Pasquales Nose:

Pasquale's Nose Michael Rips, 2001-05-21 Everywhere hailed for its quirkiness its hilarity its charm Pasquale's Nose tells the story of a New York City lawyer who runs away to a small Etruscan village with his wife and new baby and discovers a community of true eccentrics warring bean growers vanishing philosophers a blind bootmaker a porcupine hunter among whom he feels unexpectedly at home Pasquale's Nose Michael Rips, 2001 And then there's Pasquale himself a man whose sense of smell is so sensitive to the odors of people's feet that he is practically driven crazy by his own nose Jacket

Pasquale's Nose Michael Rips, 2002-06-06 A refreshing antidote to the saccharine charms of Peter Mayle's A Year in Provence and Frances Mayes' Under the Tuscan Sun this is the quirky and hilarious memoir of a criminal lawyer who gives up his New York practise to spend a year in the Etruscan town of Sutri near Rome where he moves reluctantly with his artist wife and baby Himself something of an eccentric from a bizarre Nebraskan family he has spent his adult life living in hotels and in Sutri he heads straight for the caf in the main square From there he observes the baroque events of small town life conjures up a cast of Italian eccentrics including Pasquale and his hypersensitive organ of smell and relishes the weirdness and the wonder of Sutri's history folklore architecture and above all its food particularly the notorious fagioli regina beans in a tomato and pig skin sauce and the annual Bean Festival Part of the delight of reading this memoir is that it not only evokes the sights and smells of an ancient and little known town in Southern Italy and brings its people to extraordinary life but it also reveals the irresistible foibles and philosophy of a talented and unusual mind Funny philosophical and surprisingly moving this is the story of how a rootless American finds home in the most unexpected places and how Pasquale and his compatriots put life into perspective in the strangest way Pasquale's Angel Paul McAuley, 2010-12-30 Florence in the year 1518 is riven by scientific and sociological change caused by the wonderful devices of the Great Engineer Leonardo da Vinci Now he is old and lives as a recluse working behind the walls of his castle The Raphaelites artists and anti technologists led by Raphael of Urbino call for his excommunication Pasquale di Cione fiesole an apprentice painter witnesses an assassination attempt on Raphael at a Cathedral service The weapon falls into his hands and he is soon on the run from engineers and artists desperate to prove his innocence Ppk6 Pasquales Nose (Buy 5 Get 1 Free Counter Display W Special Riser)

Michael Rips, 2001-05-01 The Art of Joy Goliarda Sapienza, 2013-07-30 The tumultuous twentieth century told through the life of a single extraordinary woman Rejected by a series of publishers abandoned in a chest for twenty years Goliarda Sapienza's masterpiece The Art of Joy survived a turbulent path to publication It wasn't until 2005 when it was released in France that this novel received the recognition it deserves At last Sapienza's remarkable book is available in English in a brilliant translation by Anne Milano Appel and with an illuminating introduction by Angelo Pellegrino The Art of Joy centers on Modesta a Sicilian woman born on January 1 1900 whose strength and character are an affront to conventional morality Impoverished as a child Modesta believes she is destined for a better life She is able through grace and intelligence to secure marriage to an aristocrat without compromising her own deeply felt values Friend mother lover Modesta revels in upsetting the rules of her fascist patriarchal society This is the history of the twentieth century transfigured by the perspective of one extraordinary woman Sapienza an intriguing figure in her own right her father homeschooled her so she wouldn't be exposed to fascist influences was a respected actress and writer who drew on her own struggles to craft this powerful epic A fictionalized memoir a book of romance and adventure a feminist text a bildungsroman this novel is ultimately undefinable but deeply necessary its genius will leave readers breathless

My Friend Pasquale James Selwin Tait, 1892 THE events narrated in the following story happened a score and more of years ago They have never before been made public and I make them known now with pain and misgiving but impelled by a sense of duty which I can no longer disregard During their occurrence they changed the current of my life once from grave to gay and then and finally from gaiety to unspeakable gloom Although time has to some extent dulled the edge of my grief at the loss of my friend Pasquale his memory will remain with me while life lasts as a cherished and sacred thing When the reader ends this simple narration this eulogy of the dead may surprise and shock him and in reply and explanation I have only to say in advance that I pity him if the faithful unvarnished record leaves that impression on his mind he did not know Pasquale I was wending my way homeward from Hampstead Heath one Saturday afternoon in the early summer time when I found myself on recovering from a lengthened reverie midway on the Old North Road at a point now occupied by the Midland Railway Terminus at Saint Pancras My day's work at the bank was finished and with it all the duties of the week and I felt that sense of relief and buoyancy which perhaps comes to all young and old alike at the completion of tedious work honestly performed
