boggling variety of cultural trends including conspicuous consumption environmentalism industrialization and even cold war diplomacy Black takes us around the world from the hidden trout streams of western Maine to a remote valley in Guangdong Province China where grows the singular species of bamboo known as tea stick the very stuff of a superior fly rod He introduces us to the men who created the tools and techniques for crafting exceptional rods and those who continue to carry the torch in the pursuit of the sublime Never far from the surface are such overarching themes as the tension between mass production and individual excellence and the evolving ways American society has defined experienced and expressed its relationship to the land Fly fishing may seem a rarefied pursuit and making fly rods might be a quixotic occupation but this rich fascinating narrative exposes the soul of an authentic part of America and the great significance of little things George Black s latest expedition into a hidden corner of our culture is an utterly enchanting illuminating and enlightening experience
