Risk and Innovation National Academy of Engineering, 1995-12-14 Smaller technically oriented companies often assume types of risk and an amount of risk that is not often tolerated by large companies In the United States both consumers and companies depend on smaller high tech companies to explore the commercial application of technology in potential emerging and small markets This book through comparison of six industries in which small companies play a critical role explores the principal economic function of small high tech companies to probe explore and sometimes develop the frontiers of the U S economy in search of unrecognized or otherwise ignored opportunities for economic growth and development Forum for Applied Research and Public Policy ,1996 SBIR Program Diversity and Assessment Challenges National Research Council,Policy and Global Affairs,Committee on Capitalizing on Science, Technology, and Innovation: An Assessment of the Small Business Innovation Research Program,2004-09-20 In response to a Congressional mandate the National Research Council conducted a review of the Small Business Innovation Research Program SBIR at the five federal agencies with SBIR programs with budgets in excess of 100 million DOD NIH NASA DOE and NSF The project was designed to answer questions of program operation and effectiveness including the quality of the research projects being conducted under the SBIR program the commercialization of the research and the program s contribution to accomplishing agency missions The first in a series to be published in response to the Congressional request this report summarizes the presentations at a symposium convened at the beginning of the project The report provides a comprehensive overview of the SBIR program s operations at the five agencies responsible for 96 percent of the program s operations Commerce, Justice, and State, the Judiciary, and Related Agencies Appropriations, Fiscal Year 1996, 104th Congress, First Session, H.R. 2076 United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Commerce, Justice, State, the Judiciary, and Related Agencies,1995 Capitalizing on New Needs and New Opportunities National Research Council,Policy and Global Affairs,Board on Science, Technology, and Economic Policy,2001-01-11 This report addresses a topic of recognized policy concern To capture the benefits of substantial U S investments in biomedical R D parallel investments in a wide range of seemingly unrelated disciplines are also required This report summarizes a major conference that reviewed our nation s R D support for biotechnology and information technologies The volume includes newly commissioned research and makes recommendations and findings concerning the important relationship between information technologies and biotechnology It emphasizes the fall off in R D investments needed to sustain the growth of the U S economy and to capitalize on the growing investment in biomedicine It also encourages greater support for inter disciplinary training to support new areas such as bioinformatics and urges more emphasis on and support for multi disciplinary research centers Advanced Technology Program National Research Council,Technology and Economic Policy,Board on Science, Technology, and Economic Policy,1999-11-21 The growth in government programs to support high technology industry within national economies and their impact on international science and technology cooperation and on the multilateral trading system are of considerable interest worldwide Accordingly these topics were taken up by STEP in a study carried out in conjunction with the Hamburg Institute for Economic Research and the Institute for World Economics in Kiel One of the principal recommendations for further work emerging from that study was a call for an analysis of the principles of effective cooperation in technology development to include lessons from national and international consortia including eligibility standards and assessments of what new cooperative mechanisms might be developed to meet the challenges of international cooperation in high technology products

Effective Partnering, 1996 The Advanced Technology Program National Research Council, Policy and Global Affairs, Board on Science, Technology, and Economic Policy, 2001-08-06 This report examines the operations of the ATP reviews its extensive assessment program and provides NRC Committee findings concerning the ATP's operations and recommendations for potential improvements to the program The report includes a summary of a major conference held in April 2000 as well as seven papers including surveys of the industry participants or users of the ATP program a summary of the results of fifty awards detailed assessments of major joint ventures and a description of the current selection process It is the most comprehensive study to date of the program's origins operations achievements and assessment Its conclusion the program works

The Small Business Innovation Research Program National Research Council, Policy Division, Board on Science, Technology, and Economic Policy, 2000-11-30 In 1992 Congress for the first time explicitly directed the federal agencies making SBIR grants to use commercial potential as a criterion for granting SBIR awards In response the Department of Defense developed the SBIR Fast Track initiative which provides expedited decision making for SBIR awards to companies that have commitments from outside vendors To verify the effectiveness of this initiative the DoD asked the STEP Board to assess the operation of Fast Track This volume of original field research includes case studies comparing Fast Track and non Fast Track firms a large survey of SBIR awardees and statistical analyses of the impact of regular SBIR and Fast Track awards Collectively the commissioned papers and the findings and recommendations represent a significant contribution to our understanding of the SBIR program

East West Perspectives on 21st Century Urban Development John Brotchie, Peter Newton, Peter Hall, John Dickey, 2019-01-15 Published in 1999 Analyzing and chronicling the continued development of key information communication and fast transport networks at a global and regional level this book looks at the transition to an information based economy and its urban impacts at a global regional and city level The book outlines the change by defining it as the third great societal transition in the history of human settlement and points to key factors that have fuelled progress These include the growth of global telecommunications and fast transport networks the coming together of information and communication technologies and their links to transport and land use the shift to information and knowledge as a resource base for new industries the increasing movement of people and information the emergence of cities as economic entities network nodes and centres for generating exchanging and processing information and most significantly the competition among cities for these new key elements of the urban economy
