Passed On African American Mourning Stories A Memorial:

Passed on Karla F. C. Holloway, 2003 Passed On is a portrait of death and dying and a history of the funeral business in twentieth century African America Through poignant reflection and a thorough investigation of the myths rituals economics and politics of African American mourning and burial practices Karla FC Holloway finds that ways of dying are just as much a part of black identity as ways of living Gracefully interweaving archival research interviews and analyses of literature film and music Holloway shows how the vulnerability of African Americans to untimely death is inextricable from how black culture represents itself and is represented back cover

Passed On Karla FC Holloway, 2003-09-03 A personal and historical account of the particular place of death and funerals in African American life Passed On Karla F. C. Holloway, 2006-04-01 A portrait of death dying a history of the funeral business in 20th cent African Amer A thorough investigation of the myths rituals economics politics of African Amer mourning burial practices Ways of dying are just as much a part of black identity as a ways of living Interweaves archival research interviews analyses of literature film music Shows how the vulnerability of African Amer to untimely death is inextricable from how black culture represents itself is represented Examines how race not only affects the meaning of black lives but their deaths as well Demonstrates how a combination of racial injustice violence against blacks medical neglect has shaped black people s expected transition between this world the afterlife Ill

Passed On , 2009 DIVA personal and historical account of the particular place of death and funerals in African American life div Private Bodies, Public Texts Karla FC Holloway, 2011-03-14 A bioethical study of privacy violations experienced by black and female subjects within the American medical system

Lay Down Body Roberta Hughes Wright, Wilbur B. Hughes, 1996 Recounting the struggles of African American people to maintain some vestige of their African American heritage through funeral rites and ownership of their burial grounds these compelling stories provide background information on cemeteries in the U S and Canada how and when they were founded who is buried there and the ongoing battle to maintain possession of them 100 photos

Dust to Dust Allan Amanik, 2019-12-24 A revealing look at how death and burial practices influence the living Dust to Dust offers a three hundred year history of Jewish life in New York literally from the ground up Taking Jewish cemeteries as its subject matter it follows the ways that Jewish New Yorkers have planned for death and burial from their earliest arrival in New Amsterdam to the twentieth century Allan Amanik charts a remarkable reciprocity among Jewish funerary provisions and the workings of family and communal life tracing how financial and family concerns in death came to equal earlier priorities rooted in tradition and communal cohesion At the same time he shows how shifting emphases in death gave average Jewish families the ability to advocate for greater protections and entitlements such as widows benefits and funeral insurance Amanik ultimately concludes that planning for life s end helps to shape social systems in ways that often go unrecognized

This Republic of Suffering Drew Gilpin Faust, 2009-01-06 NATIONAL BESTSELLER NATIONAL BOOK AWARD FINALIST An extraordinary profoundly

moving history The New York Times Book Review of the American Civil War that reveals the ways that death on such a scale changed not only individual lives but the life of the nation An estimated 750 000 soldiers lost their lives in the American Civil War An equivalent proportion of today's population would be seven and a half million In This Republic of Suffering Drew Gilpin Faust describes how the survivors managed on a practical level and how a deeply religious culture struggled to reconcile the unprecedented carnage with its belief in a benevolent God Throughout the voices of soldiers and their families of statesmen generals preachers poets surgeons nurses northerners and southerners come together to give us a vivid understanding of the Civil War's most fundamental and widely shared reality With a new introduction by the author and a new foreword by Mike Mullen 17th Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff      Legal Fictions Karla FC Holloway,2013-12-16

In Legal Fictions Karla FC Holloway both argues that U S racial identity is the creation of U S law and demonstrates how black authors of literary fiction have engaged with the law's constructions of race since the era of slavery Exploring the resonance between U S literature and U S jurisprudence Holloway reveals Toni Morrison's Beloved and Charles Johnson's Middle Passage as stories about personhood and property David Bradley's The Chaneysville Incident and Ralph Ellison's Invisible Man as structured by evidence law and Nella Larsen's Passing as intimately related to contract law Holloway engages the intentional contradictory and capricious constructions of race embedded in the law with the same energy that she brings to her masterful interpretations of fiction by U S writers Her readings shed new light on the many ways that black U S authors have reframed fundamental questions about racial identity personhood and the law from the nineteenth into the twenty first centuries Legal Fictions is a bold declaration that the black body is thoroughly bound by law and an unflinching look at the implications of that claim      African American Grief Paul C. Rosenblatt,Beverly R. Wallace,2021-08-11 African American Grief is a unique contribution to the field both as a professional resource for counselors therapists social workers clergy and nurses and as a reference volume for thanatologists academics and researchers The classic edition includes a new preface from the authors reflecting on their work and on the changes in society and the field since the book's initial publication This work considers the potential effects of slavery racism and white ignorance and oppression on the African American experience and conception of death and grief in America Based on interviews with 26 African Americans who have faced the death of a significant person in their lives the authors document describe and analyze key phenomena of the unique African American experience of grief The book combines moving narratives from the interviewees with sound research analysis and theoretical discussion of important issues in thanatology as well as topics such as the influence of the African American church gospel music family grief medical racism as a cause of death and discrimination during life and after death

Mourning Lincoln Martha Hodes,2015-02-24 A historian examines how everyday people reacted to the president's assassination in this highly original lucidly written book James M McPherson author of Battle Cry of Freedom The news of Abraham Lincoln's assassination on April 15 1865 just days after Confederate surrender astounded a war weary nation

Massive crowds turned out for services and ceremonies Countless expressions of grief and dismay were printed in newspapers and preached in sermons Public responses to the assassination have been well chronicled but this book is the first to delve into the personal and intimate responses of everyday people northerners and southerners soldiers and civilians black people and white men and women rich and poor Exploring diaries letters and other personal writings penned during the spring and summer of 1865 historian Martha Hodes captures the full range of reactions to the president s death far more diverse than public expressions would suggest She tells a story of shock glee sorrow anger blame and fear Tis the saddest day in our history wrote a mournful man It was an electric shock to my soul wrote a woman who had escaped from slavery Glorious News a Lincoln enemy exulted while for the black soldiers of the Fifty Fourth Massachusetts it was all too overwhelming too lamentable too distressing to absorb Longlisted for the National Book Award Mourning Lincoln brings to life a key moment of national uncertainty and confusion when competing visions of America s future proved irreconcilable and hopes for racial justice in the aftermath of the Civil War slipped from the nation s grasp Hodes masterfully explores the tragedy of Lincoln s assassination in human terms terms that continue to stagger and rivet us today Bound in Wedlock Tera W. Hunter,2019-02-18 Winner of the Stone Book Award Museum of African American History Winner of the Joan Kelly Memorial Prize Winner of the Littleton Griswold Prize Winner of the Mary Nickliss Prize Winner of the Willie Lee Rose Prize Americans have long viewed marriage between a white man and a white woman as a sacred union But marriages between African Americans have seldom been treated with the same reverence This discriminatory legacy traces back to centuries of slavery when the overwhelming majority of black married couples were bound in servitude as well as wedlock but it does not end there Bound in Wedlock is the first comprehensive history of African American marriage in the nineteenth century Drawing from plantation records legal documents and personal family papers it reveals the many creative ways enslaved couples found to upend white Christian ideas of marriage A remarkable book Hunter has harvested stories of human resilience from the cruelest of soils An impeccably crafted testament to the African Americans whose ingenuity steadfast love and hard nosed determination protected black family life under the most trying of circumstances Wall Street Journal In this brilliantly researched book Hunter examines the experiences of slave marriages as well as the marriages of free blacks Vibe A groundbreaking history Illuminates the complex and flexible character of black intimacy and kinship and the precariousness of marriage in the context of racial and economic inequality It is a brilliant book Saidiya Hartman author of Lose Your Mother Surviving against the Odds S. Ann Dunham,2009-12-24 President Barack Obama s mother S Ann Dunham was an economic anthropologist and rural development consultant who worked in several countries including Indonesia Dunham received her doctorate in 1992 She died in 1995 at the age of 52 before having the opportunity to revise her dissertation for publication as she had planned Dunham s dissertation adviser Alice G Dewey and her fellow graduate student Nancy I Cooper undertook the revisions at the request of Dunham s daughter Maya Soetoro Ng The result is

Surviving against the Odds a book based on Dunham's research over a period of fourteen years among the rural metalworkers of Java the island home to nearly half Indonesia's population Surviving against the Odds reflects Dunham's commitment to helping small scale village industries survive her pragmatic non ideological approach to research and problem solving and her impressive command of history economic data and development policy Along with photographs of Dunham the book includes many pictures taken by her in Indonesia After Dunham married Lolo Soetoro in 1967 she and her six year old son Barack Obama moved from Hawai'i to Soetoro's home in Jakarta where Maya Soetoro was born three years later Barack returned to Hawai'i to attend school in 1971 Dedicated to Dunham's mother Madelyn her adviser Alice and Barack and Maya who seldom complained when their mother was in the field Surviving against the Odds centers on the metalworking industries in the Javanese village of Kajar Focusing attention on the small rural industries overlooked by many scholars Dunham argued that wet rice cultivation was not the only viable economic activity in rural Southeast Asia Surviving against the Odds includes a preface by the editors Alice G Dewey and Nancy I Cooper and a foreword by her daughter Maya Soetoro Ng each of which discusses Dunham and her career In his afterword the anthropologist and Indonesianist Robert W Hefner explores the content of Surviving against the Odds its relation to anthropology when it was researched and written and its continuing relevance today

Death in the New World Erik R. Seeman, 2011-09-28 Reminders of death were everywhere in the New World from the epidemics that devastated Indian populations and the mortality of slaves working the Caribbean sugar cane fields to the unfamiliar diseases that afflicted Europeans in the Chesapeake and West Indies According to historian Erik R Seeman when Indians Africans and Europeans encountered one another they could not ignore the similarities in their approaches to death All of these groups believed in an afterlife to which the soul or spirit traveled after death As a result all felt that corpses the earthly vessels for the soul or spirit should be treated with respect and all mourned the dead with commemorative rituals Seeman argues that deathways facilitated communication among peoples otherwise divided by language and custom They observed asked questions about and sometimes even participated in their counterparts rituals At the same time insofar as New World interactions were largely exploitative the communication facilitated by parallel deathways was often used to influence or gain advantage over one's rivals In Virginia for example John Smith used his knowledge of Powhatan deathways to impress the local Indians with his abilities as a healer as part of his campaign to demonstrate the superiority of English culture Likewise in the 1610-1614 war between Indians and English the Powhatans mutilated English corpses because they knew this act would horrify their enemies Told in a series of engrossing narratives Death in the New World is a landmark study that offers a fresh perspective on the dynamics of cross cultural encounters and their larger ramifications in the Atlantic world

Deviations Gayle S. Rubin, 2011-11-28 Deviations is the definitive collection of writing by Gayle S Rubin a pioneering theorist and activist in feminist lesbian and gay queer and sexuality studies since the 1970s Rubin first rose to prominence in 1975 with the publication of The Traffic in Women an essay that had a galvanizing effect on feminist thinking and theory In another landmark piece Thinking Sex she examined how certain sexual behaviors are constructed as moral or natural and others as unnatural That essay became one of queer theory's foundational texts Along with such canonical work Deviations features less well known but equally insightful writing on subjects such as lesbian history the feminist sex wars the politics of sadomasochism crusades against prostitution and pornography and the historical development of sexual knowledge In the introduction Rubin traces her intellectual trajectory and discusses the development and reception of some of her most influential essays Like the book it opens the introduction highlights the major lines of inquiry pursued for nearly forty years by a singularly important theorist of sex gender and culture

Liquidated Karen Ho, 2009-07-13 Financial collapses whether of the junk bond market the Internet bubble or the highly leveraged housing market are often explained as the inevitable result of market cycles What goes up must come down In Liquidated Karen Ho punctures the aura of the abstract all powerful market to show how financial markets and particularly booms and busts are constructed Through an in depth investigation into the everyday experiences and ideologies of Wall Street investment bankers Ho describes how a financially dominant but highly unstable market system is understood justified and produced through the restructuring of corporations and the larger economy Ho who worked at an investment bank herself argues that bankers' approaches to financial markets and corporate America are inseparable from the structures and strategies of their workplaces Her ethnographic analysis of those workplaces is filled with the voices of stressed first year associates overworked and alienated analysts undergraduates eager to be hired and seasoned managing directors Recruited from elite universities as the best and the brightest investment bankers are socialized into a world of high risk and high reward They are paid handsomely with the understanding that they may be let go at any time Their workplace culture and networks of privilege create the perception that job insecurity builds character and employee liquidity results in smart efficient business Based on this culture of liquidity and compensation practices tied to profligate deal making Wall Street investment bankers reshape corporate America in their own image Their mission is the creation of shareholder value but Ho demonstrates that their practices and assumptions often produce crises instead By connecting the values and actions of investment bankers to the construction of markets and the restructuring of U S corporations Liquidated reveals the particular culture of Wall Street often obscured by triumphalist readings of capitalist globalization

The Archive and the Repertoire Diana Taylor, 2003-09-12 DIVAn an interdisciplinary study about the centrality of performance in Latin American culture and politics div The Queer Art of Failure Jack Halberstam, 2011-09-19 The Queer Art of Failure is about finding alternatives to conventional understandings of success in a heteronormative capitalist society to academic disciplines that confirm what is already known according to approved methods of knowing and to cultural criticism that claims to break new ground but cleaves to conventional archives Jack Halberstam proposes low theory as a mode of thinking and writing that operates at many different levels at once Low theory is derived from eccentric archives It runs the risk of not being taken seriously It entails a willingness to fail and to lose one's way to pursue difficult questions about complicity and to find counterintuitive forms of resistance Tacking back and forth between high theory and low theory high culture and low culture Halberstam looks for the unexpected and subversive in popular culture avant garde performance and queer art Halberstam pays particular attention to animated children's films revealing narratives filled with unexpected encounters between the childish the transformative and the queer Failure sometimes offers more creative cooperative and surprising ways of being in the world even as it forces us to face the dark side of life love and libido

A Death in Harlem Karla FC

Holloway,2019-09-15 In A Death in Harlem famed scholar Karla FC Holloway weaves a mystery in the bon vivant world of the Harlem Renaissance Taking as her point of departure the tantalizingly ambiguous death by misadventure at the climax of Nella Larsen's Passing Holloway accompanies readers to the sunlit boulevards and shaded sidestreets of Jazz Age New York A murder there will test the mettle resourcefulness and intuition of Harlem's first colored policeman Weldon Haynie Thomas Clear glass towers rising in Manhattan belie a city where people are often not what they seem For some here identity is a performance of passing passing for another race for another class for someone safe to trust Thomas's investigation illuminates the societies and secret societies the intricate code of manners the world of letters and the broad social currents of 1920s Harlem A Death in Harlem is an exquisitely crafted briskly paced and impeccably stylish journey back to a time still remembered as a peak of American glamour It introduces Holloway as a fresh voice in storytelling and Weldon Haynie Thomas as an endearing and unforgettable detective

American Mourning Simon Stow,2017-07-20

How does the way in which a democratic polity mourn its losses shape its political outcomes How might it shape those outcomes American Mourning Tragedy Democracy Resilience answers these questions with a critical study of American public mourning Employing mourning as a lens through which to view the shortcomings of American democracy it offers an argument for a tragic complex and critical mode of mourning that it contrasts with the nationalist romantic and nostalgic responses to loss that currently dominate and damage the polity Offering new readings of key texts in Ancient political thought and American political history it engages debates central to contemporary democratic theory concerned with agonism acknowledgment hope humanism patriotism and political resilience The book outlines new ways of thinking about and responding to terrorism racial conflict and the problems of democratic military return
