Party Conflict And Community Development:

Party Conflict and Community Development Samuel James Eldersveld, 1995 Can political parties function and be effective at the local level Community Development Hennie Swanepoel, Frik De Beer, 2006 Based on foundations of participation and empowerment this entry level study covers every aspect necessary to mobilize a community to fight poverty Chapters address issues such as the principles of community development starting and maintaining community projects and workshops recruiting and motivating members and decision making and problem solving management Introduction to Community Development Jerry W. Robinson, Gary Paul Green, 2011 Introduction to Community Development provides students of community and economic development with a theoretical and practical introduction to the field of community development Bringing together leading scholars in the field of community development the book follows the curriculum needs in offering a progression from theory to practice beginning with a theoretical overview an historical overview and the various approaches to community development Political Parties in Conflict-prone Societies Ben Reilly, Per Nordlund, 2008 Well functioning political parties are essential components of democracy They organize voters aggregate and articulate interests craft policy alternatives recruit and socialize new candidates for office set policy making agendas integrate disparate groups and individuals into the democratic process and provide the basis for coordinated electoral and legislative activity But political parties in many developing democracies remain weak and underdeveloped often being based around personal ethnic or regional ties rather than national interests Today with more states deciding their leaders through multiparty elections than ever before many developing democracies seek to shape the development of political parties and party systems by regulating the way parties can form organize and behave Most of these ambitious initiatives and innovations emanate from new democracies rather than established Western examples This volume examines this growing trend in conflict prone societies towards promoting stable and inclusive political parties via political party regulation and engineering in developing democracies around the world Peacebuilding, Conflict and Community Development John Eversley, Sinéad Gormally, Avila Kilmurray, 2022-11-28 This trailblazing book gives practical examples from the Global North and Global South on communities alleviating conflict and enabling transformation in divided societies Creative Strategies for Conflict Management & Community Building Christian Ndubueze Anyanwu, 2009-11 This book in applying the asset mapping theory of Kretzmann and McKnight 1993 developed a positive communication strategy for minimizing conflicts and building a more Collaborative Communities in Organizations and Churches with much emphasis on inclusivity consensus and commitment to common vision and ideals While critically reviewing the traditional conflict theories in their approaches to conflict management the book uses the new lens provided by the asset mapping theory to recommend for a paradigm shift in the way people look at organizations and conflicts A new emphasis therefore is on the positive elements in organizations the assets that lie within individuals and groups as the key to minimizing conflict in organizations Besides unlike the traditional conflict theories which sees conflict as a problem this new lens sees conflict within organizations as functional and opportunities for growth The book equally identifies some of the significant factors that cause ethnic conflicts within organizations such as Prejudices among Ethnic Groups Differences of Ethnic Groups Power Struggle among Ethnic Groups Discrimination and Injustice against Groups Lack of Participatory Communication and Lack of Participatory Leadership Finally in reviewing the relevant literatures on Community Building the book underlines the various variables that make Community Building possible Such variables include Discovering and Mobilizing the Assets of Individuals and Groups within Organizations Building Relationships among Individuals and Groups within Organizations Building a more Participatory Leadership within Organizations Building a more Participatory Communication within Organizations Creating more Awareness on the necessity of Collaborative Initiatives as well as Promoting the Common Cultural Values and Ideals that holds Individuals and Groups together within Organization Community Development Enterprise Nazar Al

Baharna,2014-06-12 The post Cold War period saw the emergence of armed conflicts the transformation of the concept of international security and the deepening of economic inequality and social exclusion The global community has been reformed through an international convergence of agendas on topics such as peace security and development Focus has been placed on individuals and communities with the evolution of concepts such as human security a HRBA to development and the responsibility to protect norm Evidence of such global phenomena can be identified through the observation of conflict trends in recent years After nearly two decades of decline the numbers of conflict have begun to increase Research shows that in 2012 a total of 396 conflicts were counted marking a significant rise from 2011 Among these conflicts were 18 wars and 25 limited wars indicating that there were 43 highly violent conflicts Another 165 conflicts were classified as violent crises So in 2012 a total of 208 conflicts out of 396 conflicts in total were conducted with the use of violence Conflicts are generally solved by forceful intervention or by diplomatic mediation between the respective parties Historically most major conflicts have been resolved using forceful intervention However this is not a sustainable or durable solution because the underlying cause of the conflict is not addressed and the people most affected by the conflict are not prioritized For sustainable peace to be achieved the core of the conflict needs to be resolved The core of most conflicts is often connected to the issues that catalysed the conflict economic ideology etc and then exacerbated by the needs of the people affected by the conflict not being met Empowering the individual should be the focal point for conflict resolution projects in order to make sustainable outcomes possible The Community Development Enterprise CDE concept hopes to provide a vehicle for the sustainable resolution of conflict Comparative Political Parties and Party Elites Birol A. Yeşilada,1999 Senior scholars consider how party elites influence electoral politics in several important countries Political Parties in American Society NA NA,2016-09-27 In this comprehensive introduction to political parties two of the country s foremost scholars combine the traditional PIE PIG PO approach with unique chapters on such issues as race and campaign finance Throughout the book the authors argue strongly in favor of the continued relevance of parties in the American political system and provide strong evidence that parties have adapted to the changing American political scene

Political Theory and Partisan Politics
Edward Bryan Portis, Adolf G. Gundersen, Ruth Lessl Shively, 2012-02-01 Political theorists typically define political action in terms of rational potential rather than conflict and for this reason neglect the partisan nature of political experience This volume redresses this neglect focusing on the interrelated questions of whether the task of political theory is to find some means of containing partisan politics and whether political theory is itself separate from partisan politics Each section of the book corresponds to one of three ways of conceiving the optimal or necessary relationship between political theory and partisan political struggle The first section considers the extent to which partisan politics requires constitutional consensus and the degree to which such a consensus requires correct theoretical underpinnings The second focuses on the compatibility of theoretical deliberation with partisan politics and the third on the possibility that political theory is itself necessarily a form or means of partisan engagement The end result is a theoretically diverse but focused debate on this important but neglected subject Contributors include William E Connolly Mary G Dietz Adolf G Gundersen John G Gunnell Donald S Lutz Edward Bryan Portis Arlene W Saxonhouse Ruth Lessl Shively and Thomas A Spragens Jr
