Schram, 1970 China's Leaders David Shambaugh, 2021-06-25 Since the founding of the People s Republic of China over 70 years ago five paramount leaders have shaped the fates and fortunes of the nation and the ruling Chinese Communist Party Mao Zedong Deng Xiaoping Jiang Zemin Hu Jintao and Xi Jinping Under their leaderships China has undergone an extraordinary transformation from an undeveloped and insular country to a comprehensive world power In this definitive study renowned Sinologist David Shambaugh offers a refreshing account of China s dramatic post revolutionary history through the prism of those who ruled it Exploring the persona formative socialization psychology and professional experiences of each leader Shambaugh shows how their differing leadership styles and tactics of rule shaped China domestically and internationally Mao was a populist tyrant Deng a pragmatic Leninist Jiang a bureaucratic politician Hu a technocratic apparatchik and Xi a modern emperor Covering the full scope of these leaders personalities and power this is an illuminating guide to China s modern history and understanding how China has become the superpower of today Also available as an audiobook To Get Rich Is Glorious Jacques deLisle, Avery Goldstein, 2019-09-24 In 1978 China launched economic reforms that have resulted in one of history s most dramatic national transformations The reforms removed bureaucratic obstacles to economic growth and tapped China s immense reserves of labor and entrepreneurial talent to unleash unparalleled economic growth in the country In the four decades since China has become the world s second largest economy after the United States and a leading force in international trade and investment As the contributors to this volume show China also faces daunting challenges in sustaining growth continuing its economic ransformation addressing the adverse consequences of economic success and dealing with mounting suspicion from the United States and other trade and investment partners China also confronts risks stemming from the project to expand its influence across the globe through

From Revolutionary Cadres to Party Technocrats in Socialist China Hong Yung Lee, 2024-07-26 Using a wide variety of previously unavailable sources Hong Yung Lee offers a theoretical and historical perspective on China's ruling elite examining their politics and the bureaucratic system in which they participate He traces the evolution of these cadres from the guerrilla fighters who first joined the communist movement and founded the new regime in 1949 to the technocratic specialists who wield power today In the revolution communist leaders built a peasant based party organization whose members were largely recruited from uneducated poor peasants and hired laborers Even after they became the founders of a new regime their rural orientation and revolutionary experiences continued to affect the political process Lee shows how the requirements of modernization compelled the state to replace the revolutionary cadres with bureaucratic technocrats Selected from the postliberation generation the new leaders are more committed to problem solving than to socialism Despite uncertainties in the immediate future this elite transformation signifies an end to modern China's revolutionary era Lee argues that it seems only a matter of time before China will have a bureaucratic authoritarian regime led by technocrats possessing a managerial perspective and a pragmatic economic orientation This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1991

Organizing China Harry Harding, 1981-06-01 Since the establishment of the People's Republic in 1949 Chinese Communist leaders have constructed an administrative apparatus that has exercised broader and tighter control over Chinese society than any previous government in the country's history. This is a history of the development of Chinese organizational policy a topic of constant concern and often strident debate from 1949 to the death of Mao Tse tung in 1976. The author argues that Chinese organizational policy has been controversial because of the complexity of administrative problems the effects of policy changes on the distribution of power and status and the philosophical dilemma of whether the efficiency of modern bureaucracy outweighs its social and political costs. He also shows how extreme approaches such as demands during the Cultural Revolution that bureaucracy be destroyed altogether or proposals during the 1950s that the bureaucracy be rationalized have been repeatedly rejected in favor of a policy more in keeping with much of Chinese tradition to recruit officials on the basis of their political views subject them to ideological indoctrination and rely on mass campaigns to implement Party policy.

China's Quest For Independence Thomas Fingar,2019-03-13 This examination of policy developments in the People s Republic of China since the Cultural Revolution addresses two central questions 1 how durable were foreign and domestic policies during the 1970s and 2 what is the relationship between foreign and domestic policy and between both of these policy areas and internal political maneuvering Studies of five broad policy areas reveal that most policies were very stable during this period and that foreign policy was linked to domestic issues and political competition only to the extent that it impinged on domestic interests The studies trace the evolution of policies on specific issues such as education foreign trade and military doctrine but they also evaluate these policies and decisions in the larger context to which they belong Key decisions at the start of the decade affected the evolution of policy in all areas and largely shaped the change from adherence to precepts of the Cultural Revolution to the conviction that economic and technical emphasis must displace efforts to achieve social equality in the short run if China is to become a secure and independent nation
