more influential in shaping policy There are many obstacles to overcome but the contributors to this volume show that children's participation is possible and needed if services are to be improved This book is essential reading for students and academics in the field of childhood studies sociology social policy and education It will also be of interest to practitioners in the social child and youth services      The Road to Results Linda G. Morra-Imas, Linda G. Morra, Ray C. Rist, 2009 The Road to Results Designing and Conducting Effective Development Evaluations presents concepts and procedures for evaluation in a development context It provides procedures and examples on how to set up a monitoring and evaluation system how to conduct participatory evaluations and do social mapping and how to construct a rigorous quasi experimental design to answer an impact question The text begins with the context of development evaluation and how it arrived where it is today It then discusses current issues driving development evaluation such as the Millennium Development Goals and the move from simple project evaluations to the broader understandings of complex evaluations The topics of implementing Results based Measurement and Evaluation and constructing a Theory of Change are emphasized throughout the text Next the authors take the reader down the road to results presenting procedures for evaluating projects programs and policies by using a Design Matrix to help map the process This road includes determining the overall approach formulating questions selecting designs developing data collection instruments choosing a sampling strategy and planning data analysis for qualitative quantitative and mixed method evaluations The book also includes discussions on conducting complex evaluations how to manage evaluations how to present results and ethical behavior including principles standards and guidelines The final chapter discusses the future of development evaluation This comprehensive text is an essential tool for those involved in development evaluation      Ten Steps to a Results-based Monitoring and Evaluation System Jody Zall Kusek, Ray C. Rist, 2004-06-15 An effective state is essential to achieving socio economic and sustainable development With the advent of globalization there are growing pressures on governments and organizations around the world to be more responsive to the demands of internal and external stakeholders for good governance accountability and transparency greater development effectiveness and delivery of tangible results Governments parliaments citizens the private sector NGOs civil society international organizations and donors are among the stakeholders interested in better performance As demands for greater accountability and real results have increased there is an attendant need for enhanced results based monitoring and evaluation of policies programs and projects This Handbook provides a comprehensive ten step model that will help guide development practitioners through the process of designing and building a results based monitoring and evaluation system These steps begin with a OC Readiness AssessmentOCO and take the practitioner through the design management and importantly the sustainability of such systems The Handbook describes each step in detail the tasks needed to complete each one and the tools available to help along the way Quality, Evidence and Effectiveness in Health Promotion John Kenneth Davies,Gordon MacDonald,Gordon

Macdonald,2002-01-22 Health Promotion is a growth area there are a growing number of health promotion modules on Health Sciences Nursing and Sociology courses Gordon Macdonald is a best selling author and very well known in his field

A Clash of Paradigms Susan L. Maiava,2018-03-29 This title was first published in 2001 This study indicates that researchers have far to go in understanding and assessing how development projects work The author shows that often the perception of failure is not shared by those whom were intended to benefit She uses a case study of Samoan villagers introduced to cattle farming to examine the wider development process and challenge the conventional theories By drawing on people centred perspectives that give much greater weight to the role of culture in development the volume does not simply criticize development project management but suggests practical and positive ways forward encouraging spontaneous indigenous development which should be supported by projects where appropriate Health Promotion Settings Angela

Scriven,Margaret Hodgins,2011-11-11 Health Promotion Settings combines the theoretical discourse of the settings approach covering a wide range of fundamental principles concepts and policy issues with real life examples of settings including workplaces schools neighbourhood cities and prisons Frameworks and processes that are actively shaping health promotion in settings in the 21st Century are documented and the ideas and research covered will provide a vital set of indicators for those who promote health in settings Combining theory with practical examples and case studies the authors show how a settings approach can work in practice drawing on a range of local national and international initiatives and coordinated projects Health Promotion Settings provides a rich source of ideas and case examples which highlight the challenges for promoting health in a range of contexts Special attention is given to the workplace as both a priority area for health promotion and a key determinant of health Written by a highly experienced team of health promotion and public health professionals academics and researchers this book is essential reading for both students and practitioners working towards the improvement of health using a settings approach Online Resources are provided Striking a Balance Alan Fowler,2013-10-11 At a time of rapid global change development NGOs are having to scale up their impact diversify their activities respond to long term crises and improve their performance on all fronts Striking a Balance offers both analysis and a practical guide to how NGOs can fulfil these demanding expectations Written for all those involved with NGO work the book describes the objectives of sustainable people centred development and the process required to achieve it focusing on the five factors which determine effectiveness suitable organisational design competent leadership and human resources appropriate external relationships mobilisation of high quality finance and the measurement of performance coupled to learning for leverage In each are the book explains the capacities needed and how they can be assessed and improved Effectiveness calls for NGOs which retain their non profit values establish the right type of Professionalism manage dilemmas and balance choices to continually reflect the priorities rights and needs of those who give them legitimacy people who are poor and marginalised This book provides a reference of current and future practices which will help NGOs to do so
